

JUSTICE MOVES IN STATELY TREAD

Like Dateless Olympian
Leisure She Pursues Her
Course With Unblown
Ample Garments

The first session of the September term of Superior court, scheduled for Monday morning at ten o'clock, was not held until Tuesday afternoon at three for the reason that C. M. Cooke, Judge Presiding, did not reach here until the afternoon train from Raleigh Tuesday. The clerk of the court received a telegram late Saturday afternoon from Judge Cooke saying that he would not be here Monday, but there was not time then to notify anybody except the lawyers of the delay. Consequently there was a considerable crowd of country people who came to town Monday on business connected with the convening of court, and the crowd around the court house was considerably increased Tuesday, for nobody knew on which train the judge would arrive.

Tuesday's session was taken up with the judge's charge to the grand jury and with three cases of minor importance. J. W. Balance was found guilty of violating a town ordinance and was released under suspended judgment on payment of costs. Harry Skokely, charged with driving his automobile in excess of the speed limit was found not guilty. Isaac Bryant, charged with engaging in an affray was acquitted.

All day Wednesday and part of Thursday morning were taken up in the trial of the case of the State vs Doc Morse and Mrs. Hattie Tadlock. Mrs. Tadlock has failed to appear, and the case proceeded against the first defendant only. Mr. Morse who is a resident of Perquimans county, did not take the stand. The charge against the defendants was one of fornication and adultery. They were convicted of the offence in Perquimans county last year and Morse was required to give bond for his appearance at every subsequent term of Superior court in that county to show that his illegal relationship with Mrs. Tadlock had ceased. At the beginning of this year Mrs. Tadlock moved to Pasquotank, Morse, coming over from Perquimans stopped frequently at her house, and it was the contention of the state that they had resumed their unlawful relationship.

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty and the court sentenced Morse to twelve months on the Road. Morse, through his attorneys, Ward & Thompson and P. W. McMull an of Hertford, took an appeal. Morse is apparently about fifty years old. He has some property in Perquimans and before this case came up in Perquimans was considered a man married and his wife was from of good character. He has been Camden county.

Mrs. Tadlock's husband is living and he is the father of her children, the eldest of whom is about fourteen years old. She and her husband separated subsequent to the intimacy between Morse and Mrs. Tadlock, and there was testimony that Mrs. Tadlock does not allow her husband to enter her house.

Ed Martin, colored, charged with assault with deadly weapon and carrying concealed weapon was fined twenty five dollars and costs, which the judge later reduced to twenty dollars and costs. The court sustained the motion of the defense.

ABE AND MAWRUS DISTURB RIVALS

Even Klinger and Klein Admit They Will Have a big Season on the Road
This Fall

"What do you think of those two schnorrers, Potash and Perlmutter?" Sol Klinger said to his partner, Moe Klein. "Actually they are going to move to the Alkratta Theatre on Monday September 27. New York ain't good enough for them two fellows any more."

"Who told you that, Moe Klein inquired. "No one told me," Sol Klinger replied. "I seen in black on white on a sign they are putting up on the Alkratta Theatre building and I read it in The Advance Tuesday."

"Geh weg, Sol," Moe Klein cried. "That's just an advertisement for a show they are putting them fellows into. If you and me would be a couple of ignoramuses like them fellows, Sol, might they would put us in a show also."

"Ignoramuses they may be, Moe; aber they got a whole lot of free advertising that way and advertising never did no harm to nobody."

"Maybe you are jealous that a couple of comic fellows like Nat Jerome and Charles Lippson ain't going to make every garment buyer from here to the coast laugh themselves blue in the face over you and me, Sol, the way they will over Potash and Perlmutter."

"That's all right," Sol grumbled, "but it says that Miss Violet Barney will be the leader of the ladies, which you know as well as I do, Miss Barney has got such an elegant way with her that she would make any show a big hit, ain't it? Then there's this here, Miss Anna Bennett and Thomas Tempest also and a lot of other stars."

"You could take it from me, Moe, if them two greenhorns Potash and Perlmutter don't get a record season out of this here show, I don't know nothing. And it don't cost them a cent neither."

"So long as it don't cost us nothing, Sol, what do we care?"

"I hate to see a competitor should be all the time saving money, Moe," Sol said.

"Our competitors could do what they please, Sol," Moe concluded. "Pikers save, but millionaires make," Sol, and I would a whole lot sooner get wise to a hundred dollars as foolish over ten cents night wahr?"

Clant's attorney, T. J. Markham for a non suit as to the charge of assault, but Martin was found guilty of the second charge.

Charles Edwards, charged with home breaking was acquitted. The jury was out on this case, however, for some time.

Frank Eason was found not guilty of the charge of cruelty to animals.

Sandy Gaynor, colored charged with blind tigering, was convicted and required to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs.

