NORTHERN MARKETS.

We omit, as usual, our reports of the Northern markets, on the arrival of a steamer. The market is always unsettled in such cases—and we see nothing important to notice relative to articles not immediately affected.

The Market per Steamer Asia.

Liverpool, March 1st. The Cotton market was firm. Holders have taken a firm stand against any further decline, and they were keeping back for a more favorable time. The latest advices from America, giving confirmation of the previous estimate of stock, caused a favorable turn for sellers, and a good demand sprung up both from the trade and speculators. This increased the activity, which was responded to in Manchester, and the week closed with an advance in good ordinary to middling fair qualities of American, and ¼d advance on other kinds. The week closed with an appearance of firmness and confidence.—Fair upland was quoted at 7¼d, fair Mobile, 7¼d, and fair Orleans 7¼. The sales of the week amount to 39,400 bales.

Provisions.—There has been an improved feeling in the market for Beef, and it continues firm; but, for want of assortments, the transactions were not as extensive.

Breadstuffs.—Sales of foreign wheat and flour have been very slow, and flour has declined 6d. per bbl. Baltimore is quoting at 20 to 21 shillings. Western Canal 20 to 21s. 6d.

The price of Indian corn is supported as the previous rates, with a fair inquiry. Yellow 34s. 6d. for white, and 30s. to 31s. for mixed, prime 29s. 6d. to 30s. per qr. The imports are moderate.

Coffee is dull.

Molasses active—prices unchanged.

Naval Stores—Sales of 1000 bbls. common Rosin at 2s 4d. Spirits Turpentine brisk.

Money Market.—The money market is easy.—Consols (money) 96¼ a 96¾. American stocks unchanged.

$20 REWARD.

WILL be given for the delivery to me of my girl Anne, aged about 17, black complexion, well built, 5 feet 7 inches high. I purchased her of Mr. David D. Allen, of Brunswick county. She ran away on the 14th of the present month, March. I will give the same reward if she is taken and confined in either the jails of Brunswick or New Hanover.

ICE, ICE, ICE.

THE subscriber has laid in one Cargo of splendid Frost Pond ICE, and another is daily expected.

He has made arrangements for a full supply during the season. All orders accompanied with the cash, or from responsible persons will be well packed and promptly forwarded.

As the Ice trade is a Cash business altogether, no credit keeping books. Tickets can be had from my Agent at my Ice House.

I am obliged to my customers for their favors the last season, and hope by attention, and keeping a full supply to increase my business this year.

The Ice House will be open every morning till 8 o'clock, and at 12 o'clock, until the 15th April, and then all day, Sundays excepted. In case of sickness Ice can be had at any time, by calling at my house on Market Street.

PROSPECTUS OF THE CUBAN LIBERATOR.

IN this age of progress, it is absolutely astonishing that an Island of the magnitude of Cuba, within but a few days steaming from our shores should generally be so little truly known. More astonishing still, that such a luxuriant field for all the productive labors for which God made the human race, should at this boasted era of the 19th century, remain until now, actually under a Government, in perfect keeping with the darkest of all ages, in the annals of time.

Wonderful, however, as such facts are, they can be explained, and will be by me. Enough for the present, however, that the truth is excluded from the Cuban press, under the government censor. Truth is stifled in correspondence under the same power and surveillance over mail bags and individuals. The value of the Cuban trade suppresses much truth, upon pain of loss of such trade, and liberty, property and life too, should such patriotism visit the Island without a strong army, and but for such and similar tyranny, the United would long since have known Cuba better, for in the absence of this despotism, the present Government could not exist a month.

Considerations of this kind, with a full view to the prospectus as well as present, induced me to collect materials, which I am now writing out, and to collect them too, for correctly penning the work at much labor and expense, and no little anxiety and bodily pain, as well as much risk all the time, and the most perilous of all positions before I was done.

I went from Alabama, for health and on business, to Cuba, and when about returning on the United States mail steamer Ohio, on which I went out, and was then in port, I was suddenly arrested, and at the point of many bayonets escorted to one of those world-dreaded places—a Spanish prison!

One of those places, which in all ages have been a terror to the upright and brave. One of those places, which have been anti-chambers to the unnumbered and unknown graves of millions. One of those places where the veritable "Spanish Inquisition" of old still actually now exists, in nearly all the revolting characteristics of the ancient monster. One of those places, which in modern times has defied all probing and exposure, and has closed the light of heaven, and severed the dearest of earthly ties; for many of my countrymen whose hapless fate is either unknown to, or disregarded by the government of their native land. How long shall this be?

The unwelcome captivity I was compelled to endure, however, enabled me to explore as it were the hidden mysteries of the tombs, and my miraculous escape will enable me to illustrate them and all else, for previously, I had explored all accessible points, had possessed unusual facilities for such purposes, and without violating any confidence, much less any known law, I had incurred the displeasure of the government possessing absolute power, and wielding it with a secrecy, ruthlessness, and promptitude, enough to make the stoutest tremble.

This was the penalty for scorning the meanness of a servile courtier; for could I have consented to the degradation of stigmatizing with my pen my own country, my countrymen, and the glorious institutions of the land of my birth, basking in the sunshine of executive and unlimited power, and gold in abundance would have been my reward, and so would revelling in the charms of those dark eyed voluptuaries of a court, stooped in corruption from head to foot.

Repelling indignantly, as I did such advances as the first at least, that sage maxim of despots, that "he who cannot be used must be crushed," was speedily resorted to, and the stage pin fixed for such purpose, looms up frowningly under the guns of Moro Castle, and is replete in matter that will cause a thrill to vibrate from one extent to the other of

"The land of the free
And the home of the brave!"

Long may that infamous den of official and personal villainy stand as a monument of departed power in wicked hands, and as an achievement of the sons of freedom, never unmindful of the claims the world holds over them, to explode everything abroad and at home unworthy of the age, and the immortal sires mouldering in tombs, who laid the corner stone only of American greatness.

There is no estimating the augmentation of human happiness to be thus produced. No pen can describe even the beauty nor the value of Cuba when thus transferred. No revolution of any date could be more brilliant than this, for at Cuba it would not stop, and I invoke the smiles of providence upon the effort, and the manly hearts and hands before whom this may come.

The forthcoming work will be a neat book of 300 octavo pages, illustrated with engravings, the price will be $1, to be invariably paid when subscribed, to enable the author to have it done in the finest style of the arts.

Confident of a patronage as liberal as the subject is important, I shall endeavor to merit as much.—Editors who copy this, as well as Post Masters who "frank" remittances are authorized agents, and will please retain 25 per cent commission for the same, and I close this prospectus as I do drawings for steel plate engravings, the least interesting of which represents the author before the "Spanish Inquisition," and American ladies and gentlemen in Havana, throwing bags of gold as an offering for his release upon the desk of the American Consul.
