

Rudderless The Democrats Are Just Trusting To Fate

Still Groping in Dark With Only Chance That Compromise Candidate Backed by All Except McAdoo's Diminished Forces May be Affected

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 8.—Rudderless and without concerted action, the Democratic National Convention is drifting today in the hope that some process of mental telepathy will make 732 hearts beat as one and make a nomination.

But the chances of a stamped selection have grown remote. Four score ballots have taken the emotion as well as the element of surprise out of the 1,098 delegates and the old fashioned idea of starting a "drive" without prearranged agreement is proving futile.

The early balloting today showed clearly that the delegates are groping in the dark and will not get any votes until all the leaders sit down in a conference and after canvassing the situation reach an actual compromise agreement.

There is, of course, a good deal of talk about second choices. Some of the Smith men are feeling out McAdoo delegates on the subject of John W. Davis of West Virginia. There seemed to be also a tendency to throw votes to Senator Ralston of Indiana whose drive started late yesterday and continued sluggishly today. It probably will not succeed as Ralston does not as yet captivate the imagination of the delegates. After Ralston has had his fling, the plan is to try out Senator Robinson of Arkansas and possibly Senator Underwood of Alabama. Most of the strength of Senator Carter Glass is in the McAdoo camp where just at present the disposition is not to start compromise drives but to stand pat.

The balloting, however, is having a significant effect. The morale of the McAdoo forces is diminishing. At the same time it is becoming apparent to the Smith managers that they cannot go much higher than their present totals. They have some reserve strength and believe that when the McAdoo delegates are distributed over a wide field of favorite sons, the only cohesive block left in the convention will be that of Governor Smith and that persistence alone will win out in the end.

Today's balloting will probably force the selection of a compromise. Hitherto the McAdoo men have not been ready to confer on the subject though the Smith leaders have been so inclined. If McAdoo should be unable to regain his earlier strength—it is doubtful now whether he will go much over 400 again—the end of the convention may then be expected.

All that has really been deadlocking the meeting has been a conviction that through some method—either the abrogation of the two-thirds rule or a last minute conversion of the favorite sons—the McAdoo forces would be victorious. There is evidence that the Smith people began to realize the hopelessness of their case several days ago.

The determination of McAdoo at present is to stick, refusing to enter a compromise conference or to release his delegates. It would then require a coalition of all the favorite sons delegates and the Smith people to bring about a nomination. Since the McAdoo strength slumped to a point well below one-third, the nominating power may now be said to be vested in the hands of the remaining candidates. Efforts to get them together are proceeding. Members of the Senate and House are active in the negotiations and something tangible may be worked out before tonight.

At the moment John W. Davis' chances seem brighter than ever. William Jennings Bryan alone has vetoed the selection, but his strength was in the McAdoo camp and if McAdoo drops to a low total, the tendency will be to desert Bryan. There is also no love lost in the Smith camp for Bryan and if Bryan alone stood between the Smith forces and a nomination he would be overruled. It is doubtful whether Ralston can ultimately win the Smith vote, for while he has repeatedly denied that he is in any way connected with the Ku Klux Klan, his opponents here have managed to tag him with that label.

HIGHWAY BODY WANTS $45,000

One-Third of This Amount to Retire Old Debt and About One-Third Remainder for Knobbs Creek Bridge

A resolution presented to the County Commissioners Monday by the Board of County Highway Commissioners requesting an appropriation of $30,000 for road activities including the construction of a bridge over Knobbs Creek on Pennsylvania Avenue was sent back to the highway body with a request for an itemized statement of what the money is to be spent for.

The resolution also requested that money be provided for the payment of a note for $15,000 which is outstanding, making a total of $45,000 for road purposes as compared with an average of a little more than $20,000 for the last three years. Exact figures are: For 1921 $27,468, for 1922 $20,900, and for 1923 $19,294. These figures include an annual reduction of $5,000 on the County's outstanding indebtedness for roads incurred under the chain gang regime. Last year's road tax was 18 cents on the $100 valuation of property and it is estimated that to raise the required amount the levy for road tax would have to be raised to 25 cents on the $100 property valuation.

In regard to the bridge over Knobbs Creek the County Commissioners went on record as favoring the abandonment of the project, in view of the belief that this bridge has ceased to serve the public since the abandonment of Lamb's Ferry.

The collectors for dog taxes appointed are as follows: for Elizabeth City, B. F. Emmett; for Salem township, J. M. Jennings; for Mt. Hermon township, J. C. Russell; and for Providence township, B. F. Pritchard.

