

GIANTS TAKE THE THIRD GAME

Senators 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 1 1
Giants 0 2 1 1 0 1 0 0

Senators Used Four Pitchers

New York, Polo Grounds, Oct. 6.—The Giants outplayed the fighting Senators today from start to finish, knocking four pitchers out of the box, by a 6 to 1 score.

Battling gamely against odds, however, the Senators kept in the fight to the last, scoring one of their runs in the ninth inning.

The Washington Senators invaded the stronghold of the New York Giants today intent on smiting the proud champions of the National League hip and thigh, and making them like it.

The brilliant victory of the American League yesterday at the national capital has made them a host of friends in the alien polo grounds, and though each club had captured one game in the World Series struggle, the New Yorkers had made Washington the favorite in the betting.

Some 40,000 or more spectators had swarmed into the concrete bleachers of the historic ball park when it became apparent that another clear and warm day was to mark the third struggle of Giants against Senator. The Senators relied on Fred Marberry who was rushed to the relief of Zachary yesterday and who was credited with winning the game to make it two straight.

Umpires—Dineen at plate; Quigley at first base; Connolly at second base; Klem at third base. Batteries—Washington—Marberry, Russell, Martin, Speedy and Ruel; New York—McQuillan, Ryan, Jonnard, Watson and Gowdy.

Senators—Leibold, playing center field for Washington in place of McNeely and leading off for the Senators, went out, Frisch to Terry. Harris fled out to right field. Rice walked, but Goslin went out, Frisch to Terry. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants—Marberry tossed Lindstrom three straight balls in the Giants' half of the opening inning, but the next three were through the center of the plate and the batter was called out on strikes.

Senators—Judge started off the inning with a single over second base, but Bluege hit into a double play. McQuillan to Frisch to Terry. Lindstrom threw out Beckinbaugh at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants—Terry single to right field, Wilson fanned and when Bluege took Jackson's grounder and threw to Harris the Senator's manager dropped the ball. Terry scored on Gowdy's single to left. Jackson went to third and Gowdy was out trying to stretch his hit.

GEORGE CHRISTIAN MYSTERY SOLVED New York, Oct. 6.—The familiar triangle appeared today in the background of the George Christian million and a half defalcation case.

"Another woman," the police said they had learned, figured in the sensational looting of the securities of the venerable brokerage house of Day & Beaton, of which Christian was a partner, after 25 years of service that began when he was an office boy.

Christian, according to authorities, made exhaustive jewelry purchases for the other woman last winter.

FAIR PARADE TO BE REAL THING

With Coast Guard Features, Floats, and Lots of Music, Starts at 11 Tuesday Morning.

RAMSAY BOOSTS DISTRICT FAIR

W. J. Ramsay in his opinion at the tabernacle Sunday night gave the Albemarle District Fair a boost.

"I am for your District Fair," Mr. Ramsay said. "We are not here to do it any harm. It is a fine thing for the farmers to get together and show their agricultural products, for the business men to show their merchandise. For every thing at the fair that is for the good of the section, I hope you haven't got anything attached to it that isn't good."

The Albemarle District Fair will get underway Tuesday morning with the big parade through the city streets at 11 o'clock.

The line will form on Pennsylvania street at 10:30, and everybody who will take part in this big co-operative feature, of the fair is asked to be there on time.

From Pennsylvania the parade will march on Burgess to Road, to Main and back to South Road where it will hit the trail to the fair grounds.

There seems to be no doubt that this parade will be the most picturesque and effective ever seen in the city or section.

The lifeboat that rescued the survivors of the torpedoed tanker Mirlo, fully manned and mounted on wheels, will be drawn by a tractor. Other life saving apparatus, with a number of Coast Guard men and Uncle Sam's sailors will add to patriotic pride of this opening feature.

Three bands will be in the parade. Higgins Band, which is one of the best, will lead the march. The Boys Band will not play but will have a feature just the same.

There will be many floats and all sorts of amusements. The city will tell all the story beforehand. The carnival band will be in line, and the parade will be both musical and colorful, calling attention to this big event that each autumn time draws together the people of the country and the towns of this district and helps them to know each other better and work together with renewed courage and higher ideals.

