ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER. DR J S. HOUGTON'S GREAT DYSPEPSIA CURER!

The True Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Julee ! Prepared from Rennet, or the fourth stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D. Philadelaira, P.

D. Philadelphia, Pa. This is a great Natural Remedy for Indigestion, and Dyspepsis, curing after Nature's own Method, by Nature's own Agent, the Gostrie Juice. Pepsin is the chickelement, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gostrie Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines—It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming an Artificial Directive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastrie Julee in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it. By the aid of this preparation, the pains and evils of indigestion and Dyspepsia are removed just as they would be by a healthy Stomach. It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing cases of debility, emaciation, nervous decline and Dyspeptic consumption, supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The Scientific Evidence upon which it is based, is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.

Baron Leichig, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid. analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Ox, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach." Half a teaspoonful of pure Persin, infused or disolved in water, will digest or dissolve Fire Pounds

As it is not a secret remedy. no objection can'be raised against its use by Physicians in respectable standing and regular practice. Price in Fluid form, One Dollar per worde.

TEETOTUM.

The ingenuity of professional regues displays itself almost daily in some new contrivance for the deception of the unwary strateger, his entanglement and robbery. The Chief of Police has in possession one of the latest improvements in this department of art, called a tectorum. It is made of loory, has eight sides, a shaft of the same unterrait running through and projecting at each end, the shorter or lower projection forming a pistlike that of a boy's top, and the upper or longer a handle by which it is set in motion. Each side is marked with different numbers of spots like dire. The mode of operation is this:—a countryman passes the place at which the sharper, with his allies, is innocently spinning his toy; and some remark arrests his attention. He watches the game, and as it seems to promise largely in invorof an outside better, is induced to "try his luck." Of course he is allowed to win invariably, until on shifting wagers he has pocketed a dollar or two, and sees Dame Fortune so prodigal of her favors that he feels himself "manifestly destined" to certain and brilliant success. He increases his ventures from direct to dollars, when and and and and and produce to dollars. and bulliant success. He increases his venand brilliant success. He increases his ven-tures from dimes to dollars when suddenly the tables are turned, and he soon finds himself losing with tenfold the rapidity of his lormer gains. Excited, he plays on; "the game must be fair," he says, "for there's the tee-to-turn just the same as over, and no mat-ter in whose hands it was played, it always won for me at the outset. Luck will return again." And thus the poor fellow plays on till frequently his money, watch, and other valuables are all gone, and he finds himself utterly penniless among strangers, little dreaming it possible that he can have been Yet so it is. When the bets become harge enough to be interesting," (in gambling par-lance,) the shalt of the tee-to-tum, which is movemble to the initiated, was shifted, so that the relative position of the ends of the toy were reversed, and that which was the top thus becomes the bottom, and vice versu.—
The tee-to-tum being hollow, and the shaft loaded, the change of its position brings up in every instance a set of numbers different from those on which the countryman had won. EXCITEMENT AT LEXINGTON.-MAN SHOT from Lexington that something like a trage-dy came near being enacted at that place on Monday of last week. "A short time since, a young lady of some fifteen years, a Mis Merrill, ran off with a man named Harper and was married. More recently, some di ficulty having taken place between the par-ties, the man stated publicly that the mar-riage was a sham, and cust reflections on the character of his wife. Incomed thereat and burning with a desire for revenge, the injur-ed lady begged her brother-in-law to resent the insult. I builing to comply with her wishes, the resolute female took the matter in her own hands. She procured pistols, and having familiarized herself with their use, she sallied out in quest of her husband. Mestsallied out in quest of her husband. Meeting him on Maine street, she draw the weapon, and placing it at his head, pulled the trigger. In her hurry and agitation she had only half-cocked it, and it would not go off. In another moment, it was properly fixed and discharged, but the man having in the meantime turned round, the contents, consisincantime turned round, the contents, consisting of three buckshot, only grazed his arm and back, inflicting flesh wounds without doing any serious damage. Thinking she had killed him, the lady gave herself in charge of a magistrate, but soon ascertaining he wan only elightly hurt, she drew another ristol-and started after him again. He had am-ployed his time to good advantage, however, and succe eded in making his escape and se-creting himself. The citizens of Lexington were so incensed against him, that in order to avoid being lynched, he fled the city that
