ABE MARTIN

Who remembers when we used to 'pity a bachelor? A Ford car'll destroy th' odor o' liquor.

Hats off, ladies and gentlemen, to the first North Carolina Harper, Virginia Dare.

We'll stand for Old Home Day; but we refuse to celebrate Letter Writing Week. It's too much like regular work.

Now if somebody will only tell Charley Dawes that he is next to 'It in the G. O. P., this notification business will be done with.

We think it might not be amiss to read Bobby Small's story on the why of crime to citizens of Pasquotank serving as jurors in this week's term of Superior Court.

Now that Mr. Davis and Mr. Bryan have been duly appraised that they are nominated, we hope both of them will pull off their coats and go to work for the success of the party in the November elections.

To punish crime is the only way to prevent it," says Judge Lyon. And unless children learn in the home that to sin means to suffer chances are that they'll learn it too late to profit by the lesson.

Having carried the country thus far into European entanglement, perhaps Hughes, Coolidge & Company will discover eventually that America must aid in finding some solution of the war debt problem.

Parents just can't get away from their responsibility in the proper training of their children. The courts, the schools and the churches must have the co-operation of the home if they are to save society. And where there are no homes a nation is headed straight for destruction.

Some farmers in Georgia are represented as paying debts with this year's cotton money that have been outstanding ever since the advent of the boll weevil in this State. You seldom hear of a farmer's taking advantage of bankruptcy laws. He pays his debts, if he ever gets anything to say them with.

WASHINGTON—Are Bob La Follette, the American Federation of Labor and the westerner in conspiracy to nullify the Republican campaign cry "Keep Cool With Coolidge?"

Suspicion that some such dark dealings are afoot, has been aroused by the coincidence that just when Sam Gompers announced that La Follette was the only real friend of labor in the presidential field, and when Matthew Wall let loose a broadside against Charley Dawes' open shop activities, the hottest spell of weather that has hit the capital since 1918 descended upon the White House.

Not all the coolness of Coolidge could keep the temperature around the executive offices below the boiling point. Both mentally and physically it was hot—not warm, but hot.

As offices go, the president's private office is one of the coolest that could be constructed in this climate.

A large circular bay, at the south, is made up chiefly of windows which can be opened to admit the breezes that sift up from the Potomac, across the spacious monument grounds and five acres or so of shaded White House lawn.

But high ceilings and open windows have not sufficed to keep either the president or the executive office cool under the combined heat of the August sun and the sizzling statements of Gompers and Wall.

To date Coolidge hasn't stripped to shirt sleeves, as President Harding used to do when the mercury soared, but he is showing signs of yielding. His medium-weight woolen suits have given way to light-weight tropical worsteds.

And his stiffly starched collar has been supplanted by those of the soft, limp variety.

Although signs of mental warmth, as well as physical, are evident in the atmosphere of the outer offices, the barometer in the president's own inner sanctum fails to forecast any brewing thunderstorm.

THE assumption of eastern newspapers that the better prices for farm products, now current, have already solved the farm crisis is being found erroneous.

Reports being gathered in interested political quarters are that present conditions are but a palliative that they are perhaps easing the pain of the patient but are by no means putting him on his feet again.

In other words, the good prices received this year by farmers who made crops in which prices have advanced, will be used in paying off or reducing accumulated indebtedness or in making purchases of supplies and equipment they have been unable to buy for the past few years.

The result is that although agricultural indebtedness and need will be relieved, agricultural bank accounts will not be fattened. The farmer, even in the wheat and corn country, will still be behind the game, in his average for the past three years.

IN addition to these farmers, however, who are finding even this small measure of relief improved prices, it is now emphasized that whole sections will be worse off this year than last, because of crop failures.

As a result, it seems certain the great emphasis of the campaign is to be kept on things economic.

This is what the La Follette backers are hoping for. They expect to picture the whole national problem as an economic one, in which the big question is whether "prosperity" is to be measured in terms of the whole people or simply by the situation of the few.

Although the Republicans feel that the end achieved is all that will be noted by the public at large, the Democrats are preparing to show that in the actual writing of the Dawes plan, Owen Young, chairman of the General Electric Company, a Democrat, played a really important role. Apart from this there may be some disclosures which would seek to prove that the Coolidge administration declined to assist in the naming of the experts who now have made the Dawes plan possible and that but for the timely intervention of the chamber of commerce of the United States the whole scheme might have been wrecked on the rocks of irreconcilable opposition to any governmental connection with the reparation problem, direct or indirect.

