As the Funeral Procession Left Wilson Home

First picture of Woodrow Wilson's funeral, taken as the procession left the Wilson mansion on S street in Washington, on the way to Bethel Chapel of the National Cathedral, where it will remain until the cathedral is completed.

Let's Give Mac a Hearing

Newspapers that are ringing the death knell of the McAdoo candidacy, it seems to The Advance, are a bit hasty, to say the least.

The Advance has been for McAdoo first, last and all the time; but this newspaper would not continue to favor his candidacy should it find that he had accepted a fee from oil interests tendered him because of his supposed influence with the administration with which he had been identified.

On the other hand we are not disposed to turn thumbs down on the McAdoo candidacy until Mr. McAdoo himself has been heard from.

Our attitude is identical with that of other friends of Mr. McAdoo whom Mr. Lawrence, in his Wednesday dispatch, represented as not willing to "quit him because of an unverified statement of a man who deserted the Democratic party in 1920 and contributed to the Republican campaign fund and whose leases have been annulled largely through the efforts of Democratic members of the United States Senate."

More Good Work

Credit the Elizabeth City Chamber of Commerce with another good piece of work.

Most of us had given up the idea of anything better than a nine-foot road through Camden County and were asking only that paving on the project be not longer delayed.

But this man Job, who is secretary of the Elizabeth City Chamber of Commerce, is certainly a persistent cuss. And, as a result of his persistence and perseverance, Camden is again within sight of a 16-foot highway.

Of course if Camden wants to gum things up by prolonging the controversy as to the route of the highway, it can probably do so.

But that won't be Mr. Job's fault.

On a Permanent Basis

The Advance is pleased to announce that the staff of special correspondents that have been serving this newspaper for the last two weeks are to be retained on a permanent basis.

In addition to being an Associated Press newspaper, in other words, The Advance is now a Consolidated Press newspaper as well.

"By thus supplementing your Associated Press report," writes the business manager of the Consolidated Press, "you are giving the people of Elizabeth City a paper the like of which few, if any, communities of similar size in the United States can boast. I trust that it is appreciated and that you are getting deserved returns in business and circulation."

Why Not Sooner?

The Advance doesn't like to butt in on a Camden controversy with which it has no concern, but it feels sure that the only thing that those who seek to change the route favored by the State's engineers can do is to delay action.

Sooner or later the road will be built by the route favored by the engineers.

Why not sooner and have done with controversy?

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

Flags around the Elizabeth City waterfront were at half mast Wednesday in honor of Woodrow Wilson. The tug Arm and Hammer on the ways at the Elizabeth City Iron Works flew a flag at half mast and another was flown from the derrick at the Iron Works pier.

The schooner Annie and Nora took on a cargo of general merchandise Wednesday for Stumpy Point.

The schooner Eugene H. Brown docked at Woodley's wharf Wednesday to discharge from and load for Little Alligator River.

The U. S. Lieut. Edgar F. Koehler docked at the foot of Fearing street Wednesday, enroute from Key West to Boston to be used there as a quarantine vessel. The Koehler has been in the quartermaster department at Key West but has been turned over to the public health service.

The freighter Hettie E. was reported disabled in the middle of the river Wednesday and the gas boat Jones of the North River Line went to her assistance. It was reported that the Hettie E. had broken her shaft. She is owned by E. W. Baum of Kitty Hawk.

The schooner Onward loaded a cargo consisting among other things of a quantity of pound net poles for Roanoke Island at Flora's wharf on Wednesday.

The schooner Missouri loaded for Hatteras Wednesday at Flora's wharf. Among the cargo was a new Ford touring car.

The schooner Julia W. Bell took general cargo Wednesday at Flora's wharf for Avon.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY IS DOING EXCELLENT WORK. The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church held its monthly meeting Monday with fine attendance and much interest and enthusiasm.

The newly elected president, Mrs. M. Leigh Sheep, is very earnest and capable and the society expects to do great things this year. The year just past showed marked improvement in the various activities of the organization.

The circle plan has proven most satisfactory and helpful. The society is maintaining two scholarships in the Scarritt Training College at Kansas City, of which Dr. J. L. Cunningham is president, besides responding liberally to all other calls.

The financial report for 1923 showed $2,305.54 raised by the missionary and local aid departments, an increase over the year previous.

Every woman of the First Methodist Church is invited to join with the organization in the aim to make this the best year in the history of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF MINISTERS ON FRIDAY. A meeting of the Ministerial Association of Elizabeth City is called for an important conference Friday morning at 11 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Every member is asked to be present.

THE MOTHERS CLUB HAS GOOD MEETING WEDNESDAY

The Mothers Club had a splendid meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Community House on Fleetwood street. One new member was added to the roll. Eleven babies were weighed and all had gained except one who had been sick. Fifteen visits to the sick were reported. Seven visitors attended the meeting and thoroughly enjoyed it.

Miss Marie Albertson, home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration in the making of whole wheat muffins. The muffins were baked and served and pronounced extremely good.

While Miss Albertson gave the demonstration for the benefit of the mothers, Mrs. J. H. Thayer and Mrs. Maggie Blount told stories to the children.

HUNDRED YEARS OLD

Washington, N. C., Feb. 7.—Tuesday was a day of a notable event in the history of the Bragaw family of this city. Mrs. Richard Bragaw, sister-in-law of Capt. J. G. Bragaw, was 100 years old and the occasion was a regular centenary celebration at her home in Jamaica, Long Island. Mrs. Bragaw is bright and active —still able to go up and down stairs and in full possession of all her faculties. Her vision is slightly impaired but beyond this she is a wonderfully self-possessed woman. Mrs. Bragaw evidently comes from a long lived family as her cousin, Tom West, has reached the ripe old age of 104 years.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BUT NOT SERIOUSLY INJURED

Ernest White, 27 years old, was accidentally shot just above the right ankle Wednesday night about 11 o'clock in his room at the Raleigh Hotel. Mr. White and his roommate, Ira Garrett, were getting ready to go to bed when White took his 25 caliber automatic from under his pillow to lay it on the dresser. In some way he dropped it on the floor and the pistol was discharged, the bullet going through his leg just above the ankle.

Dr. Howard Combs was called and dressed the wound, and an X-Ray was taken Thursday morning.

Mr. White is from Belvidere and is a machinist at J. B. Venters garage. The wound, though painful, is not considered at all serious.

FREE MOTION PICTURES AT FIRST METHODIST

The motion pictures at the First Methodist Church on Friday evenings are proving interesting, instructive and enjoyable not only for the children, for whom they are primarily provided, but for all who attend. The pictures begin promptly at 7:30 and all are cordially invited to attend. The church is seeking to do a community-wide service. An offering is taken each evening with the hope that the pictures will prove self-supporting, but no charge is made and all are welcomed. The pictures consist of industrial pictures furnished by the International Y. M. C. A. and one reel from the Herald Picture's Story of the Bible films. As Cain and Abel is the subject of the Bible picture this week, it is suggested that all read the chapter in Genesis which tells the story beforehand and that parents tell the story to the children who are too young to read for themselves. The industrial pictures this week are "Story of a Watch," three reels, "Story of the Orange," one reel, and "A Trip to Mt. Tom," one reel.

BREAKS LEFT HIP

Friends in Elizabeth City of Miss Carrie Zeigler Broughton of Portsmouth will regret to hear of her falling from a litney and breaking her left hip. She is now at Kings Daughters Hospital at Portsmouth.

She is the sister of Mrs. C. C. Bailey and P. H. Zeigler of this city.