James Ellis, colored, accused of store breaking and found to be under sixteen years of age, was committed to Henry Brooks, his uncle, and the man into whose store the boy made forcible entrance, this uncle being named as probation officer and being required to report to each subsequent term of criminal court for the next twelve months as to the boy's conduct and at

CALL ISSUED FOR MEETING

Baptist Preachers and Representatives of all Baptist Churches in Association to Attend

At the Chowan Baptist Association at Ballards Bridge last May, after one of the most forcible addresses of the session by E. F. Aydtlett, a committee was appointed to take up the work of relating pastors and churches in this section in a manner that will best carry on the work of the church and Association.

Mr. Aydtlett has been making addresses before the churches throughout this territory in behalf of this idea ever since the Association. It is believed that the time is now ripe for definite action and the following call, signed by E. F. Aydtlett, Chairman, Dr. B. C. Henning, Rev. I. N. Loftin, J. W. Norman, Lycurgus Hodler, W. W. Sawyer, and Rev. E. L. Wells has been issued.

"The committee appointed by the Association desires a meeting of the pastors and committees from the churches in this Association. We, therefore, ask that each of the pastors and a committee from each of the churches in this denomination meet the Association Committee at Blackwell Memorial church on Tuesday, October 12th, at ten-thirty a. m. for the purpose of conferring and planning to establish pastoral fields in this Association and to increase the number of pastors for our churches. We hope that your church will send its pastor and a committee to this meeting."

In a fast and interesting game Tuesday afternoon the Elizabeth City High School team crossed bats for the fifth time this season, with the Elizabeth City regulars. The result was a victory for the regulars by a score of seven to four.

The High's had it their own way in the beginning, for Evans who was on the mound for the Regulars was wild and ineffective. Perry who twirled for the High's pitched a fair game throughout. He allowed 12 hits and struck out only three men; but appeared most effective in the pinches.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR FOOTBALL

Over Twenty Men Show up For First Practice of High School Team and Good Games Promised

Prospects appear bright for a good football team to represent the Elizabeth City High in the interscholastic games of the section during the coming season. Those in close touch with the situation say that the outlook is especially encouraging and that this year's team will have as much weight as and more speed than last year's.

More than twenty men reported Wednesday for the initial practice of the season with Whitehurst, Evans, Jones and possibly Williams in the back field, and it is believed that so far as the back field is concerned the team will be as strong as the school has ever put in the field.

The schedule has not yet been arranged but games with Suffolk, Newbern, Hertford, Edenton and Washington are under consideration.

It is hoped that when the first game is pulled off on the home grounds there will be a big crowd at the park to lend encouragement to the efforts of the representatives of the home school.

MRS. NOAH GARRETT DEAD

Mrs. Noah Garrett died suddenly at her home on North Road street Thursday morning at twenty minutes past ten o'clock.

Mrs. Garrett was fifty two years of age and had been in failing health since the first of last May when she suffered a paralytic stroke but her immediate death was a shock to her many friends here.

Before her marriage to Mr. Garrett thirty four years ago she was Miss Mary Sawyer of this city.

She is survived by four children and one brother. The children are: William Augustus, May, Ervin, and Noah and the brother is C. S. Sawyer of Camden.

The funeral will be conducted tomorrow from Blackwell Memorial church by her pastor, Rev. I. N. Loftin, and interment will follow in Hollywood Cemetery.

CHURCHES ASKED TO COOPERATE

Ministers Want Solid Support of all Churches in Work of Associated Charities This Year

The Ministerial Association of the town is proposing to ask the citizens to form an effectual associated charities which will meet the needs of the place. Literature is being gathered and the subject studied. It is proposed to have a sermon on the matter preached in each of the churches, and in the afternoon to hold a mass meeting at which a properly organized society will be formed. Many towns the size of this have such societies and they help to relieve distress and to defeat unworthy claimants. Systematic records are kept, work found for the unemployed and assistance made available for the needy. Such a society to be useful must be well managed and ordered. The christian ladies of the place cared for the poor last winter and did very well. But they realize that an organized society would be more useful than anything else. The matter will be soon brought to the attention of the community.

OLD AUTUMN IS REALLY HERE

Fair Ladies Flocked to Openings in Millinery and Woman's Wear Stores This Week

Wednesday morning dawned favorably for the splendid display of fall millinery that adorned the principal business streets of Elizabeth City and shoppers were on the streets at an early hour.

The show windows were decorated very simply and only a few hats were displayed at a time in order that these might show to best advantage. One of Miss Perry's windows in the Y. M. C. A. building displayed a particularly attractive array of children's hats, Mrs. Pritchard's windows were fresh and bright with autumn flowers and foliage while Miss Gilbert's showed on the one side handsome shades of purple velvet creations and on the other black hats surrounding a radiant gold and black model. Mrs. Hill Walker and Company and the S. R. Siff Company also displayed a handsome assortment of all the popular styles and colors of the season, and the M. Leigh Sheep Company Woman's Wear Store was most attractive in its display of the new models in suits, dresses, corsets, coats, waists, sweaters and skirts. McCabe and Grice are announcing in this issue of The Advance their fall opening for next week and the other big stores in the city will be ready for their fall openings at an early date.