Secretary Hughes originally proposed that the experts be unofficial and disconnected from the Government and that the United States should not be understood either to sanction or to sponsor the proposals but now that they have turned out well the American Government is openly claiming credit for their performance and the political orators are not hesitating to give the impression that the administration and General Dawes abroad and that the whole thing was a part of the administration's official foreign policy.

To those who championed the cause of international co-operation from the beginning and who insisted that American advice and assistance was essential, the success of the Dawes plan was vindication. The advocates of the League are again coming forth to

Hay Fever Sufferers Can Stay at Home This Year

Complete Relief Reported in 95 Per Cent of All Cases Under New Treatment

No longer need thousands of Hay Fever victims go to the big expense of trips North to the mountains and lakes, or ocean voyages, the moment the pollen begins to float about where you live or how long you have had Hay Fever—no matter how many other treatments you have tried in vain—complete relief is positively guaranteed with the remarkable new internal prescription of a Cleveland specialist.

Thousands of the severest cases treated with this new prescription before it was released for general use, in 95 per cent of all cases every single symptom—all that terrible sneezing, itching eyes, runny nose, headache, fever, asthma and general misery—disappeared within 24 hours.

Entirely New Method

It has been known for years that Hay Fever is caused by plant pollens floating in the air. Formerly it was thought that these pollens merely irritated the sensitive eyes and nose of certain persons. The various local treatments—salves, sprays, inhalations, etc.—were tried, but with little benefit. Of course they did not at all help the headache, fever, etc.

But now it has been found that the pollen contains what is known as protein matter, and that this protein matter is absorbed into the blood through the thin membranes of the eyes and nose, thus causing an actual poisoning of the entire system.

And at last Science has found a way to completely neutralize this poisoning, and so entirely banish every trace of the trouble.

Why New Prescription Disperses Every Sign of Hay Fever

Naturally no mere surface treatments like salves, sprays, in-halations, cauterizing, etc., can possibly get at this internal poisoning. Former treatments have been tried, but are only partially successful. But after a year's intensive study and experiment in the clinical treatment of thousands of cases, a new prescription has recently been developed which is entirely different from any other hitherto known or used. It is known as Dr. Platt's Rinex Prescription and taken internally in simple capsule form, acts directly to completely neutralize the protein poisoning throughout the system. The amazingly prompt relief seems little short of miraculous, but this is easily understood when it is realized that Rinex Prescription goes direct to the cause and removes it.

Results Positively Guaranteed

So Hay Fever can rest easy right at home this year, and need not suffer the slightest inconvenience. In minute the attack begins, all they need do is to take Dr. Platt's Rinex capsules, and they can forget they ever had Hay Fever. Rinex Prescription is not to be taken before the attack, but at the time of attack, when the poisoning is beginning. It at once neutralizes the poisoning.

Results are positively guaranteed. If you want to be satisfied that Rinex will help your case of Hay Fever, Rinex Prescription, treatment, FREE, from your druggist; or you can buy a full week's treatment for $1 on a positive money-back guarantee. So have not the slightest fear of Hay Fever this summer and fall. Simply be prepared with Dr. Platt's Rinex. Ask any druggist.

say that the world would have been much nearer prosperity if America had not remained aloof but if membership had been accepted on the reparations body. Not until the experts went abroad a few months ago did America send a full fledged delegation to tackle the reparations problem.

Mr. Hughes takes quite an optimistic view; namely, that the very success which has been achieved might not have been achieved had the Government followed a policy of active co-operation. He believes that the division of opinion which exists in both political parties with respect to the measure of American participation in European affairs would have produced protracted debate and no settlement. Because it was an unofficial, non-governmental body the plan has been evolved in his opinion.

But one evolved the view of course no reason why the American Government should not lend its moral support and even active influence to its operation. It was no mere coincidence that Mr. Hughes was abroad when the big international conference was holding its sessions. His presence at a critical moment will be pointed to by friends of the administration as evidence of its interest in the solution that has just been reached.

For many years the argument has been made that America's part should be to advise an economic settlement and to remain apart from political problems. The two have been interwoven inseparably but the United States avoided the political aspects by having an unofficial body participate in the discussions. It is the economic result which had to be obtained through political chan-
