Was Waterloo for Slim Sallee

Redland Field, Cincinnati, Oct. 8.—The seventh game of the 1919 World Series opened today with local baseball enthusiasts confident that today's game would be the last, and that its end would see the Reds.

The line up of the game was as World Champions for the season. Things continued to look good for the Reds when the game was called and the fans who had doped it out that Cicotte would pitch for the White Sox and Chicago for the Reds found themselves correct.

But it wasn't on the cards that Chicago should score in the first inning. But that is what the White Sox did.

And it was their game from then on. Sallee was derricked in the fifth inning but too late for Fischer, who took his place to save the game.

Eller's pitching at Chicago done all over again at Cincinnati could not have saved it at this stage.

Timely hitting would have done it even after the sixth but today the Reds could not land on Cicotte's "shine" ball.

Chicago.—J. Collins, right field; E. Collins, second base; Weaver, third base; Jackson, left field; Felsch, center field; Gandil, first base; Risberg, short stop; Schalk, catch; Cicotte, Pitch.

Cincinnati.—Rath, second base; Daubert, 1st base; Groh, third base; Roush, center field; Duncan, left field; Kopf, short stop; Neale, right field; Wingo, catch; Sallee, pitcher.

The score by innings follows:

Special Stress Placed On This Day Of Clean Up Week Which Began Monday And Lasts Thru Saturday.

Raleigh, N. C. October 5th.—With special stress put on the duties and obligations of householders in Fire Prevention effort Sunday, October 5th, in many of the churches in all parts of the state thru the co-operation of the ministers and the children of the North Carolina Safety Leagues and with concerted effort through the coming Clean Up Week by municipal, county and school authorities and civic organizations and communities to observe the week and Fire Prevention Day (October 9th) North Carolina ought to be on a sure road to greatly increased safety for lives and property, says Insurance Commissioner and Fire Marshal James R. IS AFTER TRUANTS
Superintendent of Public Welfare, P. S. Vann, has a list of about fifty white children of school age who are absenting themselves from school. He is now looking up these children to find why they are not attending and to explain to their parents that the new law makes it necessary for them to keep their children in school.

Mr. Vann talked to the girls and boys at the opening exercises of the school Tuesday morning, explaining to them that every boy and girl is now making a record which will be for or against them all their lives. Truancy and other misbehavior will go down on this record and he urged them to so conduct themselves that they would have a record of which to be proud in later years.

The compulsory school law is new and the public welfare work is new and Mr. Vann is patiently explaining and working to get everybody to understand what must be done. However, if boys and girls continue to absent themselves from school, it will be necessary for them or their parents to appear in court and to pay the fines imposed by law for failure to respond to the laws enacted by the State for the welfare of the child.

Rev. George P. Harrell of Belorosa has been here this week attending the Baptist Training School.

FOOD CONTROL AROUSES PROTEST

Germany Worries Over High Prices and Depreciation Of German Money.

Coblenz, Sept. 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—More persistent protests than ever before against government food control, the most of food profiteers and food brokers and the ever increasing speculation in foreign exchange now fill the columns of the food journals and farm magazines of Germany.

Food prices continue very high. This is attributed in part to the low valuation of the mark. The official exchange rate for the mark for September at headquarters of the American headquarters in Germany was 22 marks to the dollar.

Since Germany resumed commercial relations with the outside world, she has been able to report only meagre quantities of necessary and staple foodstuffs, with the exception of food and milk, the food journals say. There has been a good crop of fruits and vegetables throughout Germany. Livestock is reported to be about twenty per cent below normal with little prospect of enough food to stimulate breeding except possibly of hogs.

PEOPLE EAGER FOR AIR LINES
London, Sept. 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—That passengers are eagerly awaiting the establishment of airplane routes to distant points in the British Empire is shown by the requests for tickets received by a company which operates an airplane line from Folkestone to Paris. On the day when the service opened, the office of the company was besieged by inquiries seeking bookings for all parts of the world. One wanted to make a trip to Venice and another demanded a ticket to Carlo.
