ABE MARTIN

Suppose one does become an expert golfer, then what? It takes a feller quite a while to act natural in an automobile, but his women folks sink in' th' cushions like they wuz born an' raised in a car.

Primary please you?

Did your man win?

Business of extending congratulations to Aubrey McCabe on McLean's fine vote in Pasquotank.

Nice to have a day of rest after the primary, but mighty tough to find no barber shop open and the eating places all closed up.

If gubernatorial primaries came more often, we little newspaper men out in the sticks would get on to how to handle 'em. And most of us would go broke.

Many thanks for the expressions of appreciation coming our way for the extra issued by The Advance Sunday morning. It gave to Elizabeth City later returns than any other newspaper reaching the city until Monday.

Change in System Needed

The Advance did its best to give the Old Home Town real service on primary night, and but for the slow count of returns in this and other counties would have given as complete figures in its extra Sunday morning as are given today.

But here in Elizabeth City, for instance, it was midnight before the First Ward poll holders began counting the State ticket.

It seems to The Advance that arrangements ought to be made whereby two or more tickets can be counted at the same time. For instance, if somebody had begun counting the State ticket in the First Ward at the same time that the County ticket was begun, both tickets could have been finished by midnight. And while these tickets were being counted the State Senate and Congressional tickets could also have been counted by some one else.

Perhaps there is no way to do this under existing law but what's to hinder changing a law that becomes outworn and out of date.
