BRITAIN'S REPLY UNSATISFACTORY IS WORD SENT AMBASSADOR PAGE

Reported Also That Unless Satisfactory Reply is Forthcoming, Peremptory Demand Will Be Made on London Foreign Office.

(By United Press)

Washington, July 24—The State Department will immediately acknowledge to Ambassador Page at London receipt of the British mail reply and inform him that the reply is not considered a real response to the American note.

Request for early response on the principles involved will be made.

The foregoing is the official declaration of the State Department.

Officials characterize the wild rumors afloat here that the United States might convoy American mail carrying ship with war vessels as "absurd rot."

The direct relation between British mail seizures and the blacklisting of American firms was pointed out by the State Department officials after the arrival of Britain's preliminary reply to the protest of this government against the seizure of American mail.

Extreme impatience is felt over England's delay in replying to the American protest, partly because it is by this illegal practice of opening the mail of American firms that England is alleged to have obtained much information upon which she based her black list.

Officials declare that the reply received yesterday is wholly unsatisfactory because it ignores the principles expounded in the American note and deals only with specific cases which have no bearing for a reformation in British practices.

Unless a satisfactory reply is shortly forthcoming Ambassador Page will be instructed to make peremptory demands upon the foreign office.

Paris, July 24—By establishing a new altitude record of 19,530 feet with three passengers aboard and a new record of 18,530 feet with two passengers, Aviator Sergeant Etienne Poulet has just wrestled the laurel from the Germans.

A few days later, Poulet was blessed with ideal weather and not or conditions. With three men aboard: M. Proust, weighing 145 pounds; M. Duché, weighing 148 pounds and M. Paillard, weighing 125 pounds together with 21 pounds of ballast, Poulet reached an altitude of 19,530 feet, taking the previous record of 17,500 feet from the Germany flyer Sabstling.

This leaves the French in possession of all aviation records previously held by the Germans, it is said.