The report of the County health officer presented at the meeting indicates that there are five cases of measles and 4 cases of typhus which have been properly quarantined. The jail and County Home were reported to be in sanitary condition. Some minor matters including the release of taxes in individual cases were presented to the board. The board will meet again on next Monday to consider the equalization of taxes.

The jurors for the July-August term of court are as follows: M. C. Jackson, K. R. Winslow, L. B. Bateman, W. P. Davis, S. J. Cartwright, C. W. White, J. D. Fitchet, G. W. Fisher, J. A. Luton, M. G. Sanders, Caleb Raper, C. W. Ward, F. L. Saunders, W. G. Davis, L. S. Nixon, E. E. Holloman, Grandy Britte, A. G. James, John W. Trueblood, Francis Nixon, C. W. Davis, A. C. Baum, C. L. Whitehurst, J. DAVENPORT SUCCEEDS

Police Officer J. E. Tarkington, suspended from the city police force by Chief Gregory recently but who took his case to the City Council, notwithstanding the fact that Chief Gregory's action had the backing of City Manager Bray, lost out in his petition for reinstatement when the appointment of A. H. Davenport to succeed Police Officer Tarkington was confirmed by the Council in regular session Monday night.

There were no charges against Mr. Tarkington except that he was temperamentally unsuited for the duties of a police officer. Councilman Gordon voted to give Tarkington another chance but the motion received no second.

SEALED BID AUCTION IS SOMETHING NEW

Four Elizabeth City Merchants Offer Bargain to Stimulate the Summer Trade

Something really new is the Sealed Bid Auction of a piano, a Ford roadster, a gas range and a diamond ring being conducted this week by four Elizabeth merchants as a novel method of advertising.

Each of the articles offered in the auction was selected from stock merchandise in particular demand at this season and it is expected that bidding will be heavy on all. The regular selling price of each article is advertised in an announcement of the auction in this issue of The Daily Advance.

Those who are interested in the purchase of any one of the articles should visit the store where it is on display, inspect it, estimate what it is worth, to him, write his bid on the coupon which is printed in the announcement, and deposit his bid with the merchant.

Bidding will be continued all this week until Saturday. Anyone is privileged to make a bid and all will be considered. There are no conditions to the auction except in the event that no serious bids are made on any one of the articles that the bids, if entirely frivolous and not representing the wholesale cost of the goods, may be rejected. Otherwise the high bidder will receive the merchandise at his own price which may be considerably below the market value.

The articles offered are: A handsome diamond ring in a white gold setting valued at $65, now on display at Louis Selig's, "Your Jeweler since 1882."

A rebuilt Ford roadster, 1922 model, with new top, and in first rate condition all round, valued at $215 on display at the Martin street warehouse of the Auto & Gas Engine Works.

A new Chambers gas range which may be used as an ordinary gas range or as a fireless cooker, on display at M. G. Morrisette's, the Main Street

COURT CONTINUES CASE HOPING FOR ADJUSTMENT

Mrs. Alice Archbell had her husband, Ben Archbell, in court Tuesday morning to answer a charge of abandonment and non support, but the action was continued by the court when evidence disclosed that the husband had not ceased to provide for his family but had only walked out when his wife's nagging became, it appeared to him, unbearable.

The court continued prayer for judgment in the hope that the disagreement, which arose over some trivial household matter, might be patched up.

Leon Overton for assault on Dan Agerson, was let off with the costs. Both are colored.

John T. Bell and Queenie May Pallen, both colored, were fined $10 and costs on a charge of prostitution. Charles T. Riddick, colored, failing to list taxes, was taxed taxes and costs.

Calvin Coolidge, Jr., Dies At Walter Reed Hospital

Sixteen-Year-Old Son of President and Mrs. Coolidge Fought Bravely Until the End Which Came at 11 O'clock Monday Night

Washington, July 8.—Death once more has cast its shadow over the White House, claiming Calvin, Jr., 16-year-old son of the President.

The courageous struggle of five days that stood off the final claim of acute blood poisoning ended last night. The younger son of the President died at Walter Reed Hospital where he had lain in his desperate fight for life since he was removed there last Saturday in order that every resource of medical science might be employed.

Wasted in strength by the ravaging spread of septic poison that resulted from an almost unnoticed blister which developed on his foot while playing tennis a week ago, the youth fought a futile battle throughout yesterday. Losing ground steadily he yet amazed physicians by the tenacity with which he clung to the slender thread of life and his fortitude under the suffering of the complications that attended the spread of the disease.

He collapsed early in the night and death occurred at 10:30.

