

LITTLE GIRL KILLED BY CAR

Accident, First of its Kind in New Bern, Casts Gloom Over that City

New Bern, November 3—One of the most distressing accidents ever to occur in New Bern took place this morning shortly after eleven o'clock when one of the New Bern Ghent Street Railway Companies cars, in charge of Motorman Phillip Weiss, ran over and instantly killed Virginia Hagood, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hagood, whose home is at No. 137 1/2 Pallock street.

In Front of Home The accident occurred directly in front of the little one's home. She had gone across the street to engage in some childish play and was attempting to return to that spot when the car struck her.

Stops Car Motorman Weiss had thrown on the brakes and reversed the current before the car struck the child and quickly brought it to a stop and the mangled little form was removed from beneath the car and carried into the home of its parents.

Father Grief Stricken. The father of the little victim, who conducts a home furnishing establishment on Middle street, was notified of the affair and hastened home as quickly as possible.

Motorman Prostrated Mr. Weiss was prostrated with grief for some time but became calm enough to tell of the accident. He states that he was going out toward Ghent and was running at a moderate rate of speed.

First Fatal Accident. This is the first fatal accident to occur since the surface cars have been in operation in New Bern.

The funeral services over the remains of the little victim will be conducted from the First Baptist church

GET WHITE MAN FOR BURGLARY

Shores' Man Hunter again Plays Leading Part in Apprehending Criminal

J. W. Shores returned yesterday from Columbia enthusiastic over the fine work of his hound 'Trixie' in tracking to earth Henry Sawyer who on last Sunday night broke into the residence of Mr. Sykes, in the Frying Pan section of Tyrrell county, and got away with two hundred and fifty dollars in cash without leaving a clue which gave any one an idea of the identity of the thief until Shores dog had traced the culprit to his home.

Mr. Shores left here Tuesday on the Southbound through train arriving at Columbia at about four o'clock in the afternoon. The dog was taken to the scene of the burglary reaching there about eight and striking the trail about thirty minutes later, at which time it was a out sixty five hours old. The dog led the posse to the house of Mr. Andrew Sawyer, a distance of two and a half miles.

The money was kept in a tin box and Sawyer got away with the box and all. Monday morning the box was found on Sykes' gate post broke open and robbed of all the contents in cash, but with all papers such as checks, receipts, notes and so on intact.

BUYING SUIT BARGAINS

In order to take advantage of big manufacturers' sales now on in the northern markets D. Walter Harris left Wednesday for New York and other cities.

Mr. Harris makes it a point in his tailoring business and rarely if ever uses the word 'bargain'. He makes his appeal always on the exceptional quality of his goods and keeps his standard high, catering to men of the best taste rather than declaring that he can undersell all merchants who carry men's clothing.

On this occasion he expects to return to the city with a big line of suits which he will be able to sell for eighteen or twenty dollars but which could not be bought elsewhere for less than twenty five or thirty dollars.

Announcement will be made as soon as these exceptional values in men's suits are at hand and the Tailor's establishment in the main building on Main street will be extended a special welcome to its customers, old and new, to see and be pleased, to buy the best in men's clothing at prices as low as the price for cheaper materials and less accurate styles.
