Jolly-Camping Party
Weatherbound at Virginia Beach a motor party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Spence and Mrs. Roland M. Sawyer turned their trip into a camping party at the cottage being built by Mr. Spence at the beach and had a jolly good time.

The party left here for Virginia Beach Monday morning, arriving in the afternoon as the storm was just swelling to the velocity of a gale. A seashore summer resort cottage has no facilities for fire except in the kitchen and in the kitchen the Spence cottage the party sought shelter from the cold, the wind, the rain and the snow, using it as dining room and sitting room and kitchen.

Judge Spence did not know how the ladies of the party would take it when they found they were weatherbound for several days; but instead of considering it hard luck these particular ladies showed themselves good sports and made a lark of it, cooking and washing dishes not only for themselves and Mr. Spence but also for the crew of carpenters at work on the building, who were also weatherbound by the storm.

Mr. Spence says his cottage will be completed by April 1 and ready for occupancy by the opening of the coming season. It has already been leased.

Literary Department Meets

The literary department of the Woman's Club met in the Southern Hotel parlors Thursday afternoon at five o'clock, and this was one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the year including the good attendance. The general topic of the afternoon was "Shall we join the Union?" The first paper by Mrs. E. E. Etheridge, was "How North Carolina Saved the Federal Constitution." The second paper, by Mrs. L. E. Skinner was entitled "North Carolina Changes Her Mind." The third paper was a biographical sketch of Samuel Johnston given by Mrs. S. C. Newbold. Mrs. J. G. Fearing gave an account of her visit to Raleigh to the Woman's Club luncheon which was greatly enjoyed. The next meeting will be held March 12 and the general topic for that date is "Education for Citizenship."

Give Silver Tea

A circle of the Ladies Auxiliary of Christ Church gave a silver tea Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. H. Robinson on East Main street, for the benefit of the Auxiliary from 4 to 6. The lovely rooms were beautifully and effectively decorated with carnations and other cut flowers. Sweets were sold consisting of crackers, candy and marmalade and the tea proved to be a success financially and socially.

Mrs. Jennings Entertains

Mrs. W. H. Jennings entertained her bridge club Friday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. F. Gilbert, on Pennsylvania Avenue. Mrs. J. Norman Whitehurst won the high score prize, silver hot plate mats, while the consolation, an embroidered towel, went to Mrs. L. C. Blades. After the game a salad course was served. The club members present were Mesdames J. Norman Whitehurst, L. C. Blades, T. B. Cooke, Pratt Fearing, C. W. Gaither, O. F. Gilbert, Clinnie Hayes, J. D. Hathaway, J. E. Hughes, F. G. Jacobs, Harry G. Kramer, J. J. Morris, T. T. Nelson, C. B. Williams; visitors were Mrs. M. P. Hite and Mrs. Roland Sawyer.

Fashion News Notes

Paris, March 1.—The Scotch tartans are being utilized today on little hats of black straw, a small straw turban has a scarf of Scotch plaid wound about it in an intricate and ingenious fashion, the colors showing beautifully against the black background.

Paris, March 1.—An incongruous little muff is part of the spring costume. It is a tiny, barrel shaped affair, calculated to give more chic than warmth.

London, March 1.—The swanky thing today is to have one's hand bag match one's hat. Thus a chapeau in black taffeta, embroidered with lacquer red, is accompanied by a black taffeta, red embroidered bag with red knots and tassels.

London, March 1.—You re-embroider some of your patterns if you wish to be a leader in styles today. A scarf, for example, with big roses in it, should have three or four of these somewhat dimly printed flowers re-embroidered in bright colors.

Palm Beach, March 1.—The handsomest of beach capes seen here today is a pale yellow affair of rubberized silk. It looks a little like a Spanish shawl, except that the big splash of circular decoration is made up of brilliantly colored fishes, swimming among gay coral branches.

New York, March 1.—Among the spring street pump styles is one made up entirely of narrow strips leather. These are varnished—or so they appear—and held in compact

SLEEPLESSNESS

Virginia Lady Says That Many of Her Long-Suffered Ills Have Fled Since She Took Cardui.

Bristol, Va.—"I can sleep good at night now, something I have never done before in my life," says Mrs. Deala Hawks, of 712 Prospect St., this city, "and it is due to Cardui."

"I was always nervous and tossed when I should have been asleep, but since I took Cardui it has strengthened me, and my general health is so improved that many of the ills from which I have suffered for years have fled."

"I used to go to bed tired and, when I would get up in the morning, I was still tired. Now I feel like doing a day's work in my garden or in the house, and I owe all this good health to Cardui, for I had suffered for years until I took it."

"I had had female trouble for years and ones, for six months, I was flat on my back. I am glad to recommend to other women a medicine which has helped me."

If you are nervous and run-down in health, suffering as Mrs. Hawks describes above, it is probable that Cardui will greatly help you. Try it.

Will Chiropractic Cure Tuberculosis, Bronchitis, Asthma, and other Diseases of the Organs of Breathing?

We never realize the importance of our organs of breathing until little by little we find our life sustaining breath cut off by a lung or bronchial disease. First the condition may start as acute bronchitis, cold on the lungs, "flu," or pneumonia which if not corrected in time will develop into chronic lung or bronchial trouble.

The old theory of tuberculosis being caused by germs has long since been exploded. The germ does not cause the disease any more than the buzzard causes the cow to die on the desert. Nor does the germ eat healthy tissue any more than the buzzard would eat a living cow. They are both scavengers and thrive only where there is proper food to eat. Just as there are buzzards circling the heavens daily over herds of living cattle without menace to the animals, there are hundreds of every variety of germ in the mouth of the healthiest person in this city which are of no more menace to the individual than the buzzards are to the living cattle.

Then, you ask, "What is the cause of tuberculosis?" The malady gets its name from the germ that happens to thrive upon decaying lung tissue—the tubercular bacillus. The decaying of the lung is an EFFECT back of which there must needs be a CAUSE. And this cause is the impairment of the nutritive function of the lungs by an impingement of the nutritive nerve. Deny food or nutrition to the baby and see what will happen. Its little body will waste away. Retard the nutritive supply to the lungs or the arm or to any other part of the body and see what will happen. If the germ caused tuberculosis, or any other disease, this world would be depopulated within a year. This malady is merely the manifestation of a certain degree of impingement of a certain class of nerves that ramify the lungs shutting off a certain degree of the life or nerve force from the lungs. Other degrees of impingement of certain classes of nerves supplying the lungs would result in pneumonia, susceptibility to colds and other lung inconductions.

ASTHMA is the manifestation of a certain degree of impingement of nerves leading to the bronchial tubes. The functions involved are motor and calorific. Interference with the motor nerves causes a spasmodic contraction of the muscular coat surrounding the smaller bronchial tubes, associated with a contraction of the largest muscle of breathing—the diaphragm. Interference with the calorific nerves causes the inflammation and swelling of the membranes of the bronchial tubes decreasing the size of the openings, which also tends to obstruct the air passages. There is often considerable exudate and some coughing resulting from the inflammation.

Medical science has acknowledged its absolute failure to cure asthma. In fact there is only one known thing that will cure this disease and that is CHIROPRACTIC. It is curing thousands of cases yearly.

Likewise medicine has proven a failure in the cure of tuberculosis. The public is rapidly awakening to the fact that it is useless to vaporize and serumize the EFFECT when the CAUSE is deeper seated than germs. The real CAUSE is the impingement of nerves that supply the lungs with nerve energy. Chiropractic is the only thing that will remove that CAUSE.

Chiropractic will cure all manner of diseases of the organs of breathing.