Washington, July 8.—Calvin Coolidge, Jr., son of President and Mrs. Coolidge, died at Walter Reed Hospital shortly before eleven o'clock last night from septic poisoning brought on by a blister on the foot from playing tennis.

Funeral arrangements had not been made early today. The boy, who was 16 years old, made a game fight against the disease but was unable to stand off the poison which permeated his entire system.

Tentative plans for the funeral were understood to include a simple service at the White House at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the body then to be taken to Northampton, Massachusetts, the Coolidge home, where another service will be held with burial Thursday at Plymouth, Vermont, where the President was born.

SENDS SYMPATHY TO PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

When the news of the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., reached here Tuesday morning Mayor W. Ben Goodwin telegraphed the following message of sympathy from Elizabeth City to the Chief Executive of the Nation:

President Calvin Coolidge, White House, Washington, D. C.

Our entire community hereby expresses to you and family its sincere sympathy in the affliction which has befallen you. May an All Wise Providence enable you to bear the sorrow bravely is our prayer.

W. BEN GOODWIN, Mayor, Elizabeth City, North Carolina.

Slide Toward Ralston Ends Afternoon Session

With Solid Votes of Oklahoma, Nevada, Missouri and Kansas Picked Up, Besides Smaller Groups, Indiana Senator Ranks Third With Nearly Two Hundred Votes

(By The Associated Press)

COWS ARE BANNED FROM THIS CITY

After December 31, 1924, They Must Hide Themselves Back to the Farm Unless Council Rescinds Action.

Cows will be banished from Elizabeth City on and after December 31, 1924, under an ordinance passed by the City Council in regular session Monday night. The ban was put on long ago, and, in view of the growth of the town and the difficulty of keeping premises where a cow is kept in sanitary condition, especially in wet weather, four members of the Council and the Mayor deemed it in line with progress to put the cow out of the city limits also.

Dairies once flourished in the heart of Elizabeth City, but an end was put to these during the war when the City Council enacted an ordinance limiting the number of cows that might be kept by a family to one. This was later amended so as to permit two cows to be kept and the result was, with the dairies in the city abolished and with no dairy of any size outside the city, one and two-cow dairies sprang up all over town and flourished. More recently the Oak Grove dairy has been established just outside the City limits and, with paved roads into the city, farmers are now devoting more attention to dairying. It is felt, therefore, with virtually six months notice given, that the putting of cows out of the town will in no wise jeopardize the city's milk supply.

Another reason that led the City Council to incline toward putting the family cow out of the city limits was the difficulty found in enforcing the ordinance as it stood, as the same family would contrive, in some instances, by keeping one cow in a neighbor's lot, to have really more than the number allowed; while in other instances, with more than one family occupying the same house, more than two cows were kept in the same lot.

Even at that, however, and with the city health officer urging the enactment of the ban on cows because there are now "more flies in Elizabeth City than ever before in its history" sentiment of the Council for and against the ordinance was evenly divided and it required a vote from the mayor to break the tie and pass the ordinance. Those voting for the ordinance were Councilmen Gordon, Weatherly, Ferree and Kramer, while those voting against it were Councilmen Anderson, Foreman, Cohoon and Hughes.

The ordinance will take effect on December 31, 1924, and it is expected that the number of cows in the city will be reduced to one or two.

The ninety-second ballot totals were: Smith 355 1/2, McAdoo 314, Ralston 196 1/2, Davis 68, Underwood 44 1/2, Glass 27, Robinson 19, Ritchie 16 1/2, Walsh 4 1/2, Sausbury 6, Cummings 8 1/2, Houston 2, Meredith 26, Bryan 8, Callahan 1, absent 2.

DAVID SWAIN FALLS ON STREET TUESDAY

David Swain, known as the city's oldest newsboy, fell on the corner of Main and Martin street Tuesday afternoon about two o'clock and was picked up by Carlton Woodley and Evans Blades and taken to his home on the corner of Parsonage and Elm streets. He was said to be in a critical condition when this newspaper went to press.

AMERICA LEADS IN TRACK AND FIELD

Olympic Stadium, Colombes, France, June 8.—Making a clean sweep of the first three places in shot put and sending the stars and stripes up three stadium masts for the first time the United States today swept into commanding lead for the Olympic track and field championships. The 21 points gained in this event ran the total for America to 98, nearly double Finland's 54.

