To-night At New Theatre

Money is a good servant, but a dangerous master. Some say that even as a servant Money is master, and there is a strong argument in favor of this sentiment.

Money is one form or the other has always existed. Between Adam and Eve it took the form of an apple, it purchased her desire, but it did not mean happiness.

See "The Almighty Dollar" and you will go home with your mind focused on a new angle of life—and will suddenly find yourself grown rich.

At the new Theatre Tuesday, Mary Miles Minter will be seen in "Youths Enduring Charms." This story will appeal to theatre goers for it will carry them back to childhood days.

HOG CHOLERA MEETING AT NEW HOPE AND WOODVILLE SCHOOLS.

Last September the Federal Department of Agriculture changed the method of co-operative hog cholera control work, which had theretofore been conducted upon a State wide basis, by permitting Dr F D Owen, inspector in charge of the work, to remove his headquarters from Raleigh to Elizabeth City, and to concentrate all his time and efforts upon the six north-eastern Counties in the State.

When Dr. Owen took up the work he planned to amalgamate the hog raisers into organizations by either township or counties, and has succeeded far beyond his expectations, and now is ready to go into the last township of the territory, that of New Hope, in Perquimans County, and interest the hog growers there in the methods by which the Federal Department, co-operating with the state Department of Agriculture, knows that hog cholera can be controlled and finally eliminated.

Dr. Owen will hold two meetings next week, the first at the New Hope school, at 8 o'clock May 30th, next Wednesday night, and the following night will be at the school at Woodville, and at these meetings he will show by means of a stereopticon lantern and views, how the anti-hog cholera serum is made, how used, how to clean and disinfect, farms, and other pictures of interest to the hog raiser. And following that, he will endeavor to perfect an organization and have serum administrators appointed to assist in the work of inoculation as a preventive against hog cholera.

As hogs are more valuable now than ever before in the history of the United States, and in the opinion of men who are in a position to know, they will be still higher next fall and winter, it behooves every farmer or hog raiser to take every possible precaution to save his animals, and it is hoped that these two meetings will be attended by all the farmers in the district to be visited.

Thunder was this afternoon or tonight, and Tuesday probably to west winds.

AUSTRIA GROWS MORE DESPERATE

MASSING EVERY RESERVE IN DEFENSE OF TRIESTE WHILE TROOPS ON LEFT GIVE WAY BEFORE ITALIAN ADVANCE

(By JOHN HURLEY) (United Press Staff Correspondent.) Rome, May 28.—Austria is massing every reserve for her last desperate defense of Trieste.

Meanwhile her troops on the left wing are gradually giving way before the irresistible Italian advance.

Estimates from the front today put the total Austrian losses in dead, wounded and missing since May 14th when the Italian offensive started at 60,000. The enemy is fighting bravely under decimating fire and terrific smashes from Cadorna's infantrymen. Civilians have been ordered to evacuate Trieste. Prisoners say that the Austrian defense is greatly handicapped because of the lack of adequate reserves. The Russian front has already drained every possible man so far as is consistent with safety. The Austrians are now apprehensive over a possible sudden Russian offensive resulting from the new Russian Minister of War Kerensky's appeals.

FACTORS IN WAR MEN AND MONEY

WEALTHIEST NATION ON EARTH NOW MOBILIZING ITS MONEY POWER TO PREPARE FOR DEATH GRAPPLE WITH GERMAN LEGIONS ACROSS THE SEA

(By FRANK B. WILSON) (Written For The United Press)

Washington, May 28.—The big factors in modern warfare are men and money.

Most nations making ready for war first mobilize their man-power. The United States has reversed the usual order by first mobilizing its money-power. The reasons for this reversal are self evident. This country, not being a military power, did not have its men ready for immediate fighting. But, being the richest nation in the world, its wealth was ready for action. So, in its anxiety to make its might immediately felt in the greatest war of all times, it began by marshalling its dollars.

The Liberty Loan means just what its title implies. It is our first bit added to the joint activities of liberty loving nations to crush German autocracy and all that it stands for. It is our immediate substitute for an army. It is our offering to renew the credit of the fighting allies so they may not be hampered in their grim task, until we shall be able to place our army alongside theirs in the trenches.

