Historical Films Ready For Exhibition Dec. 1st.

Probably Will First Be Shown On Roanoke Island, And Then At Elizabeth City—Work Of Taking Pictures Now Practically Completed

With nearly four thousand feet of film already taken, the momentous undertaking involved in the filming of Raleigh's attempts to colonize America had been practically completed last Saturday on Roanoke Island.

The pictures taken will be presented to the public early in December and the directors of the undertaking indicate that the first exhibition will be given at Manteo, close by the scene of the work.

If the films turn out well, they will be made up into six reels of a thousand feet each, two reels dealing with each historical episode, and the pictures will be given, in conjunction with others probably, in a three-night performance.

With a State appropriation of but $3,000, scarcely enough under ordinary circumstances to construct the necessary "props" or stage settings, the undertaking has been carried to virtual completion.

Another factor important in reducing the cost of the films was that W. C. Crosby, Mrs. Claire Thomas and J. B. Williamson, members of the State Department of Education, who are upon regular salaries paid from another fund, went to Manteo to direct certain phases of the undertaking, and thus it was possible for their services to be utilized without the reduction in the picture fund which the employment of other directors and assistants would have necessitated.

The costumes worn by Indians and colonists other than the leading male characters were made mainly by the people of Manteo and Roanoke Island who paid for the materials themselves; and thus a considerable saving was effected.

Misa Elizabeth B. Grimboll, of New York, who has directed the enterprise, has worked night and day from the beginning of preparations for the great movie production early in September.

W. M. Jones Brought Back To This City

Will Be Given a Hearing Wednesday Morning On Charge Of Larceny Of Lane's Car

W. M. Jones, the automobile mechanic who left this city early last week in a Ford touring car belonging to A. W. Lane, who runs a garage on Main street in front of the Southern Hotel, was arrested at Farmville last Thursday by Sheriff J. E. Hening, of Greene County, and was brought to this city by Officer Ben Roughton of the local force Sunday morning.

Jones was brought before Recorder Spence here Monday morning, but his hearing was postponed to Wednesday morning in order that additional evidence might be gathered. Meanwhile he is being held at the County jail. The charge upon which he was brought here was that of the larceny of a Ford automobile valued at $250 belonging to A. W. Lane.

Jones says that he was arrested at Farmville in connection with a debt, and that, as soon as the debt was settled, he was re-arrested and taken to Snow Hill, the county seat of Greene County, to await the arrival of officers from this city. He also declares that Lane's car is at Farmville in good condition. Roughton, the officer who brought Jones here, says that Jones asked him to let him drive the car through to this city, but Roughton was doubtful of such a proceeding, and brought in his prisoner by train. Should Jones get off on the charge of the automobile theft, it is understood that other charges will immediately be preferred against him.

YANKS AND GIANTS NOW THE LEADERS

But Winning In Today's Game Would Be Only One Point Behind Yankees — Giants Lead Safer

New York, Sept. 26 (By The Associated Press)—With the advantage of a nine point lead, the New York Yankees today met the Cleveland Indians in the fourth and concluding contest in the present series. Should the Indians score a victory today they still would be one point behind the Yankees.

The Giants of the National League had an eighteen point lead over Pittsburgh this morning.

The New York Americans' one-sided victory over the Cleveland world's champions Sunday by the score of 21 to 7 makes it imperative for the Indians to turn the tables or give the Yankees a lead that will be difficult to overcome. In the National League pennant race New York increased its lead to three games and Pittsburgh has only a slim chance of capturing the honor.

A comparison of the records of the New York Americans and Cleveland American teams last week reveals in six games each team scored 30 runs on fifty hits and that the Yankees had only one more error than the Indians. The New York pitchers were hit a trifle harder. Cleveland may have an opportunity to make up ground after the New York series when four contests are played with Chicago, which has won only four out of 18 games from the Indians this season and is now putting up weak opposition. New York anticipates little trouble in its games with Philadelphia, but may find harder going in its single games with St. Louis, Washington and Boston, each of which teams are displaying strength.

MADAME CUPID ARRIVES TODAY

To show their disinterestedness in the organization of the Bachelor's Club, which organization was perfected Saturday, the Spinster's Club are working on a secret theory. A veiled lady arrived in the city this morning and was seen talking to the president of that club. It is understood that her name is Madame Cupid and that she has a theory deeper than the new theory of relativity. It deals with the art of making one fall in love. While everything is supposed to be very secretive, it leaked out that Madame Cupid is here to disorganize the Bachelor's Club by making the members fall in love. At the same time it is almost certain that the young women of the Spinster's Club will follow the line of least resistance and become inoculated with these tiny microbes of love. Members of both clubs are waiting developments.

Unemployment Conference Is Now Holding Sessions

Washington, Sept. 26 (By The Associated Press)—Eminent business men and industrial leaders assembled today for the opening of the conference of unemployment and following the address of welcome by President Harding, delegates were to receive suggestions from Secretary Hoover as to methods of procedure and the necessity for a concrete program for relief of unemployment throughout the country.

President Harding opened the national unemployment conference and told the business leaders present that in this nation "fundamentally sound, financially strong, industrially unimpaired, commercially consistent, and politically unafraid, there ought to be work for everybody in the United States who chooses to work" and that the open, sure and onward way to reform the nation of war's depression involved "liquidation, readjustment, sober contemplation of things done and to be done. Court Moves Fast In Camden County

One-third Of All Cases Were Disposed Of In First Hour After Judge's Charge

The fall term of Superior Court of Camden County opened Monday morning at ten o'clock with Judge J. L. Horton presiding, and within an hour after the judge's charge to the jury a third of the docket had been wiped out, so rapidly were the first cases disposed of. At present it looks as if this term of court will be finished by Thursday night at the latest, in the opinion of attending lawyers.

