PITTSBURGH TAKES GAME AND SERIES

Score table for Senators vs Pirates. Senators: 4 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 7 7 2. Pirates: 0 0 3 0 1 0 2 3 X 9 15 1.

PIRATES DID NOT WIN TIL EIGHTH

Once More Came From Behind For Victory On Peckinpaugh Error

Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Oct. 15.—Stealing the Senator's thunder by winning their game in the eighth inning, Pittsburgh took the world series here today, with a score in the crucial game of 9 to 7.

Pittsburgh won under great difficulties. The score was 7 to 7 in the last half of the eighth inning, two men were out and the bases were full when Cuyler slammed a two bagger which scored Bigbee and Moore and won the series for the Pirates.

Rain began in the fifth inning and in the last inning it began to fall in torrents. Walter Johnson continually calling for sawdust for the pitchers mounded during the fateful eighth inning.

It looked that honors might go to Johnson for his third victory when Peckinpaugh knocked his home run in the eighth frame and broke the 7 to 7 tie.

Washington fans cheered for a batting rally when in the ninth frame when Rice was first up, followed by Harris and Goslin. But walking to the plate and wiping off the rain from their bats, the Washington heavy hitters went down in order.

At the bat five times for Pittsburgh Carey made four hits, three of which were for two bases, another world series record.

Walter Johnson and Victor Aldridge, rival pitching aces of the Washington Senators and the Pittsburgh Pirates started their duel of unbeaten right handers to determine the championship struggle between clubs as well as the question of individual supremacy.

Today the seventh and deciding game of the series began on a field made soggy by almost 24 hours of rain and with a light drizzle increasing the misty blanket enveloping the field.

Washington led off with a single that bounded over the middle bag. Stan Harris filed out to Barnhart, hitting the first ball pitched. Rice went to second on a wild pitch. Goslin got his base on balls on another wild pitch. Rice went to third and Goslin to second. Joe Harris walked, and the bags were filled. Rice scored when Judge walked, and the bases were still filled. Goslin scored on Bluege's sharp single to left, Harris going to third and Judge to second. Bluege's hit struck near the top of the screen, and was nearly a home run. It was very dark but the Senators did not seem to have difficulty in following the course of the pitching.

Morrison struck out, Aldridge on the mound. Peckinpaugh hit to Wright, who threw to Moore, and there was a dispute at the plate because of the interference of Peck by Smith. This allowed Joe Harris to score, and all base runners were declared safe. Peck taking first. Judge scored, when Moore juggled Ruel's grounder, the bases were still filled. Johnson struck out. Rice filed out to Barnhart. Four runs, two hits, no errors.

Pittsburgh—Moore bunted but Johnson threw him out. Johnson had a bad leg and they were centering their attack on him by hunting. Carey got a long hit by bunting first. Judge scored, when Moore juggled Ruel's grounder, the bases were still filled. Johnson struck out. Rice filed out to Barnhart. Four runs, two hits, no errors.

Washington—Cuyler took Stan Harris' fly as it was about to go into stand. Carey made a nice catch of Goslin's short fly to center. Wright took Joe Harris' hopper and got him at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pittsburgh—Johnson took Traynor's hopper and tossed wide to first, but Judge got the ball to the bag ahead of Traynor. Wright singled into center. McInnis also hit into center for one base. Wright holding second. The Pirates fans are now cheering wildly. Smith hit into a double play. Stan Harris taking Smith's hopper touching McInnis and then throwing out Smith at first. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Washington—Judge shot a single into right center. Bluege sent up a high fly to Moore. Cuyler made a sensational catch of Peckinpaugh's fly and then threw wildly past first to get Judge. Judge went to second. Carey raced back and took Ruel's long smacker. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Pittsburgh—Morrison got a single over second base, which Rice could not get up to. Moore hit a long drive to left for two bases and Morrison scored by fast running. Moore scored on Carey's sharp single past Stan Harris. Peck threw out Cuyler at first. Carey going to second. Carey stole third catching Ruel asleep. Ruel did not make a throw to third. Carey scored on Barnhart's Texas leaguer to right. Traynor forced Barnhart, Peck to Stan Harris. Three runs, four hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning Washington—It was still sprinkling and very dark and hard to follow course of the ball on the field. Carey took Johnson's fly in left center. Rice singled past McInnis. Stan Harris struck out taking the third called strike. He went back to the bench kicking. Goslin singled into left and Rice raced to third on the throw to third. Goslin went to second. Rice and Goslin scored on Joe Harris's two base drive to right. Judge filed out to Cuyler. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Pittsburgh—McInnis rapped single into left. Rice made shoestring catch of Smith's seeming hit. McInnis had to race back to first. Grantham batting for Morrison sent out long fly to Joe Harris. Moore sent out a lofty fly which Goslin gobbled. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington—Kremer went into the box for the Pirates. Traynor robbed Bluege of a hit by leading him into the air and spearing his bounder and throwing him out. Peck went out to Wright to McInnis. Carey made a nice catch of Ruel's low fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pittsburgh—Carey lashed first ball into right center for two bases, his third hit and second two base of the game. Carey scored on Cuyler's two base hit to deep left. It was raining steadily. Barnhart swung at his third strike. Traynor fouled out to Ruel. Stan Harris stood still and snared Wright's pop. One run, two hits, no errors.