The Liberty Loan was authorized by Congress within three weeks of the date of our recognition of a state of war with Germany. It outlined the greatest financial program ever undertaken by any nation on earth. It authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to use the credit of the nation to the extent of seven billions of dollars—five billions to be borrowed by the sale of bonds, and two billions of dollars of this money should be loaned to our European allies without profit to the United States. It fixed the interest rate at not to exceed 3-1/2 per cent and provided that if, at any time during the war, the United States issued other loans at a higher rate, these bonds would be convertible at the higher rate.

Secretary of the Treasury William G McAdoo immediately began to make available to the allies a portion of the credit represented by the certificates of indebtedness. Through the machinery of the Federal Reserve System banks were asked to subscribe two hundred million dollars of this amount. The response was overwhelming and the offering was almost immediately repeated with the same result. Secretary McAdoo made immediate loans to the allies as follows: Great Britain $325,000,000; France $100,000,000 and Italy $100,000,000. A program was outlined to extend additional credit at the rate of a hundred million dollars a week.

This move for temporary relief completed, the Secretary of the Treasury set about the main task of war financing provided in the Bond Act. He announced the issue of two billions of dollars worth of bonds to be distributed June 15 and for which subscriptions would be received up to that date. The response was indicative of the patriotic spirit of the nation and its ability to pay. Throughout the first day after the issue was

WILL LOOK OUT FOR SLACKERS

EVERY CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES IS MADE CIVIC POLICEMAN BY ORDER OF THE PROVOST GENERAL

(By United Press) Washington, May 28.—One hundred million citizens will be on the lookout for slackers on June 5th. Under the plan completed today in the office of the Provost General every citizen of the United States is virtually made a civic policeman.

Announcements are being sent to all the sheriffs that it is the duty of every citizen to give information in regard to persons who fail to register or register falsely. A severe penalty will be imposed for evasion of registration. The non-registering person is deliberately throwing the burden on another man and the nation expects every man to "do his bit."

Memphis, May 28.—Incomplete reports from surrounding towns show 35 persons killed and 155 injured in the tornado-swept portions of Arkansas while Tennessee totals 39 killed and 190 injured. SCHOOL CHILDREN SING WITH STARS

New York, May 27.—School boys and girls in New York will blend their voices with those of operastars tonight at the "Red Cross Sing," to be staged at the College of the city of New York. So many high school singing organizations wanted to participate that the number of voices was limited to 125 from each school. The New York City Orchestra, the Metropolitan Opera House Orchestra and the Philharmonic are to be blended into one harmonious organization for the occasion. Governor Whitman will speak.

FIVE DETROITERS ARRESTED FOR TREASON

Detroit, May 28.—Accused of treason in connection with the nationwide anti-conscription conspiracy, five Detroiters were arrested today by Federal agents.

Joseph Riggs of the North Carolina Naval Militia, who has been assigned to duty on the United States Battleship Montgomery, has returned to his post after spending six days in this city, visiting his mother on Bell street.

Offered to the public, subscriptions came by telegraph at the rate of a million dollars an hour. It was the plan of Secretary McAdoo to make this loan representative of the spirit of the people and to that end he decreed that the bonds should be issued in as small as $50 denominations so that the laborer, the man in the street and the shop girl might participate in it along with the banker, the broker and the merchant. In this particular it was kept true to its name—a loan in which all the lovers of liberty could participate.

Offers to buy bonds did not constitute the only evidence of the nation's enthusiasm and loyalty. The offers to perform active service in making the loan a success were overwhelming. The law creating this loan provided that no commissions for the sale of bonds should be paid; but this restriction was superfluous. Bond brokers, bankers, investment houses, merchants, express companies and others volunteered to buy the bonds outright and let their employees repurchase them on the installment plan. To further exemplify the popular character of the loan, Secretary McAdoo created a woman's committee to assist in the sale and distribution of the bonds. To add to the attractiveness of the bonds as an investment they were made tax free (except as to inheritance tax) and the interest is payable semi-annually, June 15th and December 15th. Federal Reserve Banks were designated as fiscal agents and authorized to name committees in each Federal Reserve Bank to have charge of the distribution of the bonds.
