LODGE IN KEYNOTE SPEECH SCORES PRESIDENT WILSON AND HIS DYNASTY

Secretary Hays Refers to Republican Party as United and Says There Will Be no Bolt at This Convention.

Coliseum, Chicago, June 8.—The Republican National Convention was called to order at 11:34 a. m. today.

Soon afterwards Chairman Hayes appeared on the platform and was greeted with rounds of applause.

After Hays rapped for order

Bishop Woodcock, of Louisville, Ky., offered the opening prayer. At the conclusion of the prayer the audience broke into the Star Spangled Banner at the request of the song leader. Then three cheers were called for the greatest country on earth, the United States of America, and rolling cheers rocked the hall.

After the official photograph, Secretary Miller read the convention call. Secretary Hays then introduced Senator Lodge as temporary chairman, and after the cheers had died Senator Lodge began his keynote speech.

It was the general understanding that agreement would be reached to accept the temporary organization and chairman as permanent, thus continuing the gavel in the hands of Senator Lodge.

Chairman Lodge's address was punctuated by cheering applause which was loudest when he referred to the Republican party of 1860.

Roars and cheers marked his declaration that every one connected with the "dynasty of Woodrow Wilson must be driven from power."

William Jennings Bryan from the press table listened intently at Lodge's hot denunciation of Wilson and his associates, and stroked his chin thoughtfully but maintained a poker face.

When Senator Lodge reached the hall he took his seat with the Massachusetts delegation where Speaker Gillette was talking with friends, and they had a brief conference in which Fred Upham, National Treasurer, joined.

Theodore Roosevelt, jr., was among the early platform arrivals, and on every side there was evidence of a new generation in politics, including the sons of Roosevelt, Leonard Wood and Senator Aldrich and the grandson of James G. Blaine, who was sergeant-at-arms. When the band began to play "Dixie" Southern delegates found their first opportunity for the rebel yell. Col. George Harvey and Senator Brandegee met on the platform for a talk.

Secretary Hays in opening the convention said he could report progress, and by next November the majority of the Republican party should be at least 3,000,000. "In spirit," he said, "I report more than progress, I report fulfillment. The great party of the union has become a union. It shall continue. There will be no bolt at this convention."

John M. Morehead was elected Republican National Committeeman from North Carolina.

The convention adjourned at 3 o'clock until 11 o'clock Wednesday morning without taking any important action.

N. C. DELEGATION BUSY.

Chicago, June 8. (Special to The Advance)—The North Carolina delegation canvassed on committee assignments today and the friends of John Morley Morehead were all placed on the several convention committees.

Due to E. Carl Duncan's physical condition, Morehead had him named on the committee to notify the Presidential nominee.

Duncan gave this place to L. M. Meekins. Duncan requested the privilege in the event of his absence from the convention to designate his alternate.

C. R. Pugh being the first alternate at large followed the example of Morehead and accorded Duncan that privilege.

Chicago, June 8.—Unique in the annals of the party, the Republican National Convention assembled today unbossed and unbridled, with no presidential candidate having enough votes in sight to assure the nomination.

This convention promises to be a record breaker in all respects and may cast more ballots than any Republican convention since Garfield was nominated in 1880 when 26 were cast before the party standard bearer was chosen.

Overnight reports and rumors from candidates came in today, but delegation headquarters could shed no light on the situation.

A triangular deadlock between Wood, Lowden and Johnson still appeared certain on the first trial of voting strength Wednesday or Thursday, with probably more than a score of favorable sons, dark horses or individual selections sharing more than half the total vote.

Roll call, however, will give but a faint intimation of what the masses of uncommitted delegates have been thinking.

There is talk of cutting the convention preliminaries by making the temporary organization with Senator Lodge as chairman, a permanent convention structure, but no definite step was taken before the first session.

Hours before the doors opened of the coliseum, thousands were waiting and hoping to get in. Only a fraction of those applying for seats were admitted despite the capacity of more than 10,000.

