NO. 176

LOST PROVINCES ARE REPRESENTED

Alsace-Lorraine to Have Fourteen Senators and Twenty-four Deputies in French Parliament

(By Associated Press)
Paris, July 26.—Fourteen senators from Alsace-Lorraine will sit in the French Parliament, it was announced by Rene Viviani, President of the Chamber of Deputies, to the Peace Commission at a meeting of the Commission this afternoon.

MARRIAGES DUE TO MISUNDERSTANDING

(By Associated Press)
Coblenz, July 26.—Reports of marriages between American soldiers and German girls have been received at headquarters from various parts of the occupied area during the last few days; but as yet no charges have been filed against the men contracting these unions as they are believed to be due to a misunderstanding among the soldiers regarding anti-fraternization regulations. At headquarters it was said today that even after the United States has ratified the treaty with Germany marriages of soldiers with German girls will be prohibited by army order.

STRIKE RESULT MISUNDERSTANDING

Washington, July 26.—Announcement today at the postoffice department was made that the first strike of aviators in history has been settled after conferences of representatives of the department and the air mail pilots. It was announced that the strike was the result of a misunderstanding.

PROTEST AGAINST JEWISH AUTONOMY

Warsaw, July 26.—The Polish Catholic Israelite Patriot party today published an open letter addressed to the Allies, protesting against Jewish autonomy in Poland, and particularly against Jewish schools, which, the letter says, raises a Chinese wall between citizens of the same country.

STATE HEALTH BOARD ASKS CO-OPERATION

Raleigh, July 26.—As a part of the intensive campaign carried on by the State Board of Health in an attempt to familiarize every person in the State with the requirements of "an act to prevent the spread of disease from insanitary privies," enacted by the last General Assembly in February, 1919, a request was sent to the county officials of each of the one hundred counties of the State asking for the names of mayors and leading citizens of the towns of the county, to whom the Health Bulletin and copy of the law would be sent. This request met with most hearty co-operation on the part of the county officials. Eighty-eight counties of the State have responded to date.

The carrying out of the provisions of the state-wide privy law is one of the most difficult tasks which the State Board of Health has undertaken. The results which will be obtained, however, in the reduction of typhoid fever and other diseases, are expected to more than warrant the expenditure of money and energy required. If all the people of North Carolina accord as hearty co-operation to the State in the carrying out of this law as the county officials have given, the undertaking will meet with overwhelming success.

CORN OIL SUPPLANTING HIGH-PRICED OLIVE OILS

HIGH BURNING POINT MAKES IT SUPERIOR FOR ALL COOKING PURPOSES

Oil Used For Frying Onions Can Then Be Used to Bake Delicate Cakes.

(By Edwin F. Bowers, M. D.)
America has made another important discovery. This time it has to do with an essential article of food—the lack of which, during the war, was found to work a greater hardship upon a population than the deprivation of any other variety of food form.

This nutritive substance is fat. The particular fat which has been evolved by the American food experts into an indispensable article of food is the oil derived from the germ of corn.

It has been found that this oil is unusually rich in lecithin, considered by many physiologists as one of the most important tonics, restoratives, and tissue-builders known to science.

Lecithin is a dominant element in the fat that goes to make up brain and nerve cells, and has a very decided effect in increasing nutrition. Corn oil is digested and assimilated more readily than almost any other variety of fat—either animal or vegetable.

In addition, however, corn oil has valuable culinary uses, particularly because of the fact that the burning point of this oil is so much higher than that of other oils or animal fats. Corn oil stands a temperature of six hundred and fifty degrees before it burns; whereas butter, for instance, burns at two hundred and fifty degrees, goose grease at four hundred, lard at four hundred and twenty-five, cotton seed oil at five hundred and thirty-five, and olive oil at six hundred degrees.

It is the low burning property of animal fats that makes frying with these fats such a nuisance around meal-time in most kitchens. For the degree of heat generated by gas, gasolene, coal, wood, or electricity averages about two thousand degrees.

The higher burning point of corn oil, on the contrary, lends itself admirably to modern cooking methods, as it makes it possible to cook the food quickly, and at a higher temperature, without, at the same time, burning and searing the food.

