Folks that tell ever'thing they know wouldn't be so bad if they didn't work in a lot o' stuff they don't know. Bein' public spirited don't count unless woman a home an' pay taxes.

An Important Event

The opening of the road across the Dismal Swamp Canal, connecting Pasquotank and Gates counties, will be an event of far reaching importance to Elizabeth City.

With this road open, Sunbury will be within one hour of Elizabeth City, while Gatesville will be only a half hour farther from the Queen City of the Albemarle.

Not only will this road add Gates County in large part to Elizabeth City's trade territory, but also it will open to Pasquotank a direct road to the State capital by way of Winton.

When this road is opened next fall, Elizabeth City ought to stage a celebration at which its neighbors in Gates would be guests of honor.

Josiah William Bailey's campaign will do more to set people thinking than McLean's; but at that we rather incline to the opinion that the Robeson man would make the better Governor. However, this is one gubernatorial contest that The Advance has found itself unable to get excited over. You can pay your taxes and take your choice.

"Well, you can't be far hurt either way," Judge Henry G. Connor was heard to remark at Raleigh the other day when told by an Elizabeth City man that the Congressional race seemed to be between Aydlett and Warren. That being so, surely it's time for some county other than Beaufort to have the Congressman from this district.

Another timely squib from Os Coffin, and as applicable in Elizabeth City as in Raleigh: "We don't see how anybody can go to bed at night without having looked over a good afternoon newspaper." The occasion for this remark from the Times editor was the News and Observer's sober query: "Ought people to read the newspapers?"

The Raleigh Times averred some months since that time would tell whether or not the subsidence of the State's floating road in Camden was as serious as had been reported by this newspaper or not. Well, time has told.

"First District has all the fun: its two leading candidates have staged a joint debate at Mann's Harbor," avers the Raleigh Times. The affectionate way Os Coffin talks about us, one would think that he was bred and born down this way.
