Pirates	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	0	X	3	7	1

TOMORROW BE DAY OF DECISION

And Dope Is Once More Weight Of Entire Series Will Rest On Shoulders of Walter Johnson

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Oct. 13.—Thirteen proved a lucky number for the Pittsburgh Pirates, so far as dates go at least, when today they won their third game of the 1925 world series and put themselves in a position to fight it out with Washington for the seventh and crucial contest of the series on even terms. Today's score was 3 to 2.

Once more fortune during the first few innings smiled on Washington, and once more the Pirates came from behind to tie the score and then to take the lead and win. In other words, Pittsburgh in the world series has done precisely what the team did in the season—got off to a bad start to develop a terrific and smashing attack for the finish. Whether that attack can carry the team to its third straight victory in the next and final game is the question that will rock the baseball world from center to circumference tonight.

Kremer, pitching for Pittsburgh, retired three men in order in four innings and retired Washington's heavy artillery successfully in the ninth and sixth innings.

Pittsburg did more than her share of cheering throughout the game. They cheered wildly when Pittsburgh began the third inning with Washington leading the score 2 to 0 and the fans came to a close with a cheer when Moore scored while Bluege was throwing out Barnhart at first and Carey scored when Traynor hit over first base.

It looked good for a Washington rally in the ninth frame with Goslin, J. Harris and Judge coming to bat. The fans yelled for Goslin to stop another homer but he flew out to Moore after making many fouls. Joe Harris slugged out a two bagger but Judge and Bluege were retired while Washington fans cheered in vain for a ninth inning rally.

Goslin ended up with J. Harris in his home run total in the first frame, making three home runs for these Washington sluggers during this series. The 1925 world series came back to their original battle ground today to take up the sixth stage of their struggle for premier baseball honors. Pittsburgh sent Kremer to the mound while Ferguson was Manager Harris's choice of pitchers for the Senators.

The game by innings:

First Inning
Washington—Joe Judge hit a tie-run but Stutz and J. Harris were out at first. Smith took Stan Harris' roller in front of the plate and got him at first. Goslin got a home run into the right field stands. It was a long drive and his third of the series. Kremer threw out Joe Harris at first. One run, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning
Washington—Judge slugged a single into right. Bluege tried to sacrifice but forced Judge. Kremer to Wright on a hit and run play. Bluege scored when Peck doubled into right. Kremer threw wild to catch Peck and Peck dashed for third. Barnhart took Severoid's short fly. Peck holding third. Ferguson flied out to Cuyler. One run, two hits, one error.

Third Inning
Pittsburgh—Traynor shot a single over Stan Harris' head. Wright forced Traynor. Peck to Harris. McNeil struck out. Smith singled over second, Wright raling to third. Kremer fanned on three pitched balls. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Washington—Goslin lined out to Kremer who stabbed the ball with his gloved hand. Traynor smothered Stan Harris' hopper and tossed him out. Goose sent up a high fly to Wright. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Pittsburgh—Moore got base on balls. Peck took Carey's grounder too late to get Moore and Carey was also safe on flycatcher's choice. Cuyler sacrificed. Bluege to Harris. Moore scored while Bluege was throwing out Barnhart at first. Carey scored on Traynor's single over second. Traynor stole second and went to third on Severoid's wild throw. Bluege tossed out Wright. Two runs, one hit, one error.

Sixth Inning
Washington—Joe Judge swung viciously and missed the third by a foot. Judge also struck out swinging hard on the third inside ball. Bluege cracked a single over Wright's head and was caught off first. Kremer to Melnis to Moore to Kremer. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Washington—Traynor threw out Rice. Wright took Stan Harris' slow roller and with quick underhand throw nailed him at first. Goslin walked on four balls. Moore took Joe Harris' grounder and threw him out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

COURT WORKING HARD

Night Session Held in Effort to Clear Docket Expediently; Numerous Cases Disposed Of

Judge, I owned a fifth interest in that still. I went into the thing like a man, made liquor like a man and am ready to take my medicine like a man.

These did J. A. Slack, of Norfolk, present his case in Federal Court here Monday afternoon. He was arrested with ten others in the seizure of a large still on Joe's Island, in Pasquotank River, early in August.

You're the first man in the crowd who has told a straight story," Judge Meekins observed. "That, however, did not dispose of Slack's troubles. He was wanted in Virginia on a similar charge, along with Joe W. Bennett, who pleaded guilty also in connection with the Joe's Island raid. Both had been in jail here since August 3, and both were turned over to the Virginia authorities after having been freed of the charges here.

The other nine defendants in this case entered pleas of not guilty, and were duly convicted, with the exception of Irvin Tidale and W. S. Smithson, for whom the court directed a verdict of not guilty. C. G. Conwell and C. J. Hudson were given 30 days in jail each, and J. H. Bennett was given 60 days. A motion for judgment was continued as to Herbert Tidale. Dewey Tidale was given 30 days in jail, the sentence to be remitted upon payment of a fine of $100. Thomas Moss was sentenced to 6 months in jail, which subsequently was changed to a $200 fine. W. K. Smithson was sentenced to six months in jail, but the sentence subsequently was reduced to four months.

STRIKE IN PARIS SEEMS A FAILURE

Navy Yard Sailors and Tank Crews Summoned Paris Replace Bus Drivers—Protesting Against War

By CONSTANTINE BROWN
Copyright, 1925, by the Advance

Paris, Oct. 13.—Sailors from L'Orient and other navy yards and crews of armored cars and tanks, have been summoned to Paris to replace bus and trolley drivers and subway engineers, who were ordered by the executive committee of the communist party today to join all the other workmen of France in a 24 hour strike "as a sign of protest against the blood thirsty, capitalist government, which is sending thousands of young Frenchmen to certain death in the Riffian mountains and the Syrian desert, if the sale of bank shares and concession hunters."

The manifesto issued by the communists were couched in a beautiful florid style, which was intended to touch the readers of ten cent novels, but evidently French workmen, even those affiliated with the communist party, prefer to "work and get their daily steak than to strike for something which does not concern us," as was stated to the writer today by a communist bus driver who was starting to work as usual.

The strike which was supposed to bring this morning is apparently a complete failure except for 40 per cent of the taxi-drivers who, taking advantage of the strike order, went to spend an agreeable day outside Paris. Only 15 per cent of bus and trolley men and 7 per cent of subway engineers obeyed the Communist orders.

The railway men refused to strike but promised to slow down and delay trains which is nothing to strengthen the French worker, taking advantage of the strike order, went to spend an agreeable day outside Paris. Only 15 per cent of bus and trolley men and 7 per cent of subway engineers obeyed the Communist orders.
