Mrs. Burgess Entertains
Mrs. E. T. Burgess attractively entertained Tuesday evening at her home 222 North Road street, in honor of Mrs. R. L. Whitecomb, who leaves soon to join her husband at Rockingham; Misses India Bartlett and Anna Polkoff, who have been teaching here for the past school term and will leave soon for their homes. Cut flowers used in profusion added much to the decorations and during the evening tempting refreshments were served by the hostess. The guests were in the gayest and happiest of moods and many cordial words were passed over the 10 card tables.

Entertains at Bridge
Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodley Jr. delightfully entertained the Six Table Bridge Club at their home on North Road street Wednesday evening. Quantities of spring flowers placed throughout the rooms filled them with fragrance and beauty. Miss Pauline Skinner was the winner of the lady's prize and Dr. Julian Selig of the men's for highest score. At the completion of many interesting games a delicious ice course was served by the hostess. Those playing were: Misses Olive Wood, Pauline Skinner and Lescelles Griffin; Messrs Hubert Toxey, Carlton Woodley, John Pinner and Dr. Julian Selig; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Woodley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Miles Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weatherly, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Toxey, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. McMullan, Jr.

Mrs. Combs Hostess
Mrs. H. J. Combs was the charming hostess to her Two Table Club Saturday morning at her home on West Main street. A delicious sandwich course was served and Mrs. T. S. McMullan Jr. won the prize for top score. Those present were: Mesdames T. S. McMullan, Jr., Mac McMullan, Joseph Pinner, W. C. Dawson, Alvin Haley, Misses Ivy Wahlbach of Philadelphia, Olive Wood, Lucile LeRoy and Katherine Spence.

Juniors Entertained
The High School faculty and the Junior class of the Elizabeth City High School were beautifully entertained by the president of the class, William Perry, at his home, 308 North Road street Wednesday evening. The color scheme, white and purple, was effectively carried out in the decorations and refreshments. Quantities of white roses attractively placed throughout the house filled the rooms with perfume and dainty pieces of white ribbon on which was written '25, the year the class graduates, were given as souvenirs for the occasion. A large purple and white box with '25 carved on it hung over the entrance of the porch and as the guests entered the door the letters of their motto, "Onward and Upward" were written in purple on white. The occasion was very much enjoyed. Games were played; bridge, rook, 500 and flinch. Dancing on the porch was also one of the special features. The porch was lovely in Japanese lanterns and evergreen. Purple and white ice cream, lollipops and punch were the appetizing refreshments served. The guests included Supt. S. L. Sheep, Principal A. B. Combs, Frank Dwight, R. T. Ryland, Ralph Holmes, George Sherrill, Misses Alene Edwards, Nell Pickard, Minna Pickard, Beatrice Cantrel, Janie Wall, Myrtle Paulk, Sara Spearman, Hester Newton and Annie Polkoff, teachers of the faculty; Misses Eloise Aydtlett, Marguerite Benbury, Sallie Bright, Minnie Lee Brockett, Hettie Brothers, Edna Mae Cox, Margaret Davis, Mildred Dozier, Dorothy Gard, Ruth Harrell, Ruth Harris, Catherine Hathaway, Eunice Hayman, Camilla Hopkins, Mary Horner, Mary Louise James, Camilla Jennette, Anna Johnson, Josephine Lambert, Shellen Lewis, Reta Lowry, Annie Midgett, Hilda Nooney, Louise Carl-law, Myrtle Ownley, Mabel Pearson, Grace Pendleton, Margaret W. Sawyer, Margaret E. Entertains Club
The Two Table Club was attractively entertained by Mrs. T. S. McMullan Tuesday afternoon at her home on West Main street. A pleasant afternoon was spent playing and at the end of the games scores were counted and Miss Lucile LeRoy won the top score. A delicious ice course was served after the games. Mrs. McMullan's guests included Mesdames H. J. Combs, Alvin Haley, W. C. Dawson, Joseph Pinner, Mac

McMullan; Misses Ivy Wahlbach of Philadelphia, Olive Wood and Lucile LeRoy.

Good Mothers Meeting
The Mothers Club heard an interesting talk Wednesday afternoon by Rev. H. W. Bowen on "Take this child and raise it for me." Twelve mothers were present and ten babies were weighed. Mrs. Maggie Blount and Mrs. Crane, leaders of the Girls Club presented $5 for the Community Building made by the girls. Little Miss Inez Perry made the presentation speech. Fifteen patterns were distributed for use in sewing. A secretary's book was given the club by Mrs. J. G. Fearing who made a talk on "Safety First" and also welcomed the club into the State Federation.

Attending Commencement
Mrs. J. T. McCabe is attending the commencement exercises at Notre Dame College, Baltimore, where her daughter, Miss Margaret McCabe graduates this year with the A. B. Degree. In addition to graduating with distinction, Miss McCabe won high honors on field day this week.

SEWING CONTEST FOR GIRLS JUNE SEVENTH

Pasquotank Home Demonstration girls will participate in a sewing contest on Saturday, June 7, with a number of prizes going to the lucky seamstresses.

For several months these girls have been skillfully plying their needles under the supervision of the Home Demonstration Agent of Pasquotank County, and on the day appointed at 2.30 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce rest rooms they will meet and place on exhibit two specimens of their hand work.

The judges will be Miss Eliza Knight, Home Demonstration Agent for Chowan County, and Miss Helen
