

CITY'S FIRST BIG PURE FOOD SHOW DRAWS TO CLOSE

Exhibitors Decide Not to Carry Event Through Present Week, as Had Been Proposed Earlier

THOUSANDS ATTENDED

Numerous Valuable Prizes Awarded to Winners in Many Contests Put on as Feature of Show

Elizabeth City's first Pure Food Show is over. After having announced they would continue it through the present week, the wholesalers and other exhibitors decided late Saturday night that it would be better to end it then, rather than to let it drag along to what might prove a somewhat inglorious finish. Already, plans are in the making for next year's food show, to be far more elaborate than the one held Friday and Saturday nights.

Exhibitors generally expressed themselves today as delighted with the outcome of this year's Food Show. The crowds both nights far exceeded their most optimistic expectations, and the present probability is that the next show will last for at least a week.

Despite the fact that the wholesalers, marketmen and others who put on the show last week had only two weeks in which to prepare for the event, the show was an exceptional success. Many among the thousands who thronged the City Market during the two nights it was in progress expressed delight at the beauty of the decorations, the excellence of the music by the Carolina Merry-makers, formerly known as the Red Men's Orchestra, and the generous distribution of souvenirs and prizes.

A check-up of the prize awards today disclosed that they were distributed widely. Mrs. Ernest Williams, 218 North Boulevard street, won the Radiator heater given by the Gas Company, and Mrs. A. P. Midgett was winner of the $25 meat order awarded by Marion C. Love, marketman.

Mrs. Wilton Bunch and the Rev. R. W. Provest were jointly winners of a large rockfish offered by Thomas Crank, fish dealer, and each was presented a quart of choice oysters. Mrs. W. F. Jennings, Cypress street, won a basket of selected fruits given by Stanton & Burgess, wholesale produce dealers, and Mrs. J. M. Spruill a box of fancy apples presented by Banks & Hughes.

One case of Coca Cola was awarded each half hour by the Elizabeth City Coca Cola Bottling Works, the winners being Mrs. Wilton Bunch, Mrs. Edson Carr, Mrs. H. C. Foy, Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Mrs. E. M. Hughes and Mrs. W. H. Weatherly, Jr. Twelve pound bags of flour were given by D. R. Morgan & Company, to Miss Edna Sanderlin, Mrs. J. H. Bundy, Mrs. J. W. Chambers and G. C. Dowdy.

A five-pound box of fancy candies, awarded by W. H. Weatherly & Company, was won by Miss Evelyn Jones, Church street. Mrs. H. C. Foy, of Camden street, won the Radiator heater given by Culpepper Davis, marketman, went to Mrs. G. W. Williams, North Road street. Her guess was 550, the correct number of grains of corn in a bottle.

In the cooking demonstrations given by the Gas Company, meats donated by Marion C. Love were used exclusively, and King Flake Flour and Hygeia Coffee given by W. J. Woodley, wholesaler. The demonstrations were among the most interesting features of the show.

After having given 500 samples of canned goods to as many ladies who registered at the company's booth Friday night, J. B. Flora & Company awarded 24 combination packages of canned goods to holders of lucky numbers Saturday night. The winners were: William Jones, Mrs. J. M. Spruill, Mrs. Evelyn Bright, Mrs. Miles W. Scott, of Weeks-ville, C. E. Anderson, Thomas Baanight, L. C. O'Neal, Mrs. A. Raymond Moore, A. Raymond Moore, G. W. Simpson, Miss Mary Winslow, J. P. Thompson, Mrs. J. M. Spruill, Mrs. J. B. Jenkins, Sr., Miss Mary Kendrick, Linwood Beamon, Mrs. W. A. Beads, Mrs. J. H. Bundy, Mrs. F. M. Wilson, Miss Elsie Leary, John L. Wells, Mrs. W. H. Weatherly, Sr., William H. Croysey and J. O. Twiddy.

