

Sends Message Women's Clubs Throughout State

Mrs. Palmer Jerman Urges That Women Work Together Toward Civic, Educational and Political Goal During the Coming Year

By MRS. J. H. HIGHSMITH
 Raleigh, Sept. 30.—As the beginning of another club year approaches and the club women of the State enter again upon their club activities, Mrs. Palmer Jerman, President of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, sends them through their Year Book a timely and worthwhile greeting. Her keynote message is: "We may vary in our plans and in our interests, but we must have one goal—holding on high the ideals that have given our Federation its place as a leader in the civic, educational and political life of our State. With straight thinking, patience and courage we shall develop strength for the year's work and feel within ourselves the growth of spiritual power. It is what we give to, not what we get from, club life that makes it so worthwhile."

Mrs. Jerman reminds her co-workers also that as the General Assembly meets this year, there will be much additional labor necessary to putting through successfully the legislative work connected with the resolutions adopted at the annual convention. She says: "In addition to our regular departmental and committee work there comes to us this year, as on each alternate year, the additional labor of legislative work. This means the effort to have bills passed containing the resolutions adopted at our convention. These express the crystallized thought of North Carolina club women in matters of statewide interest, all of them progressive and altruistic. Make them a part of a program for early fall presentation that all club women may be intelligently informed as to actions taken by their delegates. Our Legislative Committee is further charged with the responsibility of discouraging the passage of useless and unnecessary laws. They need the interest and help of every club woman in their efforts in both directions."

Council Meeting, High Point.
 The annual meeting of the Federation Council will be held this year in High Point on October 23, 1924, with the Woman's Club of that city as hostess. The membership of the Council is composed of the officers of the Federation, chairmen of departments and of standing committees, and the four district presidents. The purpose of holding the Council meeting at this time is to consolidate the Federation's activities and to get a clear perspective of the club work of the State for the year. Consequently each chairman is requested to have ready for presentation an outline of her year's work.

On this occasion, the Council is to be favored with an address by Miss Lavinia Engle of Baltimore, on the subject "Legislation from the Club Woman's Viewpoint." Miss Engle is Executive Secretary of the Maryland League of Women Voters, and has had years of experience in legislative work. She is no stranger to North Carolina women, having visited the State several times on matters of interest to women. As a clear thinker and as a gifted speaker, her message will be most helpful coming as it does before the meeting of the State Legislature when the club women of the State shall have several bills to foster.

Wilson Club Women
 With the letting of the contract and breaking of the ground for their new club house, the members of the Wilson Woman's Club are beginning to have visions of their commodious new home being completed in the near future. This building will not only be an ornament to Wilson and a credit to the club women of that progressive City, but it will be another district achievement to be added to the ingenuity and resourcefulness of the club women of the State.

The building is to be constructed of tapestry brick with stone columns and a green tiled roof. The first floor will contain reception rooms, committee rooms and a sun parlor so arranged that they can be conveniently thrown into a large assembly room. The second floor will be in two apartments of five rooms each, suitable for renting purposes. According to the contract, the building is to cost approximately $21,000 and is to be completed about March 1, 1925. The club house is to occupy the center of a large desirable lot recently purchased on Broad street, and will be placed 27 feet back from the sidewalk. Mrs. Eugene Davis, President of the Club, recently had the pleasure of breaking the ground for this their new attractive club home.

Train Children
 Mrs. Robert N. Page, of Southern Pines, State chairman of Civil Service, has recently sent a letter to the club women of the State, but more directly to the groups interested in civic welfare, concerning the work of her department. She emphasizes the training of children, particularly the training of children to obey, as the most important feature of the coming year's work. She asks, "Can any one be a useful, happy citizen, who hasn't been trained to obey? If we insist on obedience and truth in our young children, she says, "We will be sure of law-abiding, truth-loving, happy men and women. This training is their rightful heritage. You and I are responsible that have it. "A child is your second chance."

Mrs. Page names the following as chairmen of her sub-departments: Citizenship—Miss Gertrude Weil of Goldsboro, who is working to raise the percentage of women voters this fall to at least 75 per cent of the eligible voters; Civic Welfare—Mrs. N. A. Townsend of Dunn, who will emphasize the observance and enforcement of State Automobile laws, including the Act regulating the age of drivers; Safety—Mrs. Vonnie Monroe Hicks, of Raleigh, who has already made plans and preparation for the observance of Fire Prevention Week October 5-11, 1924; Community Service—Mrs. H. G. Connor, Jr., of Wilson, who believes in developing home and community talent, and will aid communities in securing permanent playgrounds during the "Harmon Foundation" Junior Civics—Mrs. L. M. Hull, Shelby; Conservation and Forestry—Mrs. W. N. Hunt, Southern Pines; Birds and Flowers—Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, Goldsboro; Americanization—Mrs. B. F. Long, Statesville.

Mrs. Jerman Presides
 The annual meeting of the North Carolina Legislative Council of Women's Organizations which met in Raleigh Thursday, September 25, at the Woman's Club, was presided over by Mrs. Palmer Jerman, President. At this meeting the legislative program for the 1925 session of the State Legislature was adopted and officers for the new year elected. Representatives from seven states having similar organizations were in attendance. Midday lunch was served at the Woman's Club. Mrs. Jerman spoke at the opening session of the Woman's Club of Durham on Friday. On this occasion she was the luncheon guest of Mrs. W. J. Brogden, President of the Durham Club. On October 1, Mrs. Jerman will address the Charlotte Woman's Club at the formal opening of its new club house. Recently she

Club Year Book
 While the Raleigh Woman's Club will formally open the Club year with its get-together-supper, October 9th, the activities of the Club have been in evidence for some time. The Club as usual cooperated with the other social and civic organizations of the City in observing the Fall Festival. The Health Department of the Club particularly has been active in establishing a milk fund for the schools, and in its work with committees. This Department last week sponsored a lecture by Miss Theresa Damsell of the National Tuberculosis Association on the subject of "Health and Nutrition for Children."

Gained Ten Pounds

Mrs. George S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., says she suffered severely with female troubles.

"I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time," says Mrs. Hunter. "I could not work. My... were irregular and I got very thin. I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had been a user of
