Mrs. Morris Entertains

The Friday afternoon club which had been discontinued during the Lenten season was started again Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. J. Morris of Weeksville, the charming hostess. "Westmoreland" was lovely with dogwood, yellow jessamine, and violets and after an interesting afternoon of bridge, two delicious courses were served, a chicken salad course followed by an ice course. Attractive compacts were the top score prizes; Mrs. Pratt Fearing, winning the club prize and Miss Sue Grice the guest prize. The two low scores prizes were boxes of dainty handkerchiefs; won by Mrs. J. D. Hathaway, club member, and Mrs. L. E. Skinner, guest. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Morris were: club members Mesdames J. N. Whitehurst, T. T. Nelson, J. D. Hathaway, Warren Pinner, L. B. Jennette, J. G. Fearing, Pratt Fearing, M. L. Sanderlin, guests: Mesdames F. G. Jacobs, L. E. Skinner, Clinnie Hayes, C. W. Gaither, W. P. Skinner, T. B. Cooke, W. H. Weatherly, Jr., Elwood Weatherly, Aubrey McCabe, Joe Pinner, Patti Sanderlin Appleby and Robert Fearing.

Miss Sheep Entertains

Another of the regular clubs starting after the season of Lent, was attractively entertained by Miss Margaret Sheep, Saturday afternoon at her home, 301 West Main street. Sprays of dainty white spirea decorated the home and at the completion of the bridge game, a delightful salad course was served. The top score prize was won by Mrs. Walter Small, who received a pretty string of beads. Those enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. Walter Small, Thorburn Bennett, Cecil Garrett, Harold Foreman, Frank Kramer, Edward Griffin, Buxton White, Aubrey McCabe, Miss Sue Grice, Miss Nell Wood, and the guests of the club, Mrs. Calvin Morrisette, Misses Winnie Boseman, Hattie Harney, Virginia Kramer, and Helen Wood.

S. A. C. Club Picnics

The S. A. C. members were entertained in a novel and very attractive way by Miss Phillips McMullan at her home 405 Pennsylvania Avenue, Saturday afternoon. When the guests arrived they were presented with pretty Easter baskets filled with delicious picnic lunch. Then they went out in the back yard and had a lovely picnic where rugs had been spread under the green shade trees. The club members present were Misses Clara Thompson, Glenna Glover, Julia Skinner, Martha Outlaw and Flora Johnson.

Fifth Birthday

Miss Mary Leigh Gaither entertained Saturday afternoon at her home on West Church street in honor of her fifth birthday. The feature of the afternoon's fun was an Easter egg hunt. Games followed, among which was the delightful game of pinning the tail on the donkey. Gay colored balloons were dropped from the second story and caught by the children for favors. A birthday cake with lighted candles and other refreshments were served and ended a happy afternoon. Those enjoying the afternoon were: Lillian Small, Virginia Worth, Jessie Skinner, Margaret Turner, Virginia Newbern, Frances Newbern, Jannet Cartwright, Eleanor Foreman, Virginia Blanke, Faith Hite, Barbara Hite, Frances Wells, Matilda Ehringhaus, Billie Melick, Helen Gaither, Brandon Markley, Haughton Ehringhaus, Billy Robinson, C. H. Robinson Jr., William Peters, Jr., Frank Kramer Jr., Kenyon Wilson Jr., Edward Hughes Jr., John Wood Foreman, Edward Griffin Jr., Francis Grice, and Walter Small Jr.

Gives Peanut Hunt

Frank Kramer Jr., entertained at a peanut hunt Friday afternoon at his home on West Main street and Jessie Skinner was the fortunate winner and received a pretty fan as prize. Frances Moran was the lucky boy and received a ball. The booby prize was won by Miss Sarah Williams who received a cricket. After numerous games, ice cream and cake were served and each guest was given a basket of candy as a memento. Those present were: Eleanor Foreman, Dorothy Kramer, Margaret Turner, Carolyn Kramer, Isa Moran, Isabelle Jennette, Margaret Kramer, Sarah Williams, Florence Ballard, Mildred Mann, Lillian Small, Mary Leigh Gaither, Virginia Worth, Jean Armstrong, Jessie Skinner, Helen Kendrick, Frances Moran, Richard Kendrick Jr., George Wright Jr., Sydney White, Frank Grice Jr., Edward Davis, Urner G. Davis Jr., Williams Peters, Jr., Kenyon Wilson Jr., Calvin Morrisette Jr., Edward Griffin Jr., Harry Kramer Jr., and Edward Hughes Jr.

Two Bit Social

The C. F. W. Circle of the missionary of Blackwell Memorial Church gave an interesting and unique program at a two bit social Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Weeks, 326 West Main street. The feature of the entertainment was the "Silent Church" where the motions of the service were carried out without a word. The orchestra without music caused much merriment and the whole thing was thoroughly enjoyable and amusing. A clever guessing contest followed after which a delicious ice course was served.

Newbegin Societies Meet

The Missionary and Aid Societies of Newbegin church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. S. Palmer at Simons Creek. There was a large attendance of members and also of visitors. The members present were Mrs. R. D. Raper, Jr., Mrs. A. J. Jennings, Mrs. W. T. Phinizy, Mrs. J. L. Brothers, Mrs. Frank Brothers, Mrs. R. H. Palmer, Mrs. M. C. Stanley, Jr., Mrs. S. M. Brothers, Sr., Mrs. Oscar Jackson, Mrs. John Pendleton, Mrs. J. F. Jennings. The visitors were: Mrs. John White, Mrs. George Overman, Mrs. M. C. Stanley, Sr., and Mrs. W. B. Sanders. Three members were added to the Aid Society, and one to the Missionary and three babies to the cradle roll. The devotional services were opened with the old familiar hymn "Work for the Night is Coming," scripture reading by Mrs. S. M. Brothers and roll call and minutes by the secretary, Mrs. J. F. Jennings. After the devotional exercises a social hour was enjoyed and ice cream and cake were served by the hostess. Before leaving the crowd gathered on the front lawn where Mrs. Oscar Jackson took kodak pictures of the society.

Fashion News Notes

Copyright, 1924, by The Advance

Paris, April 29—Garters are becoming more and more bizarre. One favorite type today is of frilly black and gold satin, with a medallion to each garter. One medallion represents pierrot and the other pierrette.

Paris, April 29.—An American Indian is very evidently the model for a new evening head dress shown here today. Composed of gilded vulture feathers, it stands up high and stiff around the back of the head.

London, April 29.—A shade exceedingly popular just now is amber gold. It is a beautifully soft golden tint, and much favored by the queen, to whom—as to most blondes—it is very becoming.

London, April 29.—The little corintian flower—a Roumanian importation which heralded the visit of the Roumanian rulers—has been copied in white velvet and is now a favorite.

rite decoration for dance dresses. It is employed in rather large knots on shoulder and hip.

New York, April 29.—Among the smart evening slippers, a welcome addition to the gold and silver and brocade, is the pump of "blonde" satin. It has a somewhat pointed toe and a high french heel.

New York, April 29.—Some of the smart gloves now are in black with cut out patterns on the cuff, and a white, green or red lining showing through. In many cases the cuff is turned back on itself in a double cuff effect.
