PEOPLE WED
LIKE TO MEET.

These are days that fry men's soles—Greensboro News.

Well, anyhow, considering the high price that potatoes are selling at, better not plan a potato race for the Fourth.

June 28th and July 3rd are now the red letter days to be looked forward to. And won't we breathe a sigh of relief when both are over.

If the Republicans were able to come together on a candidate despite their differences, the California convention ought to be a pink tea.

If ten dollars for three years is not all you want to invest in The Advance for the present, just make your check out for twenty-five dollars and we'll move you up for ten years.

Time was when folks used to give eats to the preachers. But we've got a preacher friend who brings us a big basket of fresh vegetables fresh from his garden in the country,—beans, peas, beets, carrots, lettuce, and everything. We can't keep the secret. His name is Cole, and we'll say he's a jolly fine soul.

The newspapers print the astounding fact that Mrs. Harding thinks her husband is fit to be President. Well, wouldn't the wife of each and every one of us think the same thing about us. If there's any news value in Mrs. Harding's remark we fail to see it. And there's nothing funny about it either.

These hot days it is not unusual to see, on the sidewalk in front of business places of dealers in live poultry or elsewhere exposed to a pitiless sun, a coop of chickens or other fowl gasping in their cramped quarters from the heat. Would not a word from the police department to these dealers and to freight and express company officials reminding them of the law against cruelty to animals be timely?

DR. HATHAWAY TOLD ME THIS STORY AND HE CREDITS IT TO JOE McCABE

AND I PASS IT ON TO ADVANCE READERS IN GENERAL
AND WALTER WOOD IN PARTICULAR

Said one cullud gentlemen 'To anudder'
"See my big ca'
And my big ho'n
I tell you
I has a lot o' fun
With dat ho'n
You ought to see
The folks scatta'
When I split the Streets
With my ca'
Blowing my big ho'n
Say, is you got a ho'n
On Your ca'?"

"Naw," Said the otha' gentleman
"I don't need no ho'n
I just got Dodge Brothers painted on the front of my ca'".

I THANK YOU