Winners of 12 pound bags of flour given by W. J. Woodley Saturday night included: Mrs. J. W. Cox, Miss Mildred Pool, Mrs. C. F. Parker, Mrs. S. D. Bagley, Mrs. Ira Gillop, Miss Mary Owens, Mrs. Edwin Peregbe, Mrs. J. W. Dawson, Mrs. J. E. Hughes, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. J. Taylor, Mrs. W. P. Harris, Mrs. R. M. Phelps, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Menden, John L. Wells, Mrs. W. H. Jennings and Mrs. R. C. Skiles.

M. P. JENNINGS HEADS TEACHERS

Successful Two Days' Conference Closes at Washington, N. C.

Washington, N. C., Nov. 16.—Following a successful two-day conference, the delegates and members of the North Carolina Education Association, Northeastern district, adjourned Saturday. M. P. Jennings of Elizabeth City was elected president and J. H. Workman, secretary.

The total registration was over 850 but more than 150 additional teachers and their relatives were also in attendance.

A brilliant address by Dr. Harry Furman was enjoyed at the session Friday evening. He spoke on the problems of education in this state. A resolution was specially introduced and unanimously passed; it pledged the unqualified support of the organization in Washington's effort to cause Washington, D. C., to adopt another cognomen. Carl Goerck, publisher of the Washington Progress, was largely instrumental in getting this resolution through the committees and to adoption.

Election of officers for the Northeastern District for the term of 1925-26 as follows:

General Officers—President, M. P. Jennings, Elizabeth City; vice-president, Miss Minnie Lou Kelly, Washington; secretary, J. H. Workman, Beaufort.

City Department—President, H. C. Miller, Washington; vice-president, S. T. Emery, Tarboro; secretary, S. L. Sheep, Elizabeth City.

High School Department—President, Z. L. Foy, Rocky Mount; vice-president, A. B. Combs, Elizabeth City; secretary, Miss Maude Daniels, Kingston.

County Superintendents—President, Jno. W. Harden, Plymouth; vice-president, Miss Maude C. Newberry, Currituck; secretary, R. H. Bachman, Edenton.

Science Department—President, F. D. Fanning, Washington High School; vice-president, H. C. Whitehurst, Cove City High School; secretary, Miss Laurie McLawhorn, Winterville High School.

Grammar Grade Department—President, Miss Scottie Holgood, Kingston; vice-president, Mrs. Paxton Dixon Jasper, secretary, Miss Christine Johnson, Greenville.

Primary Department—President, Mrs. E. C. Worthington, Washington; vice-president, Merle Groves, Atlantic; secretary, Miss Margaret Harris, Elizabeth City.

An invitation was extended the teachers to hold their next yearly meeting in Greenville, which was unanimously accepted. The feature of the morning session was the address by A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mr. Allen's theme being, "Conditions in the Rural Schools in Comparison with one Teacher Schools." The outstanding idea was that the child who lives in the country, goes to school approximately three years longer than the city child, often getting discouraged and stopping; also that this child has not gotten the same grade of training as the city child. Seventy-five per cent of the school children come from the country and the city population is largely composed of the above group. The State should increase its teacher training and give the country pupils the same advantages it allows the city child. "Is it fair," Mr. Allen asked, "to expect the rural graduates to go to Greenville or similar training schools to prepare themselves with a three or four year course to have them return and offer them a six months' school term. The idea that any kind of teacher is good enough for the primary grades is a grave mistake. You should put the best teachers you have in the elementary grades for often it takes several years for a higher grade teacher to correct the work done in the lower grades. State legislation should be enacted to give every child in North Carolina the right to an eight months school, subject to the demands of the community, or more if the community wishes it. This is the first step in uplifting the rural schools to the standard it is seeking.

WASHINGTON IS ENJOYING ITS HERO WORSHIP

Colonel Billy Mitchell Is Man of the Hour With Everybody But High Officials Army and Navy

CLERKS APPLAUD

Nobody Gets More Thrill Out of the Trial Than Government Employees of Various Departments

By ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1925, by The Advance)

Washington, Nov. 16.—Washington has been wanting a hero for a long time and Colonel Billy Mitchell appears to have filled the more or less aching void. The Capital residents have wanted some one to cheer when his picture appeared on the screen at the movies, and they have been cheering the doughty colonel to the echo. They like best the poses shown where he is standing before the court, head erect, shoulders thrown back, finely chiseled chin aloft—the very embodiment of defiance and the damnation of all traitors. Moviegoers know how to appreciate a good registration and they love the way the colonel registers before the camera.