No Kitchen Odors With Corn Oil Cooking

Meat, fish, or odoriferous vegetables, cooked in corn oil, are quickly sealed over on their surfaces. This forces them to retain the flavors and odors otherwise lost during the process of cooking with quick-burning fats.

So complete is this sealing effect that many families who employ corn oil in cooking, fry meat or fishballs, onions, and other food products, all in the same pan—finishing up, not infrequently, by using this same oil for the baking of a delicately flavored cake or some form of pastry—without carrying the slightest odor or flavor from one food to the other.

On the other hand, the "reverse English" can be worked with corn oil, for it also has a lower congealing point than other oils. This is a property especially valuable in the preparation of salads, for corn oil can be subjected to a temperature of fourteen degrees without congealing, whereas olive oil, for instance, becomes cloudy and stiff at a temperature of thirty-two degrees. And the cost is somewhat less than half the cost of good olive oil.

Thousands of French and Italian families in America are employing corn oil in salads, in preference to olive oil. Not only for its low congealing properties, but also for the reason that corn oil is free from the rancidity so frequently found in olive oil.

This purity of corn oil and its freedom from rancidity is due to the careful and thorough method of its preparation. For, instead of being pressed "cold," as is olive oil, corn oil is purified by filtering and steam-sterilizing. The water, protein and glycerine elements are removed, and the oil is thoroughly sterilized. Any disease germs that may have gotten into the oil are killed, and the ferments which later on might cause rancidity, are destroyed, so that, with proper care, corn oil will keep sweet and pure for an indefinite

SETTLEMENT NOW SEEMS IN SIGHT

Immediate Release of Steamships Now Tied Up Expected Today

(By Associated Press)
New York, July 26.—The end of the strike of forty thousand marine workers was announced here today by General Secretary Brown of the International Seamen's Union, who said that ships would be moving before the afternoon.

New York, July 26.—Proposals agreed upon by representatives of Seamen's organizations and the American Steamship Association for settlement of the strike that has tied up coastwise shipping were today submitted to Union members for ratification.

It was expected that the terms arranged by Union leaders would be ratified without delay, permitting the immediate release of the many steamships that are now tied up.

CONFEDERATES TO HAVE REUNION

Men Who Wore The Gray Will Meet at Atlanta in October.

(By Associated Press)
Atlanta, July 26.—October seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth have been chosen for the dates of the Confederate annual reunion.

Since General Van Zandt of Fort Worth in accepting the invitation to hold the reunion here suggested October, it is presumed that these dates will be acceptable to the veterans.

Speaks to Farmers

E. F. Aydtlett left Saturday for Belcross to deliver an address to the farmers there Saturday afternoon.

The oil content in corn averages about five per cent. of the grain. So that from a three billion bushel crop of corn, there is a potential prospect of four hundred million gallons of corn oil. Which insures a comparatively inexpensive article of diet for American consumption.

Not an Acquired Taste

Corn oil is a clear, limpid, pale yellow low fluid, free from odor, and with an agreeable, sweet flavor. It possesses qualities of palatability that do not have to be acquired.

It has been found that corn oil is a great improvement over butter in the making of cakes, cookies and puddings; while it is superior to lard as a shortener for biscuits, pie crust, bread and crackers.

In fact, the great pie, bread and cracker manufacturers have found corn oil much more satisfactory and economical than any other form of shortening. In the preparation of cheese straws, muffins, bran gems, and other delicacies, it has given better results than anything heretofore used.

For deep frying of doughnuts, mush, fritters, meat balls, fish, croquettes, rissoles, and other appetizing edibles, where a nice brown crust is a consummation devoutly to be desired, corn oil has proved itself of unique value.

Housewives who have poured two or three tablespoonfuls of this oil over a roast of beef or lamb, or veal, find that it checks the seeping out of the meat substances, and causes the meat to cook in its own rich juices. This gives an unusual tenderness to the roast, and increases measurably the meat flavor. It also facilitates the thorough cooking of the roast, and prevents the outside from being burnt into a disagreeable-tasting and indigestible cinder.

As a dressing in the form of a mayonnaise or French dressing for cold boiled vegetables, such as cabbage, beets, turnips, potatoes, cauliflower, and other vegetables, corn oil is all that the most critical epicure could desire.