Political activities moved out of the hotel district into the coliseum itself with the assembling of the first session.

Today's proceedings in the hall had little to do with the actual nomination and were merely routine though indispensable preliminaries to the session to follow.

The keynote speech by Senator Lodge, temporary chairman, was really the big business of the day.

While the last minute arrangements were being made there was no change in the lineup visible and various managers admitted that they saw no evidence of which way the wind was blowing and were still looking forward to the first ballot to develop to point the way.

The convention actually opened its first session at 11 o'clock, Chicago time.

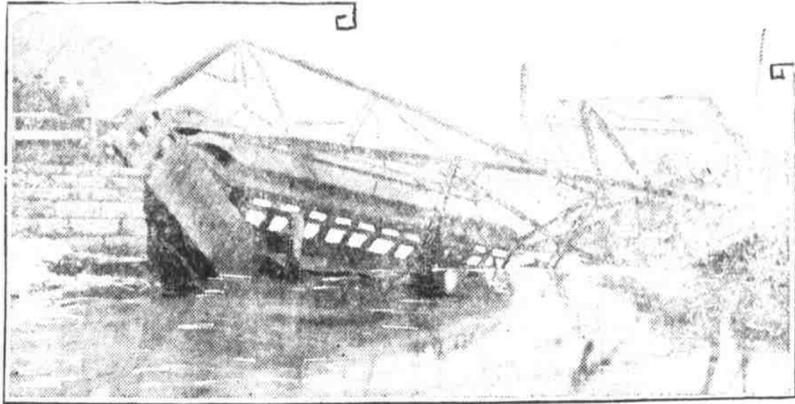

Henry Lincoln Johnson, Atlanta negro, who led the fight of the Lowden delegate, before the Republican national committee, was elected national committeeman from Georgia by the State delegation. Wood delegates announced that they would carry the fight to the credential committee in favor of Roscoe Pickett, defeated committeeman candidate.

Labor After Palmer And Burleson, Too

Montreal, June 8.—Resolutions covering political and economic conditions in the United States and labor's demands upon the administration forces of that country were presented by a score of men when the American Federation of Labor opened its session here today.

One resolution demanded the impeachment of Attorney General Palmer, and another condemned Postmaster General Burleson.

PASSENGERS ARE LUCKY WHEN CAR TAKES A PLUNGE

FOND DU LAC, Wis.—A street car loaded with shop workers crashed through a bridge, plunging into the water. Passengers escaped through windows and while 17 were bruised nobody was killed. Above picture shows the car half submerged in the stream.

Y. M. C. A. TAKES ONE FROM CUBS

Yesterday's Seven Inning Contest Contained More Errors Than Thrills For Local Fans

In a game which contained more than the usual number of errors, the Y. M. C. A. yesterday won from the Cubs by the count of 8-to-4. The "Y." started the ball rolling in their first turn at bat, Lowry making second base on a ball thrown over first by the Cub shortstop, whereupon Dennis walked, Lowry was forced out at third on Woodley's grounder which put him safe at first. Dennis scored on errors, while, with Henderson and Woodley on bases, Farrell batted out a clean single to right, scoring the two. When the side retired, and the smoke of battle had cleared away, the "Y." had an encouraging start of three runs.

In the second and third innings the "Y." was certainly scored two runs, and in the fourth Lowry brought in the eighth and last "Y." tally.

The Cubs put across two runs in the second inning, Norris being to first on an infield grounder, Beale to first, by his partner, while J. Davis walked. With the bases full Perry hit a grounder which brought Norris home, but which failed to net him first base. W. Davis was safe at first by Madril's error, which let Beale in. In the sixth the Cubs scored two more runs, W. Davis mugging to right, while J. Davis was safe at first. T. Twiddy then singled, scoring W. Davis, while Chubb singled to center, scoring J. Davis.

