

Special Bargains For Dollar Day

Merchants Through Merchants Association Staging Big Bargain Event for Opening Day of District Fair

Tuesday, October 19, the opening day of the District Fair, will be Dollar Day in Elizabeth City.

The event is being sponsored by the Merchants' Association and the co-operation of a large number of local merchants has been pledged.

It is believed that the day will see in the show windows of Elizabeth City merchants the biggest array of bargains that have been put on sale since the days before the war.

This is not the first Dollar Day that has been put on in Elizabeth City, but it is expected to eclipse in scope anything in this line heretofore attempted. For this belief there are a number of well grounded reasons. Here are some of them:

In the first place Tuesday is the opening day of the Fair and the streets will be thronged with shoppers to whom attractive window displays can be made to have a direct appeal.

In the second place, heretofore Dollar Day has been put on by one or another of the newspapers in the city and much time was lost in getting the merchants lined up for the event. Some merchants never came in line at all. This year it is the merchants who have taken the initiative in the matter and through their merchants organization they have been able to reach practically every merchant in the city who uses advertising space at all.

A list of Dollar Day firms who will have Dollar Day advertisements in The Advance on Saturday or on Saturday and Monday will be published on the front page beginning with tomorrow's issue.

BIG CROWD OUT TO HEAR WINSTON

One of Largest Ever Seen on Similar Occasion at Court House to Hear First Democratic Speech of Campaign

A crowd that overran the Pasquotank County Courthouse heard Judge Francis D. Winston Tuesday night in the first Democratic political speech of the campaign in Pasquotank County.

Never have so large a number of women attended a political speaking in Elizabeth City.

Judge Winston discussed both State and National issues, but in general terms rather than in detail.

A reference to Woodrow Wilson as the greatest American statesman brought forth the most prolonged and the most spontaneous applause.

The speaker characterized the Republican party as the party of the privileged few and as dominated by special interests. Business is its chief concern, he said, and the business idea has so brutalized it that it saw the President of the country stricken down at the post of duty and brought to the very door of death without a word of sympathy or a tear of sorrow.

The Democratic party he characterized as the party of progress and the champion of the masses of the people.

"If you want to set back on the breeching straps, why vote the Republican ticket," he said. But if you want to go forward, if you want to see the world keep turning and the human race still going upward and onward, vote the Democratic ticket, as you have been voting it.

The achievements of the Democratic party in the State and Nation is guarantee that your trust in the Democratic party as the party of progress will not be betrayed. As for the record of the Republican party in this state, we have not altogether forgotten it.

"The Republican party and I were born in the same year. Ever since I can remember I have been hearing Republicans say that the Democrats did not have the sense, the ability, or the knowledge of affairs required to run the country.

"But under what party was the greatest war in history financed by the United States government.

"Under what party was the largest army ever recruited in America, equipped and put into the field? How does the Democratic record compare with the Republican in the war with Spain?

"Oh they said that we didn't have the men in the Democratic party to manage the big affairs of the government; but under what Secretary of the Navy did the American navy reach its zenith of power and transport an army of two million men across the sea and bring them back without the loss of a man at sea? The reference to Josephus Daniels was greeted with early applause.

Star Pitcher of Twilight League May Be With Giants on Next Training Trip

Pitcher Raymond Evans of the Elizabeth City Twilight League is good enough for a tryout and can take the trip with the New York Giants when they go to their southern training quarters next year.

MELTING POT IS BOILING OVER

Ellis Island Literally Deluged With Immigrants From All Foreign Lands Seeking To Make Home in America

New York, Oct. 12.—Ellis Island, melting pot of the world, is boiling as never before, with the greatest flood of immigrants in history pouring into it. Millions more are clamoring at Europe's exits, anxious to come to America and Congress will be pressed to quickly enlarge both the physical plant and working force on the island to more than double its present size, according to Immigration Commissioner Frederick A. Wallis.

Since early last summer, aliens have been entering America's front door in unprecedented numbers. The problem of housing them until they can be admitted to the country has been painful to all parties concerned. Recently hundreds of immigrants detained for investigation had to sleep standing up, as the floors, benches and chairs already were filled with the backwash from the congested dormitories.

The tide is certainly to become greater with each passing month. Commissioner Wallis felt assured. Steamship operators informed him their accommodations are booked to capacity for twelve months ahead. Government officials announced 267,000 applications had been made for passports in Poland alone, mostly by the Jews, while hundreds of thousands in other parts of Europe also were anxious to cross the seas to this country.

"Between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 Italians are seeking domiciles and citizenship here and more than 3,000,000 Poles want to come over," said Commissioner Wallis, who attributed the exodus from Europe to the harsh post-war living conditions and the economic situation.

Frequently the commissioner asked aliens why they left Europe. Most of them replied "no money, no eat," he said. Many Italian farmers declared they quit their native soil because of the danger from explosions when plowing in former battle grounds.

Added to the prospective influx of immigrants from the countries of the war allies, will be millions from Germany who, as soon as the way is clear, will seek passage to America, the authorities have been informed by reliable and official sources. "The immigration in the future will be limited only by the capacity of the vessels," Commissioner Wallis said.

In the meantime while wondering how many years it will be before aliens quit coming across the sea at their present rate, Ellis Island workers are perplexed over their existing problems. The normal capacity is reached when 2,000 immigrants are inspected daily. Yet, on a recent day, 10,400 aliens were fed there. During another day the same week 11,000 persons were detained in the holds of the vessels which brought them over, while officials struggled with the work of examining the 4,000 then on the island. For two days the island doors were shut against incomers, who remained on boats.

The rapidity of handling them depends upon the aliens themselves. Commissioner Wallis has found that some groups are easier to handle than others, while care must be taken in separating the many nationalities which make the island conversation sound like that at the Tower of Babel.

"If we mix English, Irish and Jews there will be a free for all fight in ten minutes," said the commissioner. "The English won't eat with the Jews and call them foreigners."

Three recent additions to the tasks of the immigration officials have made more tedious the handling of the alien. Much time is required in vising passports and the literary test which all immigrants must pass, also causes trouble. Each alien must read in one language before being admitted. In addition to its labors with the aliens, the immigration officials examine every seaman entering the port, even though he left it but a few days before. In the last eight months 800,000 seamen were examined here.

Despite congestion everything possible is being done to make the treatment of the aliens on the island humane. Babies are given warm food and blankets. Babies are given warm blankets recently received from Wash-milk and crackers. Candy, cigar-

Ellis Island authorities are trying not to keep the aliens in the holds of the vessels after arrival and are striving not to delay commerce by holding up ships in that manner and so far they have succeeded. But no matter how fast the immigrants arrive, the examinations will not be made less rigid, but will continually be made more severe, Commissioner Wallis said.
