Found House 4,000 Years Old

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Aug. 4—Stone implements and household tools, estimated to be 40,000 years old, forming part of a collection owned by Meremph, son and successor to Rameses the Great, 1300 years before the time of Christ, have been unearthed in the pre-historic monarch's palace at Memphis, ancient capital of Egypt. Advice telling of these important discoveries have just reached the University Museum here from Dr. Clarence S. Fisher, leader of the Eckley B. Coxe, Jr. expedition to Egypt. It was learned today.

In a full report, Dr. Fisher describes wandering through the spacious halls of the great palace that for centuries lay buried in ancient Memphis, Gold ornaments, scarabs, vessels of various kinds and vases were found intact, just as they must have been when the lords of those days evacuated. Many of the relics found, says Dr. Fisher, date back to the Stone Age. Traces of a fire that must have ravished the palace are found on every side, according to the archaeologist.

WHY HER CLOTHES COST SO MUCH

(By United Press)

Chicago, Aug. 9—Here's why her clothes cost so much.

This fall she asks for long full skirts on her party gowns and dresses and insists that $21 a yard material be used.

It takes four yards and 'up' to make a skirt of this kind, or $84 worth for "just the dress goods" which doesn't make the waist nor put on the trimmings.

That's why some women's dresses cost around $150.

This deduction was brought out to day when Chicago dress manufacturers made their display at the Fall Style show of Chicago-made garments at Bismarck gardens.

Dress manufacturers vied with each other to display the most costly material in their dresses. Buyers agree that all had succeeded.

The war has made costly material more costly, say manufacturers, because these kinds come from imported goods demands a good price, middle west buyers discovered today.

Navy blue is the prevailing color. The waist is cut yoke effect with purples, and wine colors also are favorites.

The waist is cut yoke effect with a collar in the back.

Sentry Was On the Job

(By United Press)

Columbus, N. M., Aug. 4—Militia men from western Massachusetts have been assigned the honor of guarding the base camp. A cordon of troops is thrown around the entire camp every night. It is a duty of great importance.

The easterners already have demonstrated their efficiency. Colonel W. C. Hayes, commanding the second Massachusetts regiment will testify to that today.

While inspecting the guard lines last night the Colonel and his Adjutant were riding through a lonely stretch of desert in pitch darkness south of the camp.

"Halt," came the sharp command from an alert guardsman.

"That's all right my man," said Colonel Hayes soothingly. "This is, Colonel Hayes inspecting the guard."

"I don't care who you say you are," came the menacing reply. "Dismount and advance to be recognized and don't loiter either."

In the darkness the Colonel could see the dim outlines of the sentry with his rifle leveled.

"And I didn't loiter," the officer said. "I fairly tumbled off that horse and advanced. When the guard recognized me he apologized for causing me the inconvenience. I doubt if any suspicious characters get into camp through the lines."

JUST AN EMPTY CRADLE

A mound upon the hillside on which the mothers weep,
For the mother's little darling now so fast asleep;
Just an empty cradle where baby once did rest,
Just an aching heart where baby once was pressed.

Rosebud lips are silent, wee pink toes are still,
Lonely hearted mother by the mound upon the hill;
Just some battered playthings that baby once did use,
Just a weeping mother, no baby to amuse;

Silent tears are coursing down the pale wan face;
How she misses baby from her accustomed place;
Oft she will awaken in some darkened hour,
Go and look for baby in her downy bower.

Then she will remember the grave upon the hill,
The little clinking fingers now forever still;
Just some little keepsakes dearer than all the world.

Just some little dresses, just a golden curl,
Mother weep no longer o'er the little mound,
In heaven shining brightly your jewel will be found,
Just a little angel in that happy land.

Just a little stranger Christ has called his lamb,
For He wants your treasure that He your heart may win,
From the darkened pathway of this world of sin:
A tiny bud just opening, transplanted by his Hand;
Basking in the lovelight of that sinless land.
