Mrs. Haley Entertains

The two table Saturday Afternoon Bridge Club was beautifully entertained by Mrs. A. T. Haley at her home on North Road street. Ferns and potted plants were used with effect and a dainty salad course was served. Mrs. Graham Bell won high score prize, receiving a set of sandwich covers. The guests of the club were: Miss India Bartlett, Miss Pauline Skinner and Mrs. Graham Bell. The club members present were: Mesdames William Weatherly, Jr., Elwood Weatherly, Joseph Pinner, W. C. Dawson, Miss Olive Wood and Miss Lucille LeRoy.

In Honor of Sister

Mrs. W. C. Dawson, Jr. and Miss Bessie Cahoon entertained at three tables of bridge in honor of their sister, Mrs. L. B. Barneman, of Wilmington, and Mrs. A. A. Arnold of Nassawadox, Virginia, Saturday evening at their home in the Perry Apartment. The rooms were tastefully decorated with cut flowers, and at the completion of the same two refreshments were served in two courses. Each guest received a beautiful handkerchief and Miss Sue Grice won a potted plant for high score. The guests were: Mesdames Duckworth Glover, W. G. Gaither, W. L. Phelps, Robert Garrett, J. B. Flora, Jr., S. H. Johnson, R. S. Toxey, H. W. Chitty, W. P. Skinner, Oscar Owens, W. P. Duff and Miss Sue Grice.

Good Timers Meet

Miss Isa Moran was hostess to the Good Time Club at her home on West Main street Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The first thing on the program was a very interesting story, told by Misereere Hettrick, which was followed by a guessing contest of advertisements without names. This was won by Frances Pendleton, the second prize going to Elizabeth Bright. After the contest, refreshments of candy, nuts and delicious jelly and cream were served. The visitor of the club was Erline Newbern, and the club members present were: Misses Georgia Heath, Shirley Fearing, Vera Jennings, Margaret Harris, Camilla Foreman, Elizabeth Bright, Doris Harrison, Misereere Hettrick, Gertrude Glover, Mary Byrd Saunders, Florence Ballard and Frances Pendleton.

Entertains Quiz-Wigs

The Quiz-Wig Club was entertained Saturday evening by Miss Margaret Blades at her home, 607 Pennsylvania Avenue. After a jolly hour of fun the young folks were invited into the dining room where the table was lovely with pink roses. In the center was a Colonial doll from which pink streamer ribbons extended to each place. These were pulled by the different ones, each drawing a favor. Delightful refreshments were served. Those enjoying the club party were: Misses Grace Jenkins, Virginia Banks, Emily Brock, Ruth Sample, Helen Bright, Catherine Mann, Vivian Turner, Clara Pritchard, Ruth Williams, Monterey Lomax and Lydia Cahoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Pinner Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pinner entertained the Thursday night club at their home, 533 Riverside Drive. Clown tallies were used and delicious refreshments of chicken a la king, salad, beaten biscuits, pickle stuffed dates and tea were served. Mrs. Graham Bell won a prize of a set of score pads. Aubrey McCabe won an ash tray. Playing at the six tables were: Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Bell, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. McMullan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Toxey, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weatherly, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Clark, Mr. and Mrs. William Weatherly, Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Wilson, Misses Virginia Flora, Lancelles Griffin, Olive Wood, Katherine Pinner, Messrs Julian Sellg, John Pinner, Robert Cotter, Hubert Toxey and Albert Gard.

Entertained At Dinner

Dr. D. K. Walthall was entertained at dinner Friday evening by Prof. and Mrs. S. L. Sheep at their home, 301 West Main street, at six o'clock. The table was lovely with flowering narcissus. Those enjoying the hospitality of Prof. and Mrs. Sheep were: Dr. D. K. Walthall, Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Scattergood, Mrs. Emma Price and Mrs. P. W. Melick.

Masquerade Party

The Dorcas Class of Calvary Baptist Church will give a masquerade party and ice cream supper at the home of Mrs. Chas. Sanders, 615 Hunter street, Tuesday evening. The proceeds will be used for buying furnishings for the new Sunday school rooms. The public is cordially invited.

Choral Club News

Members of the choral club are urged to be present Monday night at rehearsal, and each member is asked to bring a new member. The time is 7:30 and the place is the Elks club.

Fashion News Notes

Paris, Jan. 21.—A hat of remarkable shape shown here Saturday is an exaggeration of the jockey cap. It has little brim in back, but in front the brim extends for nearly two feet. The crown, unlike a jockey's cap, is high.