Inches in the box for the "Y.", batted throughout the game, but J. Davis, of the Cubs, was succeeded by T. Twiddy at the beginning of the fourth inning. Twiddy only allowed one run in his four innings in the box. The feature of the game was the all-around work of Dennis, second baseman for the "Y." By J. Davis, T. Twiddy and Coffey, Rogers and Rogers. Today's game is between the Cubs and the Rik-

WHITE—GILDEN

A quiet marriage took place Monday night at 9 o'clock at the First Methodist Parsonage, when Miss Madeline Gilden became the bride of Guy Fearing White. Rev. J. M. Ormond performed the ceremony.

The wedding is a surprise to friends of the bride and groom, as both are so young that their parents' consent had to be obtained in order for them to secure the marriage license.

The bride is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Gilden, of this city, and the groom is the 17-year-old son of Mrs. C. B. White, of this city. A few friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony. A number of handsome wedding gifts were received.

Mr. and Mrs. White will be at home in this city after the 15th of this month.

Saved Chautauqua From Darkness

Lalley Motor and D. R. Scott Did It—Flying Parson Was Guest of Rev. Mr. Hall Here

The last night of Chautauqua came and being a tragedy because the electric lights went out at 8 o'clock. A gas lantern lit broke the strike, but shortly afterwards, D. R. Scott of the Farm Light and Motor Company saved the night and lighted the stage, using a Lalley motor.

Parson Maynard spoke under great difficulty because of the delay in getting the program started and the lack of order in the audience caused by the darkness.

His description of his trip across the continent and back over was gripping and thrilling but he had to postpone them the latter half of his evening in which he urged food programs, unselfishness, better schools, loyalty to the church and the right sort of home-life as remedies for the ills of society, and was hurled off almost against his own will and certainly against the will of his audience in order to catch the train.

While in the city Lieutenant Maynard was the guest of Rev. Romulus Hall. Maynard and Hall were boys and school mates and class mates together and both are Baptist ministers, the Mr. Hall has not yet sought the realms of the air except, it may be, in oratory.

RECRUITING PARTY ARRIVES

A traveling recruiting party from the Norfolk Navy Recruiting Station arrived in town Monday evening. Chief Quartermaster Ames, of this party, is particularly anxious to get in touch with former service men. He is staying at the Y. M. C. A. and will be here for several days.

The new scale of pay which went into effect May 18, ranges from a minimum of $32 per month to $150 per month with all expenses paid. All former service men and others are cordially invited to call at the Y. M. C. A. and obtain further information.

FRONT PAGE READERS

The front page of The Advance is getting so cluttered up with advertisements that we are compelled to charge more for front page readers. Hereafter the charge will be twenty cents a line, or four times the charge for other page position, with a minimum charge of $1.00 for any front page reader.

GAS COMPANY ASKS HIGHER RATE

And City Council Would Co-operate With School Authorities For Better Schools

Representatives of the Southern Gas and Improvement Company appeared before the City Council Monday night to ask their approval of an increase in the gas rates from $2.00 a thousand to $2.50. The aldermen were notified that the company would appeal to the State Corporation Commission for this increase. The matter was turned over to City Manager Commander for investigation.

The aldermen appointed a committee of three, composed of J. B. Leigh, Philip Colson and R. S. Sawyer to confer with the County Commissioners, the Chamber of Commerce and the J. O. P. M. and the School Board to take steps toward providing adequate heating facilities for the school children next term. A committee from these organizations will meet with the committee of aldermen for a conference on this subject Tuesday night.

The case of G. W. Twiddy, policeman that was turned over to the aldermen from the Police Court, was referred to City Manager Commander for investigation.

SIX WEEKS EXTENSION NEWLAND SCHOOL CLOSES

The six weeks extension of the High School Department of Newland High School, under the direction of Principal Ira T. Johnson, closed Friday, June 4. The extension was as high as for any like period during the regular session. The extension enables the school to have a graduating class next year and to give the full four year high school course. An entertainment Friday night featured an original play by Wamamaker balance, one of the pupils.

