IMPERIAL WIZARD IS RELEASED ON BOND

The indictment charges that Clarke collected money from certain members and officers of the Klan on the pretense that funds would be used to pay premiums of surety companies for furnishing bonds for these Klansmen, that the sums were in excess of the amount required, and that such excesses were converted to his personal use and benefit.

CO-OPS ATTRACT WIDE ATTENTION

Raleigh, Oct. 3.—Reports from the cotton belt indicate that the recent dry weather has resulted in the early maturity of the crop and that it is now moving in large volume. Though the price dropped off at the beginning of the rush season, it has been holding up remarkably well in view of the recent threats of war in Europe.

The strength of the market is attributed to the admitted shortness of the crop and the fine showing made by the co-operative selling movement in the South. There is a distinct feeling of optimism and it is believed that the prices will be much better when the pressure from the dumping of distress cotton is removed.

The co-operatives are a new factor in the market this year and that they are to be a considerable factor is indicated by the fact that the North Carolina Cotton Growers Co-operative Association received around two thousand bales daily during the past week with every indication for greatly increased receipts this week.

The Tar Heel co-operatives already have enough cotton on hand to go into the markets of the world with a fairly respectable showing and it has already begun operations. And it is just one of nine Southern State organizations engaged in the co-operative selling of cotton.

The co-operatives have arranged to fully protect mortgages of cotton and already much mortgaged cotton is being delivered to the Association. The Association management believes that one of the greatest services the co-operatives can render is to prevent the dumping of distress cotton during the rush season.

The strength of the North Carolina co-operatives has attracted National attention, and recently The New York Times and the New York Journal of Commerce have carried articles giving an account of what is being done in this State. Other New York papers carrying articles on the co-operatives have been The Annalist and Commerce and Finance, both financial weeklies.

General Manager U. B. Bialock is receiving daily inquiries from northern papers asking about the Association.

CAMDEN FOLK ENJOY THE BIBLE PICTURES

Wednesday Evening Crowds Increasing And Much Good Is Accomplished

The people of Camden are showing their appreciation of things worth while by the attendance at the illustrated lectures held in St. Joseph's Church by the Rev. George F. Hill each Wednesday night. The first time he held the service it was raining and cold but 22 came with lanterns, umbrellas and overcoats. The next Wednesday night there were sixty present but last Wednesday night there were 114. Secretary R. C. Job, who runs the stereopticon and Mr. Hill who does the lecturing, were late last time on account of a freight train stopping across the county road and refusing to budge for half an hour thereby holding up the service. When they did arrive, however, the large yard in front of the Chapel looked like an old time camp meeting ground. It was so filled with automobiles, horses and buggies and carts, every sort of vehicle to bring folk there. Many of those present traveled many miles to get there. The consensus of opinion seems to be that the lecture and pictures are doing real good. The Old Testament to many is dead and dry but brought to life by the story told and illustrated in detail with colored pictures almost life size, the Old Testament again takes its place beside the New and is read again with profit. The services are genuinely religious and devout and this alone always appeals to genuine people.

The armistice conference of allied, Greek and Turkish military leaders at Mudania adjourned suddenly yesterday after a dramatic passage in which Ismet Pasha, representing the Angora government, demanded that the Turks be allowed to occupy East Thrace as the precedent to any peace conference.

STORY OF JOSEPH TO BE TOLD SUNDAY NIGHT

On this Sunday night, October 8, at 7:30 o'clock in Christ Church the story of Joseph will be told by the rector and shown in pictures by the use of an electrical stereopticon. It has been said that truth is stranger than fiction, and the biblical story of Joseph bears out the statement. What other character of history is so interesting and resembles so much an Arabian Night story? The mere mention of the coat of many colors arouses the imagination of all people interested in the Bible and it has had the same effect upon the great artists who have painted the scenes related. Joseph enters Egypt a slave and becomes a ruler of the Egyptians next to Pharaoh himself, yet not a native Egyptian. The story has appealed to many of the world's artists whose pictures on the subject will be shown Sunday night. The same pictures and lecture will be shown in Camden Wednesday night.

Dr. R. B. Davis of Weeksville and Shelton G. Scott of this city have been appointed by Colonel Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist of Chapel Hill, to succeed A. B. Houtz, and O. F. Gilbert, resigned members of the Pasquotank Highway Commission.

In making these appointments Colonel Pratt ignored the recommendations of the Pasquotank Board of County Commissioners, which recommended the appointment of J. A. Byrum and N. S. Leary, and was guided by the wishes of J. W. Foreman, O. L. Bundy, J. J. Morris and A. E. Jones, the majority of the Commission whose disregard of popular sentiment in the matter of building the Mt. Herman road led to the resignation of Messrs. Houtz and Gilbert.

The suggestion that in naming successors to Houtz and Gilbert Colonel Pratt be guided by recommendations of the Board of County Commissioners came from a monster mass meeting at the court house last summer.

Colonel Pratt's authority to fill vacancies on the Pasquotank Highway Commission comes by the act of the General Assembly of 1915 creating the Commission. His appointments give Salem township two members of the Commission.

Colonel Pratt has been in no hurry to fill the vacancies on the Commission, the matter having been in his hands now for more than two months. Perhaps if Mr. Scott and Dr. Davis had been appointed in time to sit with the Commission at its meeting on last Tuesday the session might have been less stormy.

Colonel Pratt's appointments would seem to have been guided by a desire to restore harmony on Pasquotank's road building body, though he makes no statement as to what course of reasoning has guided his action. His letter to the Commission advising that body of his action is brief and reads as follows:

"According to authority vested in me by act of the General Assembly in 1915, I am appointing S. G. Scott of Elizabeth City and Dr. R. B. Davis of Weeksville as members of the Pasquotank Highway Commission to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Messrs. O. F. Gilbert and A. B. Houtz."