In fact, it is not going too far to state that corn oil will, within the next decade or two, do more to make the well-known and justly-celebrated American stomach over into a healthy organ, than any one discovery of modern times.

Efforts to Prevent Arms and Ammunition From Reaching Mexico From This Country To Be Redoubled

(By Associated Press)
Washington, July 26.—Efforts to prevent the smuggling of arms from the United States into Mexico are to be redoubled.

This was made known today at the State Department after publication of a proclamation signed by President Wilson on July 12th restoring to the State Department control over the shipment of munitions to the southern republic.

During the war this supervision was vested in the War Industries Board.

WARD SAYS HE'LL STICK IN CAMPAIGN TO THE END

Washington, N. C., July 26.—Acting upon certain rumors which had been current on the streets for several days relative to H. S. Ward's candidacy for Congress, a representative of the Daily News this morning called upon Mr. Ward and asked him if he was still in the race.

"Most certainly," was his hearty reply. "What made you ask that?"

The reporter mentioned some of the rumors in which it was stated that Mr. Ward intended to withdraw and, again, that he was being employed to run in order to keep other candidates from entering the field.

"Absolutely nothing to it," he stated. "I entered the race with the intention of sticking to it and I'm going to stick. If Moses and the prophets were to rise from the dead now and tell me that I didn't stand a chance of carrying a single county I would still go ahead with my campaign and carry it out until the eve of election. I don't think, however, that the prophets will be disturbed thus."

"How's your campaign coming on?" he was asked.

"Splendidly," he replied. "I'm perfectly happy and at peace with all mankind."

Mr. Ward will fire the opening gun the week of August 5th. He intends leaving here Saturday night, August 2, if nothing happens and speak at Ocracoke on the following Monday or Tuesday.

Comments on Senator Reed's Speech

Mr. Ward went to Elizabeth City Tuesday night to hear the speech of Senator Reed, who is making a swing through this section in opposition to the League of Nations. With reference to the Senator's remarks, Mr. Ward has the following to say:

"The most adroit effusion of demagogery and falsification ever heard. He made his audience shudder to think of the negro from Liberia, the representatives of the yellow race, the six delegates of the great British empire sitting at the council board with one representative of the United States. A perfect maelstrom, apparently, of negro and mongolian domination. He did not tell his audience the main controlling truth; that one of the provisions of the League is that the vote shall be unanimous before any decided action by the council of the League is taken and that all matters in dispute at the council board shall be submitted to arbitration."

FLY CAMPAIGN BEGINS MONDAY

Boy Scouts in Charge. Contest Open to Every Boy in City. No Age Limit. Prizes And Bounties Offered.

The Boy Scouts of Elizabeth City have organized for an Anti-Fly Campaign which begins Monday, July 28th and lasts three weeks.

The campaign is undertaken at the suggestion of the Housewives League and altho it is late in the season it is believed that much good may be accomplished, particularly if all the boys, and the grownups, too, will cooperate with the Scouts.

The following conditions are to be observed in the campaign:

1. No age limit is set. Every boy in Elizabeth City is eligible.
2. Flies may be caught by trapping bait poison or by any other method.
3. All flies must be delivered to Scout Hollowell Goodwin, who will act as treasurer and pay all bounties.
4. The Housewives League will pay $5 to the boy delivering the largest number of quarts of flies and a bounty of five cents a quart for all flies caught.
5. Scout officials will make an effort to secure additional prizes for the best modelled fly trap, provided enough boys take an active interest in the campaign.
6. Scoutmaster Shumaker has on hand a quantity of fly poison which he will give out to the boys as long as it lasts.
7. Hints for the construction of fly traps may be had from Miss Marcia Albertson, Home Demonstration Agent, or from Scoutmaster Shumaker.
8. It is realized that the bounty of five cents a quart is not adequate pay for the work done. Indeed the service rendered is a public one and those in charge of the campaign depend upon the fine spirit of community loyalty that exists among the boys of Elizabeth City to enter into the fight against the fly and for community health. However, it is hoped to secure money for additional bounties.
9. The Scouts will keep the public informed by bulletin board and thru the press of the progress of the campaign and give credit for work done by those participating.

It is hoped that the boys will rally to the call and distinguish themselves for gallant service to their Home Town in this campaign.
