

FROST DID NO GREAT DAMAGE IN PASQUOTANK

PEAS DELAYED BUT SLIGHTLY

And Potatoes Sprouting Out of the Ground as Green as Though Cold Had but Added to Their Vigor.

There is nothing to the talk about ruined truck crops in and around Pasquotank County according to those who have made trips into the country during the past week and seen the green things emerging from the soil. The proof of the crop is in the seeing.

Shelton Scott for one believes that the peas if injured at all by the recent frost will be delayed only a few days in maturity. It is unlikely, however, in his opinion that any difference at all will be apparent. As for the potatoes, Mr. Scott believes that 95 per cent of the planted seed are still alive and thriving.

N. T. Aydlett who returned from a trip into Currituck County this week says he was surprised to see sweet potato shoots in the hot beds up to considerable height and growing fast. The Irish potatoes are also in a thriving condition in Currituck, he says.

W. C. Glover reports that a good acreage of potatoes in this County is sprouted above the ground. He believes that the peas are not damaged more than perhaps two days delay.

The main source of trouble from peas, according to consensus of opinion, is failure to get a good stand. Some growers lost two bags out of nine while others lost one out of two on account of unfavorable conditions, such as stiff soil, which prevented the peas from sprouting. There may be some loss from not sprouting but there is little or no damage from cold or frost, according to Buxton White.

Not only are the peas all right and growing well but the opinion of the majority is that they will demand a good price this year. Perhaps the loss in stand will boost the value of the crop enough to compensate for it.

KUDZU IS GREAT FEED FOR CATTLE

So Says Superintendent Pritchard of Foreman Stock Farms Who Knows What He's Talking About.

Kudzu may not sound like much of anything other than a term, used in playing mah-jongg but it is great stuff for the cattle according to Superintendent Pritchard of the Foreman Stock Farm, where an acre of the oddly named feed will be planted this year by way of experiment.

Mr. Pritchard says the Kudzu takes root along its joints like a potato vine and keeps going like the well known brook.

The Foreman farm will have a large acreage in alfalfa this year, according to Mr. Pritchard.

Alfalfa has not been grown so extensively in this section as the results would warrant. Perhaps if more farmers could compare the value of the alfalfa crop per acre with that of other crops there would be more of it planted in this vicinity.

County Agent Falls says alfalfa will yield 4 tons to the acre equal in food value to 4 times that amount of grass hay. In order to get the same value in stock feed it would be necessary to raise at least 15 tons per acre of grass hay.

Both Mr. Falls and Mr. Pritchard agree that alfalfa pays, even though it has to be planted over every year.

FARMERS HUSTLE IN LATE SPRING

And Now's Time It's Mighty Easy to Bite Off in Spring-time More Than They Can Chew in Summer Says Falls

Spring is late this year. The weather during March has been decidedly unfavorable to the preparation of lands in the Albemarle for cotton and other crops. It follows that April will be a rushing month with the farming gentry and that if heavy acreage of cotton is planted there will be a congestion of work during the summer that will throw many behind schedule.

Reduce the acreage, says Dr. R. Y. Winters state plant breeding agronomist, and there are many who agree with him. "Unless the farmers have an area under cultivation small enough to allow of careful cultivation they will probably find, with labor scarce, that they have bitten off more than they can properly masticate," says Grover Fall, County farm agent. It is equally important that improved seed for both cotton and corn be planted. In the opinion of Mr. Falls who quotes figures compiled by

G. Etheridge Monday. Clayton Williams of Belcross was in this section Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Etheridge motored to Elizabeth City Tuesday night.

H. A. Morrisette has purchased a Ford touring car.

the State Agricultural Department to show the advantage to be gained through the use of better seed.

In 119 tests carried on in 42 counties the Department found that the average increase in yield is 91 pounds of lint per acre. This means a profit of $27.30 per acre, or it means that a farmer could afford to pay $20 per bushel for seed, whereas the cost is only about $2.

In 25 tests of corn seed it was found that the yield was increased on an average of eight bushels per acre.

Into The Attic

FEW youngsters today ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Their education is as modern as the advertisements they see. They have no more use for the lamp and chimney of yesterday than you for the wick and tallow of the day before.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavery. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Read the advertisements regularly. Keep alert to the new.
