first shipment from Eastern North Carolina is believed to have been made from Currituck County Thursday. About 50 barrels went in the first lot which was routed by way

Griggs, manager of the Carolina Potato Exchange who returned from that county on Friday morning. The patches were located at Grandy and Coinjock. Currituck potatoes as usual are a little earlier than those in this coun-perishable when shipped. Mr. Griggs attended a meeting of the members of the Carolina Potato Exchange Thursday night in Curri-tuck. He urged them to try machine graders this year. After the confer-ence which lasted until after 11 o'-clock it was agreed to put the grad-ers to a test and Mr. Griggs was authorized to purchase eight. Fri-day morning he ordered the graders from Spence Hollowell Company and will have them shipped immediately. Mr. Griggs found the situation of

There will be a fairly good crop there, he again the majority of the potatoes to serve to ship at present to were the believes. Such Carolina is tuning a little fore to the North Carolina crop this season. The price in that state is around $5 f. o. b. Many are shipp-den consignment however as the demand is not strong. It is expected that the North Caro-four carolina figure. If the grow-ers wait until June 10 to dig the practically as high a price as that down general in South Carolina, an-less something unforseen happens. The potato market is not to be relied pon and no sure estimate can be made even one day in advance. The gone houses in Elizabeth City are hoping and expecting an opening at $4 f. o. b. however.

GIVES DEMONSTRATION OF ALFALFA GROWING

J. H. Aydlett, whose farm is in Nixonton Township cut the crop of alfalfa from his demonstration acre this week. The yield is considered to be very good at two tons, worth $20 a ton or $60 per acre for the first cutting. Mr. Aydlett used 2 tons of lime on his acre and seeded with 25 pounds of seed which he innocula-ted.

County Agent Falls considers this demonstration as one more proof of the adaptability of this section for the adaptability of this section for partialize growing. The deep soils of Portsmouth and Norfolk series are favorable he says. Innoculation is essential to good yield and the use of lime is highly beneficial, says Mr.

There is a report that "Farmers will make a great mis-take to dig their potatoes too soor" said S. G. Scott, of Brock & Scott, Friday. "If they go to the markets too green they will turn black on the way and will bring low prices and ruin the market. I believe it will be better for the markets to there feel as Mr. Scott does that it will be better for the markets but from all reports there are some who will not wait that long. A number of potatoes have been brought to town for exhibition. They are about the size of goose eggs and some larger. The potatoes shown are good sizes for the table but their preishable when shipped. One of the best records for a high yield on the May pea crop is reported on a two acre field raised by T. G. Griggs of Point Harbor. Mr. Griggs produced 308 baskets on a planting of 2 bags. The average yield is about 50 to 1 and rarely over 100 to 1. Mr. Griggs yield averages 154 to 1. This is con-sidered quite an accomplishment for this Currituck County farmer.

BIG STRAWBERRY CROP

Onancock, Va., May 31 .--- Straw-rries in tremendous shipments will be moving from the eastern shore of Virginia to northern markets by the end of the month. Northampton county will have the largest crop in its history. The crop in the Del-marvia peninsula will total 35,000,-000 guarts. 000 quarts.