Two divorces were granted Monday morning and one was denied. The first granted was that of Mrs. Rebecca Sawyer, of Belcross, from her husband, Charles Sawyer, of Currituck County. They had been separated for five years, and it was on this ground that the divorce was allowed. John Holly, colored, was granted a divorce also, but Mrs. Bernice Small was denied the divorce that she asked for. Judge Horton ruling that the divorce suit had been started before the five-year period of separation had elapsed. Mrs. Small, it is understood, began her legal proceedings just ten days before the five years had passed.

Isaac Lamb, colored, charged with the larceny of a quantity of peas from Tom Sawyer, of Belcross, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment. Lonnie Lamb, his brother, tried on a like charge, was acquitted. N. N. Jordan and Maggie White, charged with fornication and adultery, forfeited a bond of $200 by their non-appearance for trial Monday morning.

The first case scheduled for trial Monday afternoon was that of R. C. Webb, a colored jitney driver of Elizabeth City, who is alleged to have run into a horse and buggy driven by Adeline Bass, colored, on the road from Camden to South Mills, near Burnt Mills. The woman is said to have been thrown out and seriously injured.

One interesting civil case expected to come up Tuesday morning is that of J. A. Pritchard et al., vs. D. E. Williams, over a tract of land which formerly belonged to Captain Joe Hughes. After Captain Hughes' death his widow sold the property to D. E. Williams, and now Pritchard is claiming that he holds a parole trust, or verbal agreement executed by Captain Hughes to him. The property, which is located in South Mills township, consists of 250 acres of land, partly cleared, and is conservatively estimated at $15,000 in value.

TWO CARLOADS FURNITURE WERE UNLOADED SATURDAY

The unloading of two car loads of furniture and getting it on the floor of the M. G. Morrisette Company together with waiting on the store's numerous customers, made Saturday a busy day at the Main Street Furniture Company. Included in the shipment were dining-room and bedroom suites, besides book cases, china closets and numbers of other odd pieces for furnishing the home, "all in the newest designs and finishes and at the right price," says M. G. Morrisette, proprietor.

New York, Sept. 26 (By The Associated Press)—Three bandits unsuccessfully attempted to hold up the cashier of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad who carried a satchel containing between fifteen and sixty thousand cash, and following a battle in the corridor of the Grand Central station fled. With 25 or more fast horses already on the grounds, and entries still coming in, the 1921 District Fair will have the biggest string of entries for the racing events ever brought to a similar event at this city, says Secretary Goodwin of the Fair Association. The Fair Grounds are now being cleared, the track is dragged daily, the stables are strewn with straw, and preparations are under way for the big Fair, to be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, October 4, 5, 6 and 7.

All persons who wish to enter exhibits for competition for premiums are asked to have them in not later than Monday afternoon. Exhibits will be received both Saturday and Monday, but after the latter date none will be accepted. This is to avoid the last-minute rush of previous fairs, and to give the judges full opportunity to make their awards on Wednesday, so that visitors to the Fair after the first day may view the exhibits and note the prize-winners. Many people have stated their intention to exhibit at this year's Fair, states Secretary W. Ben Goodwin, and Mr. Goodwin is specially anxious to get in touch with all exhibitors at the earliest possible date.

Season tickets for the 1921 District Fair are now on sale at Secretary Goodwin's office on the second floor of the Savings Bank & Trust Company Building, at two dollars each. These are good for four admissions for four persons on one day, one person on four days, or in any way that the purchaser may see fit to divide them. The Albemarle Agricultural Fair Association management wishes to co-operate in every possible way with all visitors and exhibitors at this year's Fair, states Mr. Goodwin, in order that every possible provision may be made for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of all.

Space in the general exhibition hall has been entirely sold out, with the exception of that reserved for the regular exhibits, and indications are that the manufacturing, industrial and commercial displays this year will be more than usually good. Additional oils and food products have been received for the soy bean exhibit, and others are on the way. This exhibit, according to Mr. Goodwin, will be one of the most interesting features of the Fair.

West's Bright Light Shows, the amusement feature of the Fair, rolled into town Sunday morning and already Frank West, the owner and manager, with a troop of assistants is at work at the Fair Ground setting up the shows and concessions as fast as they can be unloaded from the string of box cars at the Norfolk Southern freight depot. With a little over a week in which to make all arrangements, Mr. West is sure that every show and concession will be in complete readiness for immediate opening on the first day of the Fair.

The three Hanna Triplets, comely and graceful girls fifteen years of age, all described as exactly alike, comprise a feature of the West Shows. These three attractive little maids will be seen on the streets of the city frequently this week, and will be leading characters in the Springtime Musical Comedy, said to be one of the best of the many shows the company has brought to this city.

Other attractions brought by the West Bright Light Shows include Captain Terp's trained animal show, a minstrel show, an athletic show, a merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, whip and numerous concessions. The children attending the Fair will be interested in the baby pony, born last week, as well as in the lions, tigers, monkeys and grown-up horses and ponies.

The West Shows have no "Forty-Nine" dance hall, or other objectionable shows of a similar nature. These show people take special pride in the cleanliness of their shows, and state that they will fully co-operate with the Fair Association in keeping the standards of their aggregation above reproach from a moral standpoint.