GEORGIA COTTON GROWERS SEE PROSPERITY AHEAD

Atlanta, July 8.—(Special.)—Although the standing acreage of cotton today is two per cent less than a year ago, the crop condition, which shows a betterment of 19 points, makes it probable that the yield of the Southeast will be approximately 1,000,000 bales, provided average conditions prevail. This would insure the greatest buying power in this section since the war—about $120,000,000 gross to planters based on prevailing prices for futures which are expected to be maintained.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay G. Greenleaf who were married last Thursday at Crewe, Virginia, spent the week end here as the guests of Mr. Greenleaf's sister, Mrs. E. R. Outlaw Jr., and are now at Nags Head where they will spend a few days before returning to their home at Backsport, S. C.

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 8.—The beginning of a slide toward Ralston this afternoon shook up the long deadlock in the Democratic National Convention.

In succession the Indiana Senator picked up the solid votes of Oklahoma, Nevada, Missouri, and Kansas, besides smaller groups, raising his total to a point approaching that of the two leaders.

Meantime, McAdoo strength had been pounded to a new low level and Smith was just about holding his own.

The Ninety-third ballot totals were: Smith 355 1/2, McAdoo 314, Ralston 196 1/2, Davis 68, Underwood 44 1/2, Glass 27, Robinson 19, Ritchie 16 1/2, Walsh 4 1/2, Sausbury 6, Cummings 8 1/2, Meredith 26, Bryan 8, Baker 2, absent 2.

The convention then adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight.

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 8.—In a broken field and amid many uncertainties the Democratic National Convention today tried once more to settle upon a nominee for the Presidency.

With both McAdoo and Smith below the total necessary to exercise the veto the favorite son group took renewed hope and kept up its hammering attack but with no very clear results.

As the delegations left the leaders they scattered their strength so widely that some of their managers feared a new deadlock might result between a new set of candidates.

Temporarily at least, Ralston of Indiana had the advantage among the favorite sons.

Supporters of Robinson, Glass, Davis and several others kept their men conspicuously in the picture meantime in the hope that when the time came for compromise they would be able to command their full share of attention.

Ninety second ballot totals were: McAdoo 310, Smith 355 1/2, Davis 69 1/2, Underwood 40 1/2, Ralston 196 3-4, Glass 26 1/2, Ritchie 16 1/2, Walsh 4 1/2, Sausbury 6, Cummings 8 1/2, Houston 2, Meredith 26, Bryan 8, Callahan 1, absent 2.

The ninety-first ballot gave Smith 355 1-2, McAdoo 318, Ralston 187.5, Davis 66.5, Underwood 46.5, Glass 28.5, Robinson 20, Ritchie 16.5, Davis of Kansas 4, Walsh 4.5, Sausbury 6, Cummings 8.5, Meredith 26, Bryan 8, absent 2.

The ninetieth ballot gave Smith 357.5, McAdoo 314, Ralston 159.5, Davis 64, Underwood 42.5, Glass 30.5, Robinson 20, Ritchie 16.5, Davis of Kansas 20, Walsh 3.5, Sausbury 6, Owen 20, Meredith 26, Bryan 9, Daniels 19.5, Roosevelt 1, absent 2.

The eighty-ninth ballot gave Smith 358, McAdoo 318.5, Ralston 99.5, Glass 66.5, Davis 64, Underwood 41, Robinson 20.5, Ritchie 22.5, Davis of Kansas 20, Walsh 3.5, Sausbury 6, Owen 20, Meredith 26, Bryan 9, Daniels 19.5, Roosevelt 1, absent 2.

The eighty-eighth ballot of the convention which was the first of Tuesday's session, gave Smith 362, McAdoo 315 1/2, Ralston 98, Glass 66 1/2, Davis 59 1/2, Underwood 39, Robinson 23, Ritchie 22 1/2, Davis of Kansas 20, Walsh 5, Sausbury 6, Owen 20, Meredith 26, Daniels 23, Bryan 9, Roosevelt 1, absent 1.

New York, July 8.—The Democratic Convention adjourned last night after the eighty seventh ballot as a mark of respect to President Coolidge, word having been received of the death of his son.

At that ballot the anti-McAdoo attack had been successful and Smith was leading McAdoo for the first time.

McAdoo's total had fallen below the necessary one third of the votes necessary to hold a veto upon any candidacy while Smith had stood practically still and the dark horses had picked up strength.

When the session opened today at 10:30 the leaders stood this way: Smith 361 1/2, McAdoo 333 1/2, John W. Davis 66 1/2, Ralston 93, Glass 71, with several others trailing the leaders.

By action of the convention all delegates were released from their pledges and instructions on Presidential candidates late Monday afternoon. This action was taken between the eighty-second and eighty-third ballots but failed to materially alter the vote in the eighty-third, and the convention then adjourned until 8:30 Monday night.
