SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 1924.

Nobody can say that the Country Club is failing to show up in the speed with which it is proceeding toward effective organization.

Over at Hickory the authorities have a 15-year-old girl locked in the city lockup for larceny. With a detention home, the County would not be compelled to keep so youthful an offender in the common jail.

Travelling rather beyond our depth and range, we venture the opinion that it was poor tactics on the part of Attorney Crowe to tell the judge in whose hands must rest the fate of prisoner, for whom the state was asking the extreme penalty.

Yielding to the blandishment of a force that has played away all summer without a vacation, and in view of the fact that between seasons Monday's issue of a daily newspaper is usually printed at a loss anyway, The Advance is announcing that there will be no issue of this newspaper on Monday, September 1, Labor Day.

The state and the county accordingly will join Elizabeth City's bankers in celebrating the only day of the year that is a holiday particularly for those who toil, and both office and shop will be closed all day.

Norfolk Horrible Example
 An advertisement of the latest bond issue of Norfolk, Virginia, gives the net bonded debt as $28,121,848, which is more than 14.1 per cent of the assessed valuation for 1923, $194,723,925. The population in 1920 was 115,777.

The so-called 7 per cent rule of New York state, the criterion for municipal financings, limits the investments of savings banks and some other supervised institutions to bonds issued not in excess of 7 per cent of the city's assessed valuation.

Seven per cent is high enough in all conscience. It is refreshing to compare Indianapolis, whose bonded debt is but about 1 per cent, to Norfolk whose commitments are more than twice the usual limit of 7 per cent.

A perusal of Poor Richard's Almanac would be more helpful to those responsible for Norfolk's distended debt than chronic visits to bankers eager to profit from commissions upon this business. —Dearborn Independent.

Speke a Parable
 Better drainage, better forestry methods, and more livestock, are put down by the Progressive Farmer as the cardinal needs of Eastern North Carolina.

Perhaps, Editor Poe's paper goes on to say, we should add a fourth need; namely, more netting; but if its first three needs are ever properly and adequately met, there will be no need to tangle about getting the settlers.

That is a pronouncement well worth pondering in these parts. Too much of our Eastern Carolina development propaganda is putting the cart before the horse.

Tom Sims Says
 Nothing agrees with a grouch, not even what he eats.

One serious mistake was making two of the hottest months of the year have 31 days each.

"Flies talk," says a London set cent. Well, tell them to go sweat themselves.

Lots of these blooming straw hats have gone to seed.

Strange things happen. In Chicago a woman arrested as a pickpocket claims she has never been married.

Mosquito lotion is great stuff. It makes them fat and lazy so they are easy to hit.

Our ambition is to be so rich that when we go broke we can call it financially embarrassed.

One thing funnier than a man with rouge on his lips is a man with rouge on his forehead.

Vacuum cleaners are handy devices for men. A woman can't hit her husband over the head with one.

They made beer in Egypt thousands of years ago, but it is all gone.

A man's friends are surprised when he marries. So is the man.

MORRISON NOT TO ATTEMPT TO LEAD
 Raleigh, Aug. 29. Governor Morrison announced yesterday that he would not attempt to lead the fight for the Port Commission bill but will work under General Albert Cox who he has named as chairman of the fight.

ALL TOURING CARS GONE IN 10 CARLOADS FORBID
 Ten carloads of Ford cars were received by the Auto & Gas Engine Works during the past week. A large shipment for one firm to dispose of readily in a town of the size of Elizabeth City, considering that fresh automobiles did not bring much money this year. But the demand for Fords does not seem to be lessened. Six carloads have already been sold during the week, 12 Ford models being ordered assembled on Saturday alone. All of the touring cars received in the shipments have been sold. There are still some coupes, sedans, roadsters, and one truck to be disposed of. So great was the demand for touring cars however, that one car was ordered from another dealer.

CORINTH REVIVAL COMES TO CLOSE

The revival which has been in progress at Corinth Baptist Church since last Sunday afternoon came to a successful close Friday night. Large crowds attended the services in spite of the rain and thunderstorms of the week.

Friday night the church was crowded to the last seat. The platform around the pulpit was literally lined with young people. The annex was crowded and extra chairs were placed in the aisles. While over 100 people stood on the outside and could not get in.

One young man who listened to the sermon from the outside made his way down the outside aisle and made profession of faith. Several others united with the church.

Rev. J. W. Kinkead of Rocky Mount assisted the pastor, Rev. R. F. Hall, in this meeting.