There will be 16 handsome marks mounted on the best horses that can be secured. Miss Clark is in charge and if those who have promised to help make this parade a success will keep their promises and be on hand at 10:30 promptly Tuesday morning, the parade is assured.

Foremost among the health exhibit and demonstration, according to plans announced at the agent's office, will be a dental clinic that will be held through the assistance of the State Health Department. A separate booth will be occupied by this demonstration and care of the teeth will be explained and stressed, the health officials maintaining that many of the ailments of the body originate from neglected teeth.

Nurses from the Health Department will also make talks for expectant mothers and demonstrate as well as lecture on the care of infants and children and how to make proper clothes for them occupationally.

Cleanliness of the homes, the yard, barn, and other outbuildings will be stressed and the connection of this phase of living with good health will be shown, it was said, while the beautifying of the home will be urged in clearing the "road to contentment" which Mrs. McKimmon thinks has its effect on health in that it affects one's disposition.

Mrs. McKimmon stated that she wished to show "How a house may be used for comfort and beauty as well as a place in which to eat and sleep."

Charts will be distributed showing the rated nourishment in the various foods and giving selected menus for the family table for the entire week. Milk, eggs, certain meats and proper breads will be shown and explained.

Charts will also show the proper weight of persons of various sizes and of children of certain ages. Scales will be kept at the health booth and visitors will be given the privilege of weighing and having a talk with attending health officials and nurses.

CITY ROAD STILL AHEAD In the contest between 1,200 men's Bible Classes City Road had present Sunday 81, and the First Methodist 89. There are three more Sundays of this contest. The losing side has to visit the winning side after the contest is over, and furnish teacher and take full charge of class.

Ribbons were awarded in all departments and announcements of the winners will be made in Monday's issue of the Advance.

Athletic events by the school children closed the day's program. The people of this section are strong for community fairs and the Albemarle District Fair. Visitors from Elizabeth City were assured that this section would be heard from at Elizabeth City next week. The Newland High School trucks will appear in the parade and there will be a big representation of Newland school children in Elizabeth City Tuesday as it has been declared by the teachers a holiday.

Bestly Boy Hangs Out Shingle In Home Town Instead Of West

Another new law shingle went out in the Hinton Building last week when Robert B. Lowry, who was graduated at Wake Forest last June with the degree of law, after having obtained his license to practice in the preceding January, opened an office in the Hinton Building.

Mr. Lowry won honor for the Old Home Town by prowess in athletics, particularly football, at Wake Forest and at home played for Elizabeth City on the nine in the days of the Twilight League.

He has at first thought of besting the practice of law in the western part of the State but last week decided to begin here where he is already favorably known and has many friends.

PASQUOTANK TO HAVE ITS OWN REFERENDUM

Question of Home and Farm Demonstration and Welfare Work to be Voted on

Worked with being pulled this way and that by constituents opposing and those favoring home demonstration work, farm demonstration work and a welfare officer in Pasquotank County, the County Commissioners in regular session Monday voted to submit the issue to the people through a referendum at the November election.

Ballots will be prepared so that the voter may vote for all three phases of County work or against all three, or in favor of one and against two, or in favor of two and against one.

The Board turned down a proposal for a county-wide campaign against tuberculosis among cattle, on the ground, first, that the County has no funds for the work and, second, that with those selling milk already required to have their cattle tested for tuberculosis, if a man producing milk for his own family was not interested enough in his own wife and children to have his cows tuberculosis tested it was his own business.

Otherwise, with a full membership present, the only matters disposed of by the Board at its October meeting was of a routine nature.

HEALTH A FEATURE OF WOMEN'S WORK

Mrs. McKimmon Stresses This Phase of Home Demonstration at State Fair

Raleigh, Oct. 6.—"Health, how to attain it and how to maintain it" will be one of the chief features of the exhibits and demonstrations of the county home agents under the direction of Mrs. Jane McKimmon, state agent, at the State Fair here during October 13 to 17.