Washington—Wright took in Johnson's hot shot back of second. Wright took Rice's slow hopper and tossed him out. Stan Harris struck out, swinging for third strike. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pittsburgh—Goslin gathered in McInnis' fly. Rice raced over to left and took Smith's drive. Kremer fouled to Ruel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington—It was now raining hard and the crowd were putting up umbrellas and bleacherites covered themselves with newspapers. Kremer took Goslin's easy splash and threw him out at first. Traynor raced over to left field boxes and took Joe Harris' foul. Cuyler almost misjudged Judge's fly but caught it after a hard run. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Pittsburgh—Peck dropped Moore's high fly and batter reached second. It should have been an easy out. Moore scored on Carey's third double to left. Cuyler sacrificed Johnson to Stan Harris. Carey going to third. Stan Harris threw out Barnhart at first. Carey holding third. It so dark the fielders could hardly see the ball. Carey scored on Traynor's hit to right for three bases. He was out at plate play being. Joe Harris to Stan Harris to Ruel. Two runs, two hits, one error.

GERMANY SAYS SHE WILL SIGN SECURITY PACT

Official Announcement of Adherence to Mutual Guarantees as to Rhine Made This Morning

THREE ARE PRINCIPALS

Germany, France and Belgium Parties to Agreement of Which Italy and Britain are Guarantors

Locarno, Switzerland, Oct. 15.—Germany today officially announced her adherence to the Rhine pact of mutual guarantees framed at security conference here with the object of outlawing war.

The pact will be signed by Germany, France and Belgium as principal parties, and by Great Britain and Italy as guarantors.

There will be five conference documents; namely, the Rhine pact and four arbitration treaties between Germany on the one hand and France, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Poland on the other.

There will be two supplementary documents, a letter from the Allies interpreting Article 18 of the League Covenant for Germany's benefit and a Franco-Polish declaration or exchange of letters interpreting the Rhine pact with respect to the Franco-Polish alliance.

All the documents, it is understood, will be signed simultaneously on Friday, which will be Mr. Chamberlain's birthday. The British statesman, though without the official title of president, has presided at all the negotiations with a tact and skill which is admired on all sides.

At the latest, signatures are expected on Monday and Tuesday. The German delegation has sent one of its members to Berlin with texts and explanations which are now before the German cabinet for approval and no serious opposition is anticipated.

Results of the conference, as now foreseen, will be an immense amelioration of European conditions with Franco-British rapprochement, a Franco-German rapprochement, an Anglo-Polish rapprochement, and better relations.

Pittsburgh—It was raining steadily. Traynor went out and gave Wright a towel to wipe off his hat. Judge took in Wright's foul. Johnson asked the umpire for some sawdust to be brought to pitcher's mound. Johnson filled his cap with sawdust and took it back himself. The piling mound was very slippery from rain. Rice took McInnis' fly. Smith got a long hit to right for two bases. Yde ran for Smith. Bibbee batted for Kremer and rapped out a two base hit to left scoring Yde. The score was now tied. Moore walked. Peck took Carey's grounder and tossed to Stan Harris but umpire ruled Moore was safe at second. Official scorer gave Peck an error. The bases were now filled and it was still raining hard and players wiped their bats as they came to the plate. Cuyler doubled to deep right, scoring Bigbee and Moore. Barnhart filed to Stan Harris. Three runs, three hits, one error.

Washington—Oldham went into the box for the Pirates and Bigbee went to left field. Gooch went behind the bat for the Pirates. Rice struck out, taking the third called strike. Moore took Stan Harris' fly ball. Goslin fanned, taking the third called strike. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fast Action In Fifth World Series Conflict

There was fast action at the end of the seventh inning in the fifth world series game when Muddy Ruel's peg to Third Baseman Bluege caught Cuyler, Pirate right fielder, at the third sack. Bluege was back in the game after two days of disability with a bump on his skull and a severe headache.

SI WELL, SENOR BUT WHAT OF IT

Latin Statesman Has Own Ideas About "Personal" and "Official" Matters

By ROWLAND WOOD (Copyright, 1925, by The Advance)

New York, Oct. 15.—If a Latin-American statesman, to culminate the dull gloom of the northland, happens to bring a glorious senatoria from the Mexican stage to New York, or does not happen to, Si-well, Senor, what of it? Pordios, Senor, these are personal matters.

Arturo Elias, the Mexican consul general in New York, was amusingly tolerant today of published reports that Alberto J. Pani, Mexican secretary of finance, was being investigated by the United States immigration department with whom charges have been preferred that Senor Pani had brought Gloria Faure, a stage beauty, to the United States in violation of the Mann Act.