But it is not alone at the movies that Colonel Mitchell is honored and sung. His every public appearance is a signal for a demonstration. Washington is not a demonstrative community. It is inclined to take its great and near-great rather casually—as certain folks are always wont to take their high priests and prophets. Of all the cities in the United States Washington believes in keeping cool. Generally speaking it is as cool today as it ever was. But Colonel Mitchell makes it lose its head. The high officials of the Army and Navy are not to be included by any chance in the lists of Mitchell hero-worshippers. They are almost unanimous in their opinion that he has been both disrespectful and insubordinate and should be thrown bodily out of the service. Society and the women folks who always have made a fuss over the colonel when he has been on duty here, are the leaders in the Mitchell vogue. The colonel and his wife are being entertained daily and on Sunday as if he were some visiting prince or potentate. If it were not for the fact that he is compelled during part of the day to face his stern and war-weary judges of the court martial, the colonel would be wine and dined, morning, noon and night.

But there is still another class of Mitchell worshippers here in Washington and perhaps it is the largest class of all. It is made up of the tens of thousands of Government department clerks, men, women and flappers. The colonel appeals to them mightily. Perhaps he is saying a few things about the higher-ups in the Government the clerks would like to say themselves. In any event every time he deals a new hammer blow to the clerks arise and howl with a glee that can well be classed as shonllish. The clerks admire the nerve of the colonel. They like to see him standing up there in fighting posture. The clerks can't get into the court martial—only some 80-odd spectators are admitted each day—and they are largely relatives of the colonel, but their servants of the Government are following the trial closely through the papers and through the moving pictures and they are having the times of their lives.

It is said that Washington for once reflects the views of the rest of the country, so far as the man in the street is concerned. You can hear the case discussed everywhere. Two disappointed would-be spectators were standing outside the court room here a day or two ago.

"He won't get a square deal," said one.

"Of course not," said the other.

But the colonel appears to be getting a square deal at the present time. He has been given a latitude which is nothing short of amazing.

BAPTISTS MEET AT CHARLOTTE TUESDAY

Charlotte, Nov. 16.—The Baptist State Convention will hold its ninety-fifth annual session in the First Baptist church of this city Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 17-19. Charlotte is preparing to take care of the largest attendance in the history of this body on the fall program. Possibly no one can forecast with any degree of certainty what action the Convention will take on the various important issues that will come before it. The only thing that is certain is that an interesting time is promised. Perhaps the resolution to be introduced by Dr. W. C. Barrett of Gastonia with reference to the election of the trustees of the various Baptist institutions in the State by a direct vote of the Convention is attracting the greatest amount of interest.

SUPERIOR COURT FORCED TO TAKE RECESS MONDAY

Opposing Counsel in Actions Brought by Swift & Company Fail to Agree on Case to be Tried

NON-SUIT ACCEPTED

Damage Case of Mrs. Sabra Getsinger Against Dr. Corbell and Others Is Set for Tuesday

A judicial receding between opposing counsel in the rooms of Swift & Company and 11 defendants in Currituck County over transactions involving the purchase of fertilizer resulted in the loss of a day in Superior Court Monday. Judge Thomas H. Caldwell, presiding, ordered a recess until Tuesday morning when it became apparent that nothing could be accomplished in these cases which had been set for trial Monday.

Attorneys J. C. B. Ehringhaus of this city, and E. C. Lawrence, of Lumberton, representing Swift & Company, and Ayllett & Stimpson, appearing for the defendants, had reached an agreement whereby both sides would abide by the outcome of one of the 11 cases scheduled, but when attorneys for the defendants proceeded on the assumption that the first case, that against A. H. Koberidge, would be tried, they were informed by counsel for the plaintiffs that that arrangement would not be satisfactory to them, they preferring to try another of the cases.

