LIBERTY BELLS VERY POPULAR

And Stream Of Advance Thrift Coupons Constantly Flows Into Carolina Banking & Trust Company

Five hundred and twenty accounts and deposits to the amount of $76,333.28 tell the story of the first day's business of the Carolina Banking & Trust Company.

The Carolina Banking & Trust Company was a center of busy activity all day on its opening day. Visitors were dropping in, of course, just to look things over. But business throughout the day kept up in a steady stream, and as for the window where The Advance Thrift Coupon was credited, that all day had more the appearance of a moving picture ticket window at the rush hour than of anything pertaining to a bank. A little more than four hundred of the accounts opened on the first day were savings accounts.

Cashier Gurney P. Hood had provided 500 Liberty Bell Savings Banks to be distributed to those presenting Advance Thrift Coupons. By the middle of the day he saw that his supply would soon be exhausted at the rate they were going and he wired forthwith for an additional 500. These will be a few days getting here, but Advance readers who have clipped the Thrift Coupons and wish to open savings accounts need not hesitate on that account. They can get credit for their coupon now and get the Liberty Bell savings bank later on.

For those who have not yet clipped The Advance Thrift Coupon opportunity still knocks, and readers should remember that every member of the family from Dad to Baby has the privilege of presenting one of these coupons and getting credit for it at the Carolina Banking & Trust Company. Clip the coupon in today's paper now. Take it to The Carolina Banking & Trust Company tomorrow. Present it with fifty cents that you had intended to spend and you will be credited with a $1.00 savings account. And if the opening of this account teaches you the saving habit you will have learned a lesson that will be worth more than money to you in all the years to come.

Three rules govern the offer:

One dollar of each account must remain on deposit for one year.

If the second deposit is not made within six months, the 50-cent coupon will be deducted when the account is closed, at which time the Liberty Bell bank must be returned.

Only one account may be opened by an individual, but accounts may be opened by every member of a family if desired.

The Carolina Banking & Trust Company is a member of the Federal Reserve System and is under the strict supervision of the United States government and also the State of North Carolina. It pays 4 per cent interest.

Men and women, boys and girls—all are eligible and urged to make use of this opportunity to save.

The Liberty Bell savings bank, which is given to each depositor, can be unlocked only at the bank, so that each penny dropped into it is a penny toward the savings account of the depositor.

Anniversary Sale Draws Big Crowd

Like the scene presented in front of the big tent of a circus when the doors of the main show are about to open was that in front of the Quinn Furniture Company on Poindexter street Friday morning.

The store was giving a free aluminum set to the first forty housewives entering the store, but hundreds who could have had no hope of getting one of the presents pressed eagerly toward the entrance to get first chance at the bargains advertised by this firm in celebration of its sixteenth anniversary.

When the doors had opened and the crowd had entered an animated scene was presented as the gifts were distributed and as the shoppers hied them away to look for the particular bargains in which they were interested.

Quinn's had provided itself with extra salesmen for this event but the sales force was overwhelmed with the crowd of eager purchasers Friday morning. However, after the first rush there was prompt and courteous attention to all and again Saturday buyers who did not get down Friday will have opportunity to take advantage of Quinn's bargains.

Mrs. Irving B. Sawyer returned to her home in Norfolk Thursday after visiting relatives here.

Admiral Beatty Guest Of Legion

New York, Oct. 21 (By The Associated Press)—Admiral Beatty, commander of the British grand fleet in the World War, arrived here today to be the guest of the American Legion.

Admiral David Beatty, Baron of the North Sea and of Brookesby, is regarded by the British as a typical British sailor of the traditional bulldog breed and a first-class fighting man. The worst criticism made of his conduct during the war was that he was overbold and did not wait for reinforcements before attacking the enemy.

On the two occasions when the Germans ventured out into the North Sea in force, it was Beatty who attacked them and started the fighting. The forces under his command bore the brunt of the fighting and inflicted much of the damage the Germans suffered at the battles of Heligoland and Jutland.

At Jutland, Beatty with his command of battle cruisers opened the fight on Admiral von Scheer and tried to maneuver him so that his retreat could be cut off. The Germans got away in the darkness with Beatty still pursuing them.

The Jellicoe-Beatty discussion that followed will furnish conversation for British naval circles for generations but Great Britain made Beatty a full fledged admiral and elevated him to the peerage in 1919.

Born in County Wexford, Ireland, 50 years ago, he showed his fighting qualities in the battle of Omdurman, in Egypt, in 1898 and later in China during the Boxer troubles when he took two Chinese batteries at the head of his bluejackets and was wounded twice.

Beatty gave the Germans a surprise before the war when he took his command into their naval stronghold, Kiel, one night during a heavy fog without the aid of local pilots. The Russians remember him as the doughty Britisher who drank an enormous gift cup full of champagne at one gulp.