Foremost among the health exhibit and demonstration, according to plans announced at the agent's office, will be a dental clinic that will be held through the assistance of the State Health Department. A separate booth will be occupied by this demonstration and care of the teeth will be explained and stressed, the health officials maintaining that many of the ailments of the body originate from neglected teeth.

Ham-Ramsay Revival Off To Good Start First Day

No Ham and No Visiting Laymen to Do Talking at Sunday Services but Ramsay and Rodgers Equal to Situation and Audience Is Not Disappointed

When the Ham-Ramsay evangelistic campaign opened Sunday afternoon at three o'clock with the tabernacle about three quarters full, it fell upon Charister W. J. Ramsay to fill the roles of the out of town laymen who had been expected to speak, but could not come on account of flooded roads of Evangelist Ham himself who could not arrive until Monday, and to do his own part besides.

A less able and less earnest man would no doubt have failed, but Mr. Ramsay rose to the occasion and so convinced the people of his earnestness that he instantly won their good will and desire to cooperate in this great movement for raising aloft the ideals and conduct of the community.

One impressive fact was brought out by Dr. S. H. D. Wilson in his introductory remarks for the Ministerial Association, namely, that while many evangelical parties insist upon financial guarantee before they sign a contract to come, the Ham-Ramsay party come and put up the big tabernacle at their own expense, they bring a grand piano to be used for the services, they meet their other necessary expenses, and they depend solely on their faith that they will be able to do such a work for the community that in the end their expenses will be paid by voluntary contributions.

Mr. Ramsay began his talk by telling the folks, many of them were from the county, that he was not a preacher or the son of a preacher. He said that he spoke as a layman, a farmer, a countryman. His subject was prayer, and with illustrations of a little girl asking her father for the things she needed he made it plain that when prayer is specific, earnest, and intense, the prayer is granted just as surely as the child's request is granted by her earthly father.

As the service closed and the people went out there were many who said, "If Mr. Ham can make the way any plainer than this layman, he must be a great preacher, indeed."

The purpose of the Ham-Ramsay evangelistic campaign is to build character and to fight sin. Mr. Ramsay told a crowd of about 2,000 people Sunday night when he preached from the text "As We Have Opportunity Let Us Do Good Unto All Men."

"This campaign," Mr. Ramsay said, "will offer an opportunity to the Christian people to do good in Elizabeth City. There is nothing that will build a future generation of upright courageous citizens like the Gospel, there is nothing that will empty your jails like the bring of the Gospel of the risen Lord into the hearts of your young people."

"A mighty throng of young men in their teens in your city need the Gospel. Were I to ask those of this age in this crowd to stand you, would be startled at the small number here. Where are they? Your preachers from Sunday to Sunday proclaim the Gospel to empty streets that ought to be filled with young men. Young men fall into the hands of the law by loafing—by going with the wrong crowd. Show me a community in which the churches are filled with young people and I will show you a righteous city."

Mr. Ramsay was much pleased with the local musical talent, particularly with the rendering of "Some One's Lost Call" that beautiful adaptation of "Misericordia" from H. T. Crocker. Members of the choir are urged to be present tonight as their parts may be assigned.

Under the direction of head usher George Twiddy the crowds are being well taken care of by the ushers.

By Tuesday night the nursery will be in operation so that mothers may leave their babies to be taken care of and enjoy the service.

The laymen's service planned for Sunday afternoon will be held from 2:30 to 4:30. Mr. Ramsay will preach tonight at 7:30 and on Tuesday night at 7:30 Evangelist Ham will deliver his first sermon.

COOLIDGE SPEAKS TO THE RED CROSS

Washington, Oct. 6.—Thinking the American Red Cross for its accomplishments for "practical humanity and inspired charity," President Coolidge in his address today at the opening of the annual meeting of the society here pledged for a "truly civilized world where the cost of armament, of pensions, and of fortifications were not required to be borne where resources could be used to promote, not to destroy happiness—in such a world, what mighty works could be accomplished under the leadership of the Red Cross. Poverty, ignorance, prejudice, and all uncharitableness might be completely relieved and remedied." The President said that toward such an ideal the race is making progress.
