THESE HARRY WORTHING QUITE LIKE HOME

One o' th' things it don't pay 't advertise is our honesty. Who remembers when we got pulled in if we stopped in front of a clothin' store? Copyright Nat'l Newspaper Service.

Running for Governor strikes us as being about as strenuous as running a daily newspaper.

There are also signs of spring in the advertising columns of your daily newspaper.

Groundhog or no, we saw a fishworm sunning himself alongside the sidewalk after the rain Wednesday morning.

It is not always the most guilty who pay the penalty for their sins in the courts. But eventually all pay—somewhere and somehow—in full.

Revolution seems to be the thing that England does best. She has ever been about the only country that could put on a revolution without bloodshed.

If McAdoo won't do, Democracy might go farther and do worse than call out Josephus Daniels as the National standard bearer of the party.

Elizabeth City simply has to have a Chamber of Commerce of one sort or another. If you think we should have a better one, join it and be one to help make it so.

The Advance is mightily afraid that if Camden doesn't get together on a road, all of the State's money for highways is going to be spent elsewhere in this district.

We gather that the Raleigh Times is not over-enthusiastic for McAdoo as the Democratic nominee for the Presidency. Well, does the Times want Josephus Daniels?

The Advance is happy to join the First & Citizens National Bank in recommending the purchase of Albemarle Building & Loan shares of the new series opening March 1.

The most comprehensive and illuminating presentation, as well as the first complete survey, of the Sinclair and Doheny oil scandals that we have seen is that by John W. Nevin in Wednesday's issue of our favorite Associated Press newspaper.

One reason we like to run a daily newspaper is that we've got to get to work on the next issue as soon as today's is off the press. We repent of our mistakes and try to make tomorrow's issue the better for them. But we are too busy to worry about them, generally speaking.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Adams and daughters, Gladys and Louise, of 609 First street, motored to Norfolk Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. J. H. Chambliss, who will remain for some time.
 Mr. and Mrs. Frank Selig are receiving congratulations on the arrival Monday of a little son. He will be named Frank Selig, Jr.
 Mrs. Theodore House of Scotland Neck is the guest of her sister, Mrs. P. C. Cahoon, at her home on Shringhaus street.

Entertain. Rook Club
 Mrs. J. H. White charmingly entertained the Rook Club at her home, 312 West Main street, Wednesday afternoon. After the game a dainty and delicious ice course was served. Playing at the four tables were: Mesdames G. W. Ward, W. J. Woodley, Sr., H. S. Willey, John Kramer, Della Chandler, D. M. Jones, G. F. Derickson, A. S. Neal, H. S. Overman, H. E. Nixon, S. G. Etheridge, A. J. Scott, M. M. Harris, and Misses Lou Davis and Ella Jennings.

Cherry Festival Friday
 A Cherry Festival will be given in the Shiloh High School auditorium Friday evening from 7 to 10 for the benefit of the improvement fund of Shiloh Methodist church. The public is cordially invited.

SLOGAN IS EMPHASIZED AT CLASS MEETING TUESDAY

At the meeting of the Convention Mothers Bible Class of Blackwell Memorial Sunday School, held with Mrs. J. T. West on North Road street Tuesday evening the slogan of organized classes for 1924 was emphasized. "To win the lost to Christ, to develop active church members." Workers were named to try to carry out this plan. One of the ideas gained at the Pasquotank Sunday School Convention held last December at Christ church was that of pairing the names of active and inactive members and making the active member responsible for the non-active. The active member thus takes an interest in the non-active and helps to interest her in Sunday school work and make it possible for her to attend. After the business meeting the hostess served refreshments. Those present were: Mrs. A. C. Bell, Mrs. Mary H. Brite, Mrs. W. C. Browne, Mrs. W. S. Chesson, Mrs. H. G. Godfrey, Mrs. J. H. Heles, Mrs. S. W. Hastings, Miss Mary Hastings, Mrs. R. C. Jackson, Mrs. Frank Jennings, Mrs.

N. F. Layden, Mrs. S. E. Munden, Mrs. J. C. Modlin, Mrs. W. E. McCoy, Mrs. W. G. Overman, Mrs. J. L. Sanderson, Mrs. E. F. Sawyer, Mrs. C. J. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Venters, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Thayer.

DIES AT AVOCA
 F. G. Jacobs of this city received the news Monday of the death at Avoca of Miss Sue Martin Capehart. Miss Capehart died Sunday morning at her home, "Scotch Hall" after being in failing health for the last few months. She was about eighty years old and is survived by a large number of nieces and nephews. The funeral and interment took place Monday at Avoca.

AGED NEGRO DEAD
 Washington Sharp, aged colored man, died Monday night at his home near the State Normal School. He was about 80 years old and is survived by his wife and several children. He was well known and had many friends among the white people of this county as well as colored.