Disclosure that Senorita Faure had vanished into thin air from her Waldorf Hotel suite stirred almost every newspaper reader in the city more than it did Mexico's official representatives.

Senor Pani held himself incommunicado from the squad of newspapermen who sought his version of the affair, and had nothing at all to say.

Senor Elias asserted he was concerned only with "official matters" and did not concern himself with "personal matters." He expressed entire ignorance of a report that the beautiful Gloria had been spirited out of New York this morning on a wild dash back to Mexico.

"We all have political enemies," was his only comment.

The charges against Senor Pani and the actress, whom he was alleged to have brought from El Paso as a "maid" in his private car, were lodged with Immigration Commissioner Curran by Dr. Adolfo Ferrer, former banana grower in the southern republic. Dr. Ferrer, now a political exile in this country, made no bones of admitting that he was a political enemy of Senor Pani.

Meanwhile, Senor Pani was preparing to continue the conversation with the Lamont-Morgan banking group about modifications Mexico seeks in her debt.

Concerning this—not a personal matter—Mexico officialdom here was more communicative.

"The debt negotiations are progressing splendidly," said Senor Elias.

Hendersonville, Oct. 15. Doctor A. B. Drafts, local physician in the trial of Bonnie Brooks charged with the murder of former Mayor Bryson, told the jury today that he did not believe Brooks had mind enough to be conscious of any wrong doing.

Defense also offered witnesses testifying that Bryson. Made threats on coming back to Hendersonville with his gun loaded.

David Pays Heavily For Keen Eyesight

David Sawyer, young colored resident of the Woodville section, lays claim to the sharpest pair of eyes anywhere in this part of these United States. For having them, he paid the sum of $15 and costs in recorder's court this morning.

David was arrested near the station last night by Police Officer Twiddy. The policeman suspected that he was carrying a pistol, and searched him. He found no weapon, but unearthed from the interior of David's jumper a pop bottle containing a clear, colorless fluid with the cap tightly clamped on—so tightly, in fact, that he couldn't remove it with his fingers.

Escorting his captive into a store near the station, Officer Twiddy proceeded to pry off the cap. One smell of the contents of the bottle convinced him that David wasn't carrying a "chaser."

David's story in court was to the effect that while walking along the Woodville Highway last night, in the rain and darkness, he spied the bottle in question lying by the roadside. He picked it up, he said, with the idea of examining its contents later. Asked why he thrust it into his jumper instead of carrying it in his hand, he said it was raining and he didn't want the bottle to become wet. He contended, vigorously, that he didn't know it contained corn liquor.

GOVERNMENT IS AFTER DATA ON COAL MOVEMENT

Production, Distribution, Sales Volume and Consumption Fuel Under Close Scrutiny

CONGRESS MUST ACT

But Pressure Not to Come from Labor or Administration But from Outside Sources

By J. C. ROYLE (Copyright, 1925, by The Advance)

Washington, Oct. 15.—Various Government departments are quietly accumulating extensive data concerning the production, distribution and sale of coal and substitute fuels in anticipation of Congressional action on the anthracite strike at the coming session.

Such action, according to leaders of Congress already here, is bound to come even if the strike is settled before December. It will not come, however, as a result of pressure from the administration or from the American Federation of Labor, but from outside sources in the various Congressional districts.

The next few days will determine the strength of the parties to the anthracite controversy.

On Thursday the new and lower railroad freight rates on the so-called "eastern" lines, which are coal produced in Pennsylvania and West Virginia will go into effect. Under those rates will be determined to what extent the public can disregard the continued closing of the anthracite mines.

So far the reserve stocks of anthracite have proved sufficient for general needs in most consuming districts. The mine workers have taken comfort from the fact that New England has been slow to adopt substitute. The operators have seen little of encouragement in this fact. The weather has been warm, anthracite stocks have been high and they have maintained the utmost pressure on their dealers to prevent the latter urging the use of substitutes for anthracite.

How long they can hold their dealers in line after the pinch comes, they admit they are unable to say. Nonetheless many experts here in close touch with both the industrial and labor sides of the controversy declare that President Lewis of the Mine Workers has already lost this strike. They point out that for the last ten weeks bituminous production has averaged 11,000 tons a week whereas consumption has not exceeded 9,000 tons weekly. This has added 20,000,000 tons to reserve stocks which totalled 38,000,000 tons ten weeks ago. A good portion of the low volatile excess is ready to be shipped into Pennsylvania, New York and New England the minute the new freight rates are in effect. New England is perfectly willing for Government officials and others to worry about her coal situation so long as she knows that this tremendous reserve is at her beck and call in case of need.

In the meantime, public officials here are deluged with appeals for individual pet fuels from various sections. Many feel that any action by Congress will be in the nature of locking the stable door after the horse is stolen, but locking it in such a way that neither horse nor thief can enter in the future.