Paris, Jan. 21.—The lovely white dresses of soft silk being worn today by young women have only a bit of embroidery, though this is apt to be very striking. Often it is lacquer red, and takes the form of motifs arranged in a narrow panel from arm pit to hem.

London, Jan. 21.—Fawn and ecru are among the chic shades at present. Half the women who take tea in the Berkeley are wearing one tint or the other these days, and setting off their gowns with rose tinted pearls.

New York, Jan. 21.—The smart young lady on Park Avenue these mornings is wearing a cloth suit in navy, with a coat of scarcely hip length, the whole costume fitting snugly without flares. With this she wears frilled organdie cuff and a bright scarf matching the handkerchief, which dangles from the lower right hand pocket.

New York, Jan. 21.—Cashmere hosiery is, sensibly enough, being worn by women who have some regard for their health these chilly days. Of light weight and soft texture, the hosiery is embroidered with gay clockgags.

New York, Jan. 21.—An interesting little blouse of crepe de chine worn here today does its best to be mannish. Not only is it severely tailored but it even has a shirt-bosom effect of shirring.

The winner of first place, Wilson Hollowell won second. Ice cream, cake and candies were served and favors were fished for in the fish pond. Each guest presented the young host with a gift and with good wishes for the year.

On Ducking Trip.

A congenial party left on the Wicocon for several days ducking, Sunday night, to Currituck. The party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. William Foreman, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hollowell, Miss Nan Burgess, Miss Sosa Wood of Edenton, Sam Parker and Joe Wood of Edenton.

PERSONALS

Harty Overman and his daughter, Mrs. Viola Midgett, of Coinjock, were in the city shopping on Saturday.

Miss Sosa Wood and Joe Wood of Edenton are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Foreman at their home in the Wincke Apartment.

GAP AT SECOND GRIEVING TIGERS

Detroit Americans After 1921 Pennant But See No Chance Taking It Without Real Second Baseman

By JOHN B. FOSTER

New York, Jan. 21.—If Walter Maranville could be waved out of the National League, where there seems to be little desire to retain him, will the Detroit Americans take him and put him on second base? Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh Nationals, has made overtures to National owners offering them Maranville for something else, but no National owner can see Maranville.

New York appeared to have a gap at shortstop when Baneroff was sent to Boston, but preferred to fill it with Jackson, who promised better in the spring of 1922 than anybody taken from the minors, and who seems to be fulfilling that promise.

Brooklyn is not too sure at short but prefers to go ahead with its Johnny Jones of Portland Oregon, rather than take on Maranville. The Philadelphia Nationals have little beyond the average at short, and perhaps they might make a swap that would give them Maranville if they would let a good outfielder go to Pittsburgh, but so far they don't seem to like the idea. Fletcher, a sound judge of his needs, may not want Maranville either.

Boston doesn't want him and the Cubs probably will not take him, though they could use a good shortstop. St. Louis doesn't seem to be interested either.

The Detroit Tigers are in the American League race for the championship with a gap at second that is grieving the combined souls of Frank Navin and Ty Cobb something awful. Navin has said he didn't see how the Tigers had a chance without a good second baseman.

Now Maranville can play second base. He can play it better than any man on the Detroit Club. He is not all in physically, although he has been called careless of himself. He would go into the American League and be as successful or more successful than Cutshaw, who was waved out of the National and made a corking good year out of his first with Detroit. If Maranville is to be passed out of the National League, Detroit could do far worse than put him alongside of Rigney and Blue. It would be Cobb's task then to get out of the little fellow the baseball that still is in him.

Maranville would put fire into an infield that needs it. There is no direct statement that he has been considered by Detroit, but there is a rumor that he never will be allowed to go to a minor if Detroit can help it, and if the opportunity offered to get him, the Detroit Club, which is in sight of a pennant and lacking the strength in the infield to claim it, would be foolish if it didn't grab him.

The chance is worth taking, and his acquisition might give the Tigers just the plug they need for second, which has been a weak spot for a long time. Pratt was taken from the Boston Americans in 1922 in the hope that he might help out, but he was slower than he had ever been before, and Detroit found itself blocked in the attempt to win a pennant because he can play utility, and he hits, but the Tigers need more than a utility man who can hit. Haney gave his best, but second base seems not to be his spot in the infield.

R. S. Scarborough left Friday for Mammoth Beach where he will be stationed for some time.