NEW OIL FIELD OPENED
 Hutchinson, Kans., Feb. 20—An oil well brought in recently 14 miles Northeast of here has marked the opening of a new field and is flowing 360 barrels a day, although it had only penetrated the oil sand four feet.

Personal Health Service
By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered here. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this newspaper.

Frostbite.
 There is as much misunderstanding about the management of frostbite as there is about the significance of the stain or discoloration of the skin by jewelry. A reader sent me the formal pronouncement of a physician who opined that the stain from some gold jewelry signified a dirty skin and the remedy was more time and effort in the bath tub. But any school boy who has studied a little chemistry—and every school boy ought to study chemistry—knows how ridiculous the doctor's notion is, for some of the best gold will discolor or stain the skin of our very best people, if the gold alloy happens to contain some silver, say, which reacts with the sulphur compounds in the skin oil or sweat of a healthy individual to form silver sulphide. That's what happens to silver tarnished by egg yolk. More need of a little chemistry in the common school course. More need of a little physiology there, too, to neutralize the fishology which the layman crammed down his throat on all occasions.

I'm warming up for the proper first aid management of a case of frostbite. Let's play you've coddled yourself along for years until you're pretty soft, and now being caught outdoors without your complete heating apparatus on a snappy day you've frozen your cheek or your ear. It first tingled with the cold, then it grew numb, and somebody noticed how blanched and white it looked. The traditional or almost classical thing to do, of course, is to rub it like everything with snow. But let's suppose it is such a mild winter that there is no snow handy. Wouldn't that be a dreadful predicament, indeed? Traditionally, yes, I suppose it would, but practically it would be all right. No snow is necessary. No cold is necessary. Just use some petroleum jelly or cold cream or sweet oil or anything that will serve as a simple lubricant, and gently knead and massage the ear or cheek until the blanching disappears—and then quit and call it a day, for you've done quite enough and if you rub just a little too much you'll cause more trouble than you're aiming to prevent.

As for the use of cold in the relief of frostbite, there is absolutely nothing but tradition to support that idea. Perhaps it grew out of the observation that a little too much vigor in the way of treatment often seemed to bring on inflammation or something. That is the danger of overdoing the thing—abrasion of the skin and infection and a subsequent inflammatory reaction.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Sage Advice.
 Kindly print your advice regarding the use of sage leaves for darkening the hair. (Anxious.)
 Answer.—Sage tea tends to darken the hair, but the effect is unsatisfactory when grey hair is concerned.
Grooved Finger Nails.
 Do grooved finger nails indicate T. B.? If not, what? I was told by some one who was informed by a specialist. (Miss H. B. E.)
 Answer.—No. Any severe illness may cause a line or groove across the nails, which line grows out in the months following the illness.
Rats in House.
 Recently purchased an old house. Throughout the building there is a strong odor as of dead rats in the walls. Is there any danger of contracting disease from such a condition, and can you suggest a way to remedy the trouble? (L. P.)
 Answer.—No danger of contracting disease. I know of no remedy except time, and a good cat to see that rats do their dying out in the open hereafter.

Government Literature.
 Please tell me where to apply for the Government literature on maternity and child care. (L. R. D.)
 Answer.—Send 5 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for a copy of Mrs. West's pamphlet "Pre-Natal Care," and 10 cents for a copy of Mrs. West's pamphlet "Infant Care," both publications issued by the Children's Bureau of the Labor Department.
 T. B.
 If you had T. B. and were told you would have to leave Detroit for the winter, which of the following places would you go to—Albuquerque, Silver City, Bermuda, Florida, Colorado, or San Antonio? (C. R. A.)
 Answer.—I'd go to the place my physician considered best for me. If anyone else told me I'd have to leave Detroit for the winter, I'd talk it over with my physician. Detroit is the place where the author of "How I Won the Battle With Tuberculosis in My Own Home" staged his successful fight. (Copyright Nat'l Newspaper Service)

TAKING PART IN FLEET MANEUVERS

Hal Clifton, Formerly of Elizabeth City, Now With the Marines in Winter Trip to the Tropics.

Charlotte, Feb. 20—Taking part in the greatest peacetime maneuvers ever held by the land, sea and air forces of the United States, Hal R. Clifton, formerly of Elizabeth City, is now on duty with a detachment of U. S. Marines in the West Indies. His name appears on the official list of Marines with the maneuver forces in the Caribbean. The maneuvers began early in January and will not be completed until the last battleship returns to its home port in May or June. Certain problems in connection with the defense of the Panama Canal and regular battle practice by the ships of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets are being held. Many of the operations are taking place in the vicinity of Culebra, one of a small group of islands in the Caribbean. Hal joined the Marine Corps at Norfolk, August 16, 1922, and is now with the 18 Company, 5th Regiment on the island of Culebra. He will return to his regular station, Quantico, Va., when the maneuvers are over.
