Congress Peeved With Garfield

Exasperated Solons Declare That Never Again will They Let The Power to Run the Nation Escape Their Hands

Washington, January 18.—Congressional leaders declare that Congress will hereafter be cautious about shearing itself of its powers and even about giving them to the President.

This spirit is the direct result of the fact that the Fuel Administrator's orders were signed before the Senate had time to vote on a request for the suspension of the mandate.

The Senate is peevish over the thought that all it had a chance to do was to make a request for delay, unless the Food Control Bill is amended.

"Never again," is the watchword among a large group, and "I told you so" is the chorus among senators who opposed the Food Bill with its broad arbitrary powers.

As a result, what may be deemed an affront to the executive branch in the form of a "Go-Slow" attitude on the part of Congress toward the pending railway bill is predicted. If the present plans of leaders carry, all powers under these measures will be strictly limited and easy of revocation by the action of Congress without disturbing the structure of the government control of railroads.

There is prospect of modification of powers under the Food Control Law. Some senators declare that by the end of the month the bill will be amended to give the authority to issue orders only to the department of agriculture.

Such bitter threats are expected to be the result of telegrams protesting over the fuel control bill. Some senators declare that they will do their utmost to force Garfield out, even though they can do nothing directly about the order which he signed with President Wilson's full knowledge and approval.

President Wilson stands squarely behind the enforcement of Fuel Administrator Garfield's order.

It may be stated officially that President Wilson will not revoke the order.

Mr. Wilson feels that within three weeks the people of the country will accept as having been vitally necessary the move which has resulted in an unfortunate but unavoidable situation.

It is not known in official circles that the affair will result in a different manner.

Home Card

UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION WHAT YOU CAN DO TO HELP WIN THIS WAR.

See other side showing why you should do it.

Our problem is to feed our Allies this winter by sending them as much food as we can of the most concentrated nutritive value in the least shipping space. These foods are wheat, beef, pork, dairy products, and sugar.

Our solution is to eat less of these and more of other foods of which we have an abundance, and to waste less of all foods.

Bread and cereals.—Have at least one wheatless meal a day. Use corn, oat, rye, barley, or mixed cereal rolls, muffins, and breads in place of white bread certainly for one meal and, if possible, for two. Eat less cake and pastry.

As to the white bread, if you buy from a baker, order it a day in advance, then he will not bake beyond his needs. Cut the loaf on the table and only as required. Use stale bread for toast and cooking.

Meat.—Use more poultry, rabbits, and especially fish and sea food in place of beef, mutton, and pork. Do not use either beef, mutton, or pork more than once daily, and then serve smaller portions. Use all left-over meat cold or in made dishes. Use soup more freely. Use beans, they have nearly the same food value as meat.

Milk.—Use all of the milk, waste no part of it. The children must have whole milk, therefore, use less cream. There is a great waste of food by not using all skin and sour milk. Sour milk can be used in cooking, and to make cottage cheese. Use buttermilk and cheese freely.

Fats (butter, lard, etc.)—Butter has food value, and is sold in blocks. Therefore, use it on the table as usual, especially for children. Use as little as possible in cooking. Reduce the use of fried foods to reduce the consumption of lard and other fats. Use vegetable oils, as olive and cottonseed oil. Save daily one-third of an ounce of animal fat. Waste no soap. If you can't get soap, use the glycerine necessary for explosives. You can make vegetable soap at home, and, in some healthful, you can sell your saved fat to the soap maker, who will thus secure the needed glycerine.

Sugar.—Cut down candy and sweet drinks. Use less sugar in tea and coffee. Use brown, maple syrup, and dark syrups for hot cakes and waffles, without butter or sugar. Do not frost or ice cakes. Do not stint the use of sugar in putting up fruits and jams. They may be used in place of butter.

Vegetables and fruits.—We have a superabundance of vegetables. Double the use of vegetables. They take the place of part of the wheat and meat, and, at the same time, are healthy. Use potatoes abundantly. Store potatoes and roots properly and they will keep. Use fruits generously.

Fuel.—Coal comes from a distance, and our railway facilities are needed for war purposes. Burn fewer fires. If you can get wood, use it.

GENERAL SUGGESTION.

Buy less; cook no more than necessary; serve smaller portions. Use local and seasonable supplies. Patronize our local producers and lessen the need of transportation.

Do not limit the plain food of growing children. Do not eat between meals. Watch out for the waste in the community.

GERMANY SEEKS SERBIAN PEACE

But King Refuses to Consider Overtures Made By Teutons

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Germany has made tempting inducements to Serbia in a fruitless attempt to secure separate peace. The overtures were ignored by King Peter of this countryless nation.

Germany, seeking every possible means to eliminate the Balkan menace, has rendered Russia harmless.

Rumania is between the cross fire of Teuton troops and Russia anarchy, in a hopeless position, and will sooner or later have to accept peace. Serbia and her Ally, Salonika, constitutes the remaining menace. On Germany's southeastern front the Entente forces number close to three quarter of a million men.

TEXAN REACHES ATLANTIC PORT

Limped in Today With Huge Hole in Side. Taken to Dock For Repairs

An Atlantic Port, Jan. 18.—The American Hawaiian steamship, Texan, reached this port today and was taken at once to the dock for repairs.

The Texan limped in with a huge hole in her side, listing badly to port.

LITTLE EDITOR TELLS OF SHOW

And Urges His Friends to See The Elks Do Their Stunts Tonight

By JOHN PEELE

With much difficulty and more camouflage I persuaded my family last night that I'm grown up enough to be an Elk instead of just a Better Baby, and I went to the big show around at the Alhambra.

I never had such a good time in my life. Some of the folks on the stage were white and some were black, and their clothes were mostly green, and they looked so funny that I didn't recognize my old friends at all at first. Some of them looked much better than they do everyday and some of them looked much worse. But I'm not going to tell you which did this and which did that, if you did not go last night, it's up to you to go tonight and find out all about it for yourself.

What I liked best was that the music kept up pretty nearly without ceasing. Everybody would sing, then one fellow would sing, then everybody would sing, and so on. And it was all so lively and everybody seemed so happy except Mr. W. A. Worth. He sang a regular funeral dirge and I nearly cried, I felt so sorry about it. It seemed to be about his dog's dying or something of the sort. At any rate, he sang "Good Bye Bounce," and I thought Bounce sounded like a dog's name.

They were singing for me that evening in "Good Bye Bounce" when I was in the audience, and I was so glad to hear it that I nearly cried. I was so glad to hear it that I nearly cried.

I was so glad to hear it that I nearly cried. I was so glad to hear it that I nearly cried.

I was so glad to hear it that I nearly cried. I was so glad to hear it that I nearly cried.

Whole Companies of Austrians Shot

And Disaffection Said to be Spreading Throughout Both German and Austrian Armies

Petrograd, January 18.—Whole companies of Austrian troops have been ordered shot for complicity in the plans and views of Russian Socialists, according to certain reports reaching here.

According to other reports received at the same time many units of Austrian soldiers on the Italian front have been ordered executed for refusal to obey their officers.

Disaffection against their military masters is said to be spreading among the German troops also.

According to news reaching here from the Russian camps whole companies of German troops, numbering no less than 25,000, have deserted their commands and have accepted the principles of the Russian socialists.

It is asserted that their forces are well armed and well organized and that the men live by foraging and by contributions from sympathetic peasants.

A similar situation of disaffection exists among the men all along the Austro-Italian front according to messages received here.
