

NEGRO MAN GETS A LOAD OF SHOT STEALING HENS

Went Too Soon and Too Often to the Old Home of Rossor Midgett and Trouble Followed

A negro named Willie McCleese, who has been involved in many scraps, done time on the roads, etc., is alleged to be somewhat soft this week, the result of a load of shot in his body. He is recuperating at the home of his friend, Alena Cooper.

One night last week, a noise was heard at the henhouse on the premises occupied by one Murray Sawyer, a newcomer, who recently came here from Mashoes. Mr. Sawyer is a Tyrrell County man, he is not acquainted here, and when he had visitors in his henhouse he shot first and asked questions afterwards.

His questions were not answered and his guest made a bee-line to the south. By following the tracks and the blood, he arrived at the home of Alena Cooper, or so he later learned that is who lives there among others.

It is likely that the chicken thieves who are mighty thick in the nearby colored settlement will be more wary hereafter when they go on the premises occupied by Mr. Sawyer. They were used to getting away with plenty. During the past several years they have stolen much from the place.

Rossor Midgett, the owner, died a few months ago. He had been a widower for about five years, and following his wife's death, he seemed to lose interest in life. He was easy going, and good to everybody, and he allowed the negro population to carry off all his chickens. Then they began stealing his decoy geese, and finally all of them were gone. At one time he made a barrel of Scuppernon wine, and a negro named David backed up to his barn in a truck one night and carried that off.

Rossor, when his last fowl disappeared, Rossor investigated and found that Willie McCleese and some others had had a big chicken stew. But he never pressed any charges.

The crowd had been getting away with anything so long, that it was quite a set-back when they met up with a load of shot. There will be many, many people, who will highly recommend this treatment of henhouse visitors, and more and more who will follow it. It will have a salutary effect more potent than fear of courts in Dare.

AN IREDELL MAN PRAISES PEOPLE OF DARE COUNTY

Writes to Carl Goerch for Information About Name of Kill Devil Hill

J. F. Orren of Troutmans, Iredele County was a recent visitor to Dare County. He was impressed by the hospitality of Dare County people and said so in a letter he wrote to Carl Goerch, Publisher of The State. He was also at a loss to know where Kill Devil Hill got its name. Mr. Orren's letter follows: Troutmans.—Some weeks ago I was on a fishing trip down at Roanoke Island and, of course, was very much interested in the historical places in that section. Also the meaning of the names of the two principal towns Manteo and Wanchese. I found that the first-named town was so called after a good Indian chief, Manteo, who was baptized into the Church of England. Wanchese, on the other hand, was exactly the reverse. He was "heap bad Injun." Still, they are keeping his memory alive by naming a town in his honor.

One will have to travel far in any direction to find more hospitable people than those which are to be found on Roanoke Island. I am sure of this, or else they would have become bored and offended at the many questions I asked while there. I received answers to all of them except one: nobody knew the origin of the name—Kill Devil Hill. Can you give me this information?

Dare County Today Is Your Great OPPORTUNITY

To you who live in Dare County or in North Carolina, or in the north or anywhere for that matter, careful investigation will quickly prove to you that Dare County is your opportunity, the place for you to invest your money. Dollars today in Dare County lands will pay you huge profits a few years hence, just as two dollars invested three years ago, are bringing back five dollars today.

The Dare County beaches offer a great opportunity. Lots may be bought now at reasonable prices. Cottages may be built at reasonable prices. Whether you buy or build for investment or rent you are assured of a return on your money such as few places have ever given. Dare County is a land that is forging ahead. It has made the greatest gains of any county or any section in the state during the past few years.

Ten years ago we had no roads, no bridges, no ferries. We had no electric power, no modern hotels, no beach developments. Today we have toll free bridges connecting with the outside world, we have good ferries, and we have modern hotels, electric power on our most developed beaches, and other improvements.

In three years, all our greatest improvements have come. The next three years will witness greater gains. Our values grow as a snow-ball, and as the years roll on you will find your investments in Dare County exceedingly profitable. Put your money in Dare County land. Whether at Nags Head, Hatteras, Kitty Hawk, or Stumpy Point. Dare County is Truly Your Opportunity—The Tourist Garden of America—The Atlantic Coast's Foremost Seashore Land of Sport—A Land of National Parks—of Historic Shrines—of Southern Hospitality and friendliness.
