If you have not taken something to the Red Cross Tea Room for relief of Belgian sufferers, don't forget to do it Sato urday. "Inasmuch as ye did it not" may haunt your mind and disturb your peace of soul when the opportunity has passed. So

The Advance congratulates the Elizabeth City High School upon its breezy publication, "The Hobby Horse" which has already learned the art of advancing rapidly. Whether its achievements are entirely due to the fact that its editor in chief is so Bright or to a combination of reasons it is difficult to determine, but at any rate. here's to The Hobby Horse, and long may it continue to advance.

We hope that you will read carefully the W. S. S. story from Kinston and catch the spirit of those Kinstonians. Such enthusiasm is bound to be contagious, even in cold print, and it's time we were getting hold of that "Go the Limit" idea. It's alright to be conservative about some things, but when it comes to fighting the Boches we'd better do our all, for they know no limit in the matter of emelty and greed.

HIS KINGDOM COME

Last year when the coming of the Burke Culpepper revival was announced there were a good many people who went around saying that they didn't believe in revivals and so on and so on. The town had enough religion and the folks who had religion didn't use it, | and here they went off on a tangent. But that idea isn't fashionable any more. Personally we were brought up on revivals and believe they do good. We do not always care for the professional evangelist and were * very happy to find Bucke Cul (w perperance Sception, Generally speaker w Fig best the kind ? whose the process Street dothe proofing and in these trathree effect I was super-L possible mit good. SCHOOL GOING

The Elizabeth City schools have hought nearly $5,000 worth of War Savings Stamps. $912.03 was reported for the W. S. S. durang the past

Mrs. Fearing's room in the primary department is leading with nearly $1,500 while Miss Hattie Harney's room leads the Grammar school with nearly $625.

The aim of the school for W. S. S. is $10,000 and indications are that it will go over the top.

MUCH PATRIOTIC INTEREST

There has been marked interest throughout the session in all patriotic work. The students have bought bonds, worked for the Red Cross and are buying War Savings Stamps.

They have sung patriotic airs from 'America" to "Over There" and now the boys of the high school are very much interested in the Boys Working Reserve and many are expecting to enroll for service during National Enrollment Week for the Boys Working Reserve. These boys will offer themselves in Uncle Sam's army of rood Producers and fill as important if not dier brothers.