The import of it all was that Swift & Company accepted a non-suit as to the Koberidge case rather than to try it, and the status of the other actions remains unchanged. Court officials stated there was a possibility that one of the cases would be tried this week, in the event that some other scheduled civil action should happen to be continued. The case of Mrs. Sabra Getsinger, in which the plaintiff seeks damages from Dr. E. F. Corbell, et al., and others in connection with an alleged conspiracy to have her committed to an asylum for the insane, is scheduled to come up Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, at the opening of court. This is expected to be the most interesting case on the civil docket of the present term.

LIQUOR FIGURES IN COURT CASES

Several Defendants Fined; Trial of Others Continued to Saturday

Testimony that at least a few Elizabeth City folks and guests in the city Saturday sought solace from Old John Barbervorn was forthcoming in abundant measure in reader's court Monday morning.

Some parties and court costs then and there, while others had their cases continued to Saturday morning. Charlie Alexander, employed on a boat, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He testified he obtained his liquor in Tyrrell County, and brought it here aboard the boat on which he works. B. F. Markham, of the Weeksville section, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of simple drunkenness. Ernest George, convicted of having been drunk and disorderly, paid a fine of $5 and costs. Nathan Thompson, charged with having used profane language in public, was fined $10 and costs.

Pleading guilty to a charge of shoplifting, Florence Overton colored, was put under a suspended sentence of 90 days in jail, conditional upon good behavior and payment of a fine of $25 and costs. She admitted having taken articles from the stores of Ashens & Ives and E. S. Chesson & Son.

A Saturday night party in which a half gallon fruit jar of liquor was served, but wasn't resulted in the arrest of Whit Wilson and Charlie Patrick on various liquor charges. Wilson was convicted of having had whiskey in his possession, but motion for judgment was continued until Saturday, when similar charges against Patrick will be heard.

Police testified they discovered a half gallon fruit jar of liquor in a raid on the party in question which, they said, was being held in Wilson's livery stable, on Green street. In the commotion which followed entry of the officers, at least one guest is said to have departed hastily and unceremoniously, and the liquor, police claim, was spilled on the floor.

Police are holding also a small quantity of liquor which they claim to have seized Sunday in a search of Patrick's home on Southern Avenue, and this, it is anticipated, will be used as evidence against him Saturday.

The court also continued until Saturday cases against Lyman Armstrong, Jack Sexton and Bruce Forben, charged with having been drunk and disorderly.

SPECIAL SCHOOL ELECTION TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Residents of Corinth, Small's, Nixonton and Banks Districts Will Vote on Additional Tax

SUCCESS ANTICIPATED

Sentiment in Territory Affected Declared to be Strongly in Favor of Educational Project

An election to determine whether a special school tax district shall be formed of Corinth, Small's, Nixonton and Banks districts will be held tomorrow, with a view subsequently to erection of a large and modern rural high school in the center of the territory which would be consolidated.

Of itself, the election is to decide whether the residents of the four school districts will authorize a special tax levy of 30 cents per $100 property valuation annually for educational purposes, to supplement the present six months' school term provided by the County and State, and to permit the addition of such buildings and other facilities as may be needed to improve educational opportunities in the territory affected.

A similar election, held September 1, included these four districts and six others, comprising all the territory now embraced in the Weeksville and Newland High School districts, failed because of strong opposition in the Forks and Berea communities. These communities are left out in the election, and it is indicated that they will stay out depends largely upon the trend of public sentiment in those sections later.

Strong sentiment favoring the special tax has manifested in the four districts in which tomorrow's balloting will be held, and there is every indication that the election will be carried, provided only that those who have registered turn out and vote. It is indicated that a systematic effort will be made to have every one on the books cast his ballot—unless he is known to oppose the special tax. These districts gave strong majorities for consolidation in the last election, but these were offset by the stay-at-homes in some of the other districts, notably Forks and Berea.

As in the last election, those who have registered but who fail to vote will count against the special tax proposal. Others who haven't registered will not count one way or the other. The election will be held at the usual polling places in the territory.

Impetus to the proposal for improvement of the schools in the territory just outside Elizabeth City has been added by announcement this fall that no out-of-town pupils will be accepted in the Elizabeth City High School after the present school term. If boys and girls of high school age in the district are to receive high school educational advantages hereafter, these advantages must be provided outside Elizabeth City unless the city school trustees change their minds.