REV. J. M. ORMOND ATTENDING METHODIST SUMMER SCHOOL

Rev. J. M. Ormond left Monday night to attend the Methodist Summer School which begins its third session at Trinity College, Durham this week. Mr. Ormond has been one of the managers of this school since its organization and also holds for the third year the position of one of the instructors.

The young men coming into the Conference are required to pass four courses of study—one each year, preparation for which, in connection with their regular pastoral work, keeps them very busy. The four courses are reviewed and passed by examination at this school under the instructors. The summer school also gives an opportunity to members to hear a group of men of national reputation. An exchange of ideas on the subjects of vital importance is encouraged. Special attention is being given the new school and rural churches. There is also promotion of good fellowship among the members by the two weeks association after laboring together in a common cause throughout the year.

Among the list of speakers who will address the school this year are Bishop J. V. W. Darlington of West Virginia, Dr. C. J. Goodell of New York, Professor M. A. Dawber of Boston University, Dr. Harris F. Hall of Chicago.

SEVEN KILLED IN FOOD RIOT

Vienna, June 8.—Seven persons were killed and a score injured in fighting between police and citizens yesterday during a food riot resulting from protest against the high cost of food.

FEREBEE'S DEFEAT IS NOW CERTAIN

Official Returns Give Griffin Plurality of One Hundred And Twenty Votes Over Pasquetank Man.

Official returns from the counties of this Senatorial district gave Dr. Griffin of Chowan, a plurality of 160 over Mr. W. P. Pasquetank of Pasquotank, by the vote for the U. S. Senate.

The returns have been received in each case from the chairman of the county board of elections and are believed correct.

Errors may have occurred in transmission, however, or in getting the figures into type, and these figures, though believed accurate, should not be taken as final.

The official vote as compiled by The Advance follows:

SENATORIAL DISTRICT RACE.

	Ferebee	Widborne	Griffin
Currituck	383	519	435
Camden	392	484	402
Pasquotank	542	572	426
Perquimans	580	505	99

SECOND PRIMARY HELD JULY THIRD

Raleigh, 1:15 p. m.—According to the News and Observer's tabulation late last night of returns received from the Statewide primary, Lieut. Governor O. Max Gardner was leading Cameron Morrison by about 3,000 votes; and as former Congressman Robert N. Page apparently has been eliminated from the race it was considered almost certain today that Gardner and Morrison would have to engage in the second primary to be held on July 3 to determine the winner of the Democratic nomination for governor.

The News and Observer's compilation based on complete unofficial returns from forty counties, and virtually complete official reports from forty counties, gave Gardner 42,216 votes and Morrison 37,497.

The fourteen counties yet to be heard from usually poll a small vote, and it was not expected returns from them would materially change the situation.

Indications are that Associate Justice Hoke has received a majority of votes and will not have to go in the second primary.

W. B. Cooper is apparently maintaining a substantial lead over F. C. Harding for Lieut. Governor. The last News and Observer's figures from the Sixth district gave Lyon a slight lead over Representative Godwin, but a second primary probably will be necessary to decide the winner.

DARE MAJORITY WAS FOR SMALL

But With One Precinct Claimed By Ward to Hear From Majority Indicated Small Indeed

Efforts of The Advance to obtain complete figures today on the Congressional primary have been unavailing.

All the counties on this side the sound, however, have been heard from, and official returns show that Ward has apparently failed to carry Dare County.

Returns from Dare are not complete, there still being one precinct to hear from. There is no indication, however, that if Ward has carried the leading precinct his majority there has been sufficient to offset Small's majority in the whole county.

With one precinct in Dare missing the following is the official vote from the counties listed.

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT RACE.

	Ward	Small
Currituck	397	361
Camden	559	134
Pasquotank	559	371
Henry	701	846
Washington	254	69
Chowan	449	248
Dare	112	191