His wife was Miss Ethel Field, only daughter of the late Marshall Field of Chicago. They have two sons.

The American proletariat can endure the reign of the capitalists if it isn't the kind that falls when the team is scheduled to play at home.

Harry Kramer Says Outlook Is Better

Last Two Mondays Best Days Savings Bank & Trust Company Has Had Recently

Monday of this week, and Monday of last week were the two best days from the standpoint of bank deposits that the Savings Bank & Trust Company of this city has had since the popular banking institution moved from its former quarters on South Poindexter street, some three months ago.

Harry G. Kramer, cashier of the Savings Bank & Trust Company, says that the business done by the bank during the last month is a most encouraging indication of returning prosperity throughout this section.

He is highly optimistic over the business and agricultural outlook for the coming year, and indicates that he believes that Northeastern North Carolina is on the threshold of one of the most prosperous eras in the history of the section.

ISSUE INVITATIONS TO LEADING POULTRY MEN

At a meeting of the local Poultry Association and others interested in the approaching North Carolina Livestock and Poultry Meeting to be held at this city November 30, December 1 and 2, it was decided last night that invitations to the meeting be sent to Charles Nixon, of Washington, N. J., known throughout the South as an expert poultry judge; to H. M. Kerr, of this city, also a qualified expert on fine poultry, and to Dr. B. F. Kaupp, of the State Department of Agriculture.

The local Poultry Association is arranging to offer special prizes in addition to those awarded by the State; and Dr. H. H. Newman, of Salisbury, president of the North Carolina Poultry Association, and an important breeder of fine poultry, will offer a cash prize at the meeting.

The North Carolina Livestock and Poultry meeting will bring hundreds of the leading pure-bred livestock and poultry raisers of North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia to Elizabeth City during its three day sessions; and great impetus will be given to the raising of higher grade horses, hogs, cattle, sheep and fowls in this section.

Reported Missing Was Safe At Home

Richmond, Va., Oct. 21. (By The Associated Press)—Miss Thelma Poland, reported in Gallipoli, Ohio, dispatches as missing, returned to her home here with her mother three weeks ago from a visit.

It may be that the movies cause as much meanness as the saloons, but nobody shows up at the theater next morning to beg for another reel.

Preparations for the Sixth Annual Chowan Fair, to be held at Edenton Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, are now fast nearing completion, and F. W. Hobbs, secretary-treasurer of the Fair Association, states that undoubtedly this year's Fair will far eclipse any previously held there in number and variety of the exhibits, in the excellence of the races, and in the remarkably large and entertaining amusement features.

Ziedman and Polle's Exposition Shows, the third largest aggregation of the kind in America, will hold forth on the Fair Midway both day and night. The shows will bring 20 carloads of equipment to Edenton, and their repertoire includes 12 shows, five riding devices, and fifty concessions. Everything is described as moral and refined, and the shows, while above impeachment from a moral standpoint, are declared to have enough pep and ginger to please those out for a lark.

One of the leading attractions is Colonel Littleton's Society Horse Show, with Lady Fanchion, the original "good night" horse. Then there is the big Wild Animal Circus, the unusual and entertaining Honeymoon Trail, the freakish and bizarre Crazy House, and the Lilliputians, featuring the Jolly Bonita. The Palace of Illusions is another new attraction, seldom seen in shows in this section, and the Monkey Speedway will entertain many who are new to the antics of the simian speed fiends. Wonderland will provide new thrills for the Fair visitors, and the Wild West and Circus are among the best of their kind on the fair circuits of the country today. The Dixieland Minstrels, with plenty of spicy negro comedy, will attract many from among the huge crowds expected for the four big days and nights.

The riding devices brought by Ziedman and Polle include the helter-skelter athletic hippodrome, something new in Northeastern North Carolina, the seaplanes, whip, Ferris wheel and merry go round. Music will be furnished by the Ziedman and Polle Exposition Band and the Davis Dixieland Jazz Band.

Nightly fireworks displays at the Fair Ground will prove a new and diverting feature of this year's Chowan Fair. The Fair Association has secured the largest and best assortment of fireworks ever brought to Edenton, and these will entertain the night crowds at the grounds. Admission at night will be only ten cents, and in the daytime, 50 cents, a material reduction from last year's Fair admission price of 75 cents. There will be no charge for parking.

Between thirty-five and forty fast horses, many from Virginia and Maryland, besides a large number of entries from Northeastern North Carolina, will contest for the $2,400 in prize money offered. There will be eight races, two on each day, beginning at one o'clock in the afternoon. The stables of Tom White of Hertford and of Dougherty of Elizabeth City will furnish a number of entries. All in all, there is every indication that this year's races will be especially interesting.
