At Michigan Conservatory
Of interest to the friends of Miss Minnie Nash will be the following announcement from the Albion, Michigan, Recorder: "The Albion College Conservatory of Music announces the addition of a new member to the teaching staff of the violin department. Miss Minnie Nash, of Elizabeth City, North Carolina, has been added to the conservatory faculty and will start instruction at the beginning of the second semester. She will give work in first year harmony and teach junior violin students, states Professor Rexford D. Colburn, head of the conservatory. Miss Nash is a graduate of Meredith College at Raleigh, North Carolina, in both literary and music courses. She has been teaching music in Elizabeth City for the past three years. At various times since her graduation she has taken on work under Miss Charlotte Ruegger whom she is to assist." A number of Elizabeth City girls remember Miss Charlotte Ruegger when she was head of the music department at Meredith College. Miss Emerald Sykes of this city having studied under her both at Meredith and Fayetteville.

New York, Feb. 11.—Grey shoes are "in." They are not, however, intended for wear with the platinum gown which nearly every woman now owns, but at first aid toward brightening the navy costume. The platinum gown demands shoes of black.

Paris, Feb. 11.—It is somewhat difficult to tell the hat veil from the costume cape at the moment. The latest models in hats are likely to have a very flowing veil which covers most of the wearer except her face.

London, Feb. 11.—The bright red knee boots which the Russian peasants wear on gala occasions have been taken over for sports accessories. The skating costumes designed for the season's end are brilliant enough, but these red boots make them positively giddy.

Florida's Everglades May Be State's Greatest Asset

Once Under Water Fraud Lands When Reclaimed Bring To Realization Dreams of Unfortunate Investors Who Sunk Money In Them Years Ago

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 11.—Some philosopher has said that all progress, all success in the world, is builded upon the failures of the past, the whitened bones of the pioneers.

And so it happens today that the Florida everglades are rising from the water and the muck to give back to the country a fertile area one-fourth the size of the entire state of Kansas.

But there is in this news no note of joy to the tens of thousands of persons all over the country who years ago bought Florida plantations and fruit orchards which proved upon closer investigation to be concealed under some six or seven feet of cypress water. Many persons were sent to jail as a result of these "real estate" promotions. Some of them are still there. Yet through the bars they see today that some of the things they promised, but could not carry through, are coming to pass. Hundreds of persons, if they had maintained their rights in the property bought and paid for, might have profited from the recent developments. There was so much of fraud, however, in some of the dealings that the poor victims never had the ghost of a chance.

It will be years yet before most of the "glades" are reclaimed, although the drainage work is going steadily forward day by day. Some parts of the glades near Miami are so dry at times that they catch fire. The flames extend even to the soil itself, for it is rich in peat substances and burns right readily. The average tourist in Florida who happens to strike the lower state when there is a fire in the glades feels he is being "spoofed" when told about it and thinks someone is trying to put over a Swiss navy joke on him. But the fires are a fact. Eventually the land will cool off, it is said. Even as it is, the fires are not serious and are easily controlled.

One everglades expert believes enough peat substances can be taken from the one-time under-water land to furnish fuel for the electrification of all railroads and other utilities in a billiard table. With drainage completed, the problems of the everglades have by no means been solved. One of the problems, that of road building, is almost as difficult as the one which has never been solved, the problem of which came first, the egg or the hen. As applied to the glades, the problem resolves itself into this: There is no incentive to build roads into a region where nobody lives. And there is no incentive to go somewhere to live where there are no roads. Unquestionably the roads will have to go first, but who is to finance them furnishes the great question.

"Finny" Connors of Buffalo is building one road from Palm Beach to Lake Okechobee, and the Tamiami trail leads some 40 miles out of Miami. But this is not a great deal when the vast area of the everglades as a whole is considered. The unreclaimed portions of the glades are still as wild a country as one can encounter.

Yet, the reclaimed portions are of a blackish soil which suggests Southern Illinois or Iowa. Florida feels that the glades, once the greatest fraud lands of the world, will prove eventually to be her greatest source of wealth.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR
It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Night and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, say well-known druggists here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

OUCH! RHEUMATISM! RUB THE PAIN AWAY

Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right into your sore, stiff, aching joints, and relief comes instantly. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and cannot burn the skin. Get a 35 cent bottle of St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pain, soreness and stiffness. In use for 65 years for rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains.
