Ah! I was not aware of that. I am glad I spake to you, for I shouldn't like to lose six or seven hundred dollars.'
Six or seven hundred! Is it possible that he wants to buy so recklessly! Take my advice and don't think of trusting him." I certainly shall not,"

When Leonard ordered the goods the mer chant declined selling except for cash. 'As you please," returned the mechanic indifferently, and went elsewhere and made his purchases.

It happened that Mr. Leonard had a very pretty and interesting daughter, on whose education the mechanic had bestowed great painer, and it also happened that Baker had a son who, in most things, was a 'chip of the old block. Particularly was he like his father in his great love of money, and scarcely had he reached his majority, are he began to look about him with a careful eye, to a good matrimonial arrangement, by which plenty of money would be secured.

Adelaide Leonard, on account of her beau-ty and accomplishments, was much caressed. and mingled freely in society. Young Baker had met her frequently, and could not help being struck with her beauty, intelligence and

There is a charm for you,' said a friend to him one evening. 'In Miss Leonard?'

She's a charming girl' replied the young man. I wonder if her father is worth anything ?

People say so.' 'Yes. They say the old fellow has laid up something quite handsome; and as Ade-laids is his only child, she will of course get it all.

"I was not aware of that." fit is all so I believe.'

After this, Young Baker was exceedingly attentive to Miss Leonard, and made perceptible inroads upon her heart. He even went so far as to visit pretty regularly at her house, and was meditating an avowal of his attachment, when his father said to him one What young lady was that I saw you with in the street yesterday afternoon? Her name is Leonard. The daughter of old Leonard in -

Yes, sir. Mr. Baker looked grave and shook his

Do you know anything about her,' asked

Nothing about her; but I know that her father is going to the dogs as fast as ever a mas went.'
Indeed! I thought he was well off.'

Oh no, I've been looking to see his shop shut up, or to hear of his being sold out by the sheriff, every day, for these two years

'Miss Leonard is a very lovely girl.' She's the daughter of a poor vulgar mechance. If you see any thing so very levely in that, Henry, you have a strange taste.' There is no gainsaying Adelaide's personal attractions, replied the son, but if her father is poor, that settles the matter as far. as she and I are concerned. I am glad you introduced the subject, for I might have overed my error.' And a sad error it would have been, Henry. In any future matter of this kind, I hope you will be perfectly frank with me, I have dition and standing of people than you can committed myself, and, when too late, dis-

The son promised to do as his father wished. From that time the visits to Miss Leon ard were abated, and his attentions to her IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC SEwhen they met in society, became coldly formal. The sweet young girl, whose feelings had really been interested, felt the change, and was for a time unhappy; but in a low months she recovered herself, and was again as bright and cheerful es usual.

Time went steadily on, sweeping down one and setting up another, and still old Leonard didn't go to the dogs, much to the sur-prise of Baker, who could not imagine how the machine kept his head above water after having driven away his best customers, as he must long since have done, if all were treated as he had been. But he was satisfied of one thing, at least, and that was that the mechanic must be miserably poor, as he, in fact, deserved to be, according to his idea

One day, about a year after his timely caution to his son in regard to Miss Leonand, Baker impressed to pass along a street where he had not been for some months.—
Inst opposte a large, new, and beautiful house, to which the painters were giving from their very infancy to the period of puberty.—
It is not a friend. As they their last touches, he met a friend. As they passed. Baker said-

'That's an elegant house. It has been buil since I was in this neighborhood.' Yes, it is a very fine house, and I suppose didn't cost less than fifteen thousand dollars."
No. I should think not. Who built it?-

Do you know?

Yes. It was built by Leonard.

By whom? Baker looked surprised.

By old Leonard. You know him.'
Impossible! He's not able to build Oh, yes he is, and a half a dozen more if Certainly. Why, he's worth at least sev-ty thousand dollars.

You must be in error.

the daughter is to be married next the an excellent young man, and this has been built and is to be handsomeshed as a marriage present.

Incredible! I thought he was going or had gone to the dags, long ago.'
Leonard!' The friend could not help laughing aloud. He go to the dogs. Oh, no. There isn't a man in his trade that does so good a business, as little show as he makes. Good work, good prices, and punctuality, are the cardinal virtues of his establishment, and make all substantial. How in the world could you take up such a notion ?" 'I dou't know, but such has been my im-pression for a long time,' replied Baker, who felt exceedingly cut down on account of the mistake he had made, and particularly so in view of the elegant house and seventy thouand dollars which might all have belonged to his son in time, if he had not fallen into such an egrogrious error about old Leonard. So he world moves on. People are prone to think that what they smile on lives and what they frown on is blighted, and must

The Hellidaysburg "Standard" describes the following Locome ive trick on the Central Railroad a few days ago: The Eastern presenger train, going at the rate of about thirty miles an hour, when near Blair Furnace, passed through a large charcoal wag on, which was crossing the track at the time. leaving the horse and front wheels on one side. The feat was performed so quickly and quietly that the passengers did not notice it, and the speed of the locamotive was scarcely cherked. We can imagine the driver's surprise on seeing a train of cars pass through his wagon without so much as saying by your leave, or even stopping to make an apology!

NATURAL RELIGION.

We have been not a little amused with the following definition of the religion of nature." furnished by the Yankee Blade. It comes remarkably near the truth. 1. Look out for number one.

2. Use others all you can, und let them 'use" you as little as possible.

3. Get money; honestly, if you can, brtget money. 4. Hold on to what you have got, and get as much more as you can. 5. Every one for himself, and the dtake the hindmost.

Here you have the whole thing in a nutshell. There is no need of loking whole reams of paper with explanations of the subject. for here you have the exact doctrines in which the world believes, and which are practised upon by a vast majority of the people in every nation on the globe. ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER. DR. J. S. HOUGTON'S GREAT DYSPEPSIA CURER!

The True Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice! Prepared from Rennet, or the fourth atomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D. Direction, M. D. D. Direction, M. D. Direction

D, Philadelphia, Pa. This is a great Natural Remedy for Indigestion and Dyspensia, curing after Nature's own Method, hy Nature's own Agent, the Gastric Juice. Pepsin is the chief element, of Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming an Artificial Digestive Fluid, precisely like the matural Gastrie Juice, in its Chomical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it. By the aid of this preparation, the pains and evils of indigestion and Dyspepsia are removed just as they would be by a healthy Stomach It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing cases of debility, emaciation, nervous decline and Dyspentic consumption, supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The Scientific Evidence upon which it is based, is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.

Baron Leiebig, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Qx, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stamach." Half a teaspoonful of pure Persin, infused or dislved in water, will digest or dissolve Five Pounds Roust Beef in about two hours out of the Stem-

Dr. Houghton's Pepsin, is sold by nearly all the dealers in fine drugs and Popular Medicine, throughout the United States. It is prepared in Powder, and in Fluid form—and in Prescription vials for the use of Physicians.

Private Circulars, for the use of Physicians, may be obtained of Dr Houghton or his Agents, describing the whole process of preparation and giving the authorities upon which the claims of this new remedy are based. As it is not a secret remedy, no objection can be raised against its use by Physicians in respectable standing and regular practice. Price in Fluid form, One Dollar per bottle. PEPSIN IN POWDER.
