Are Arranging A Game With Edenton

Local Baseball Players Plan To Donate Gate Receipts To Community Hospital

D. Guy Brockett, manager of the Elk baseball team, is making arrangements with the management of the Edenton outfit for a game to be played on the Main street diamond Friday afternoon, the proceeds of which are to be donated to the Community Hospital fund.

According to tentative plans now under discussion, the Elks will pick players from the Cubs and the former Red Men's aggregation, in order that for the first time the crack Edenton team may find a representative Elizabeth City nine opposed to it. It is proposed that an admission charge of fifty cents be made. The plan reflects greatly to the civic pride and generosity of the managers and players, as well as to the Elizabeth City Baseball Association, in that none will receive any financial reward from the game, and it is confidently believed by those in charge of the arrangements that a large crowd will attend the game, if it can be arranged.

The local Red Men will oppose Cresswell here this afternoon at three o'clock in the first game of a double header planned for the visitors. The second game to be played at five o'clock, will be between Cresswell and the Cubs. Cresswell is said to have a particularly fast baseball team this season, and two snappy games appear assured.

Wineke Apartments Ready By January

Three Story Apartment Building On West Church Street Will Cost $30,000 To Build

With applications from enough prospective tenants to fill the building already in hand, work on the erection of the new Wineke apartment house on West Church street is now well under way, and this latest structure to help in the solution of Elizabeth City's vexing housing problem will be ready for occupancy by January first, it is hoped by F. A. Wineke and L. B. Perry, the owners.

This city's first regular apartment house will be constructed of specially hardened brick. It will be three stories high, with two apartments on each floor, or six apartments in all. The apartments will be of seven rooms each, steam heated, and with front and back porches. A real kitchen and a large bath room will be features of each.

The Wineke apartment building will cost $30,000 to construct. The building itself will have a frontage of 60 feet, and a depth of 120 feet, while the frontage of the property on which it is located is 100 feet, assuring a spacious lawn on both sides. The delightful southern exposure on West Church street will further add to the comfort of the new apartments, both in summer and winter.

Six roomy garages at the back of the building, erected for the convenience of those occupying the apartments, are already nearing completion. Mr. Wineke declares that he will move into one of the garages as soon as they are finished, and live there until the apartments are ready for occupancy, when he plans to move in one.

Besides Law Enforcement This Organization Will Deal With Many Social Service And Educational Problems

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—New direction is given the women citizenship of the National W. C. T. U., half a million strong, in the program of the 48th annual convention opening here Thursday. Sessions close a week from today.

While prohibition and its enforcement come in for first attention, the education of women voters, women in industry, Americanization, child welfare, and social morality will claim a far larger place than ever before. The National Woman's Temperance Union has followed these lines for 35 years or so but it is now greatly extending them.

Outstanding speakers include Major Roy A. Haynes, federal prohibition commissioner, and Miss Anna A. Gordon of Evanston, Ill., president of the National W. C. T. U.

Miss Gordon who has recently visited both South America and Europe, will touch on world prohibition prospects. Through organization of the W. C. T. U. in some 40 different countries, the American membership is keenly interested in temperance progress abroad.

The cows are purebred Guernsey and Jersey stock. The equipment is up-to-date, and an expert dairyman will be in charge. The cows will be properly tested for tuberculosis. The dairy will be located right on the brick road so that quick delivery to the town people is assured, and it will only remain for Elizabeth City people to realize the value of milk as a food for children and adults and use milk more freely in their homes, for good milk will then be cheaper than other foods, and there will be no reason why every child in town shall not have a square deal in the matter of milk.
