Paris, March 4 — Monkey hair, pretty well crowded out by the season's novelties, never-the-less persists. Its latest use is as a barbaric sort of edging for pumps of gray suede.

London, March 4—Good news for the lady who hates to dawn. You may have your stockings painted on your limbs today, and they are said not to wash off except in warm water.

New York, March 4—Dull silver is a bright thought for spring. You see dull silver ear rings, which usually flatter the skin; dull silver buckles and buttons; and dull silver gowns.

New York, March 4 — The box coat that ends short of hip length is what the fashionable miss is likely to select today when picking a tailored suit. The pattern will probably be either a check or a hair line stripe; the plainer models are reserved for older women.

New York, March 4 — Many of the sashes now so popular for gowns of every sort have a dim, needle-work garland of big flowers upon them. The decoration looks as though copied from a medieval wall hanging.

New York, March 4 — A demure little wrist bag of envelope design now on view here is in mouse gray suede. It's very neat, trim lines are unrelieved by tassels or bangles. The one note of color is struck by a small, vivid enamelled brooch which serves as a clasp. The design is a Greek head.

New York, March 4 — Among the smart gloves for present wear are black kids with eyelet embroidered gauntlets. These gauntlets turn back smartly and are only four or five inches wide. White gloves in the same design are seen, as well as the favorite black and white mixtures.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swain motor-day with Mrs. Swain's mother, Mrs. Woodard to Norfolk Sunday and spent the W. W. Woodard.

St. Patrick's Party
The St. Patrick's Day idea and color scheme was charmingly carried out by Mrs. Shelton McMullan Jr., Saturday afternoon when she entertained her club. An artistic arrangement of white flowers and green foliage graced the rooms where the guests enjoyed an afternoon of bridge. Each of the players received a dainty doll head powder puff of green. Mrs. Joe Pinner was the fortunate holder of high score and received a pretty boudoir lamp and a bottle of perfume consoled Mrs. Howard Combs. The guests prizes, two attractive docrine compacts, were won by Miss Palmer Warren and Miss Pauline Skinner. At the completion of the game a delicious three course luncheon was served. Mrs. McMullan's guests included: Mesdames William Weatherly, Jr., Joe Pinner, Elwell Weatherly, Howard Combs, Alvin Haley, W. C. Dawson, Jr., Misses Olive Wood, Palmer Warren, Sue Grice, Pauline Skinner, Maude Palmer, and Lucille LeRoy.

Tom Nelson Entertains
A rollicking good party was given by Tom Nelson Friday night at his home on North Road street, and games and dancing were enjoyed by his friends. The color scheme of green and yellow was followed and attractive favors of little green baskets filled with candy were the mementoes of the happy time. On each basket was a little yellow bird. Ice cream, cake and candy were served. The guests were: Misses Elizabeth Creecy, Margaret Blades, Eleanor Lane, Katharine Mann, Helen Welis, Jean Houtz, Katherine Cartwright, Emily Davis, Helen Williams, Emily Hall Brock, Isabelle Munden; Messrs Rollins Daniels, Virginus Williams, Delbert Dudley, Carl Scarborough, Ward Thompson, and Chapman Nelson.

Double Birthday Party
A pretty double birthday party was given Friday evening by Mrs. J. C. Modlin in honor of Mrs. W. M. Combs of Norfolk and Sam Modlin at her home on Cypress street. The soft glow of many candles lighted the dining table on which were the two birthday cakes banked by fragrant spring flowers. Music played during the evening added much to the pleasure of the guests. After the games which were the feature of entertainment, a delightful ice course was served. The guests invited to honor the occasion were: Mesdames Sam Belanga, W. S. Cheson, Cliff Ward, M. C. Sawyer, D. W. Williams, Misses Margaret Cooper, Eleanor Kerr, Dollie Maston, Eunice Sylvester, Odell Long, Queenie White, Stella Whaley, Messrs Leo Lewis Russel Hill, Frazier Miller, Graham Moore, Jarvis Cooper, George Swindell, Earnest White, Noah Seymour, and J. C. Modlin.

Entertains At Bridge
Mrs. W. J. Woodley, Jr., entertained the Monday Afternoon Bridge Club at her home on Church street. A salad course was served after the game. Those playing were Mesdames Calvin Twiddy, Miles Clark, George Beveridge, Misses Anna Whitehurst, Evelyn Jones, Virginia Kramer, Helen Wood and Minnie Hussey of Norfolk.

Rangers Enjoy Movies
The Rangers, instead of their regular Saturday afternoon meeting, had a most entertaining evening Friday, when with Rev. Daniel Lane, they went in a body of 15 members to the pictures shown at the First Methodist Church. Each boy expressed a desire to go again.

Junior Choir Meets
An important meeting of the Junior Choir of Christ Church is called to meet in the Church Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. "All members please be prompt," says the leader.

Lee-Cooke
Miss Erma Cooke and Mr. William Lee, both of Norfolk, were married Monday morning at 11 o'clock in the Southern Hotel parlors. Several friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony and the entire wedding party left immediately for Norfolk by motor.

Bishop Darst Coming
Rt. Rev. T. C. Darst, D. D. will make a visit to Elizabeth City on the last Sunday in March. He will conduct the morning and evening services and hold the confirmation service.
