$25 REWARD.

RAN away from the subscriber, on Sunday, 31st. August, a negro man, named Ireland, about 28 or 30 years old. He is about 5 feet 8 inches high, black, rather stout, bushy hair and beard, and he leans torward very much in walking. He had on an old suit of drab kersey when he went off. We purchased him from Mr. Owen Holmes, about two years since; he formerly belonged to Mr. Andrews, of Bladen county, and may have returned to his old neighborhood; but we think it is probable that he is now lurking about Town; The above reward will be paid for his apprehension and confinement in any jail, so that we can get him.

THE TRUE GENTLEMAN.

The distinguished Governor Morris, of Ma ania, near the city of New York, who was a go ania, near the city of New York, who was a getcleman by birth, education and the most long bearing, on being asked for his definition of a gentleman, replied, in the words of the Pealaists:

"Tis he who every thought and deed
By rule of virtue mores;
Whose generous torque diediins to speak
The thing his heart disproves;
Who never did a stander forge,
His neighbor's fame to speak
Nor hearters to a false report,
By malice whispered round,
Who vice in all its pomp and power
Can trent with just neglect;
And picty, through clothed in rags,
Religiously respect.

Who to his preglated words and trust

Who to his physical words and trust Has ever firmly stood; And, though he promise to his loss, He makes his promise good.
Whose soul in usury disdains His treasure to employ;

Whom no rewards can ever bribe The guiltless to destroy." (This Palam was copied by Mr. Jefferson, in the smallest hand and nestest manner, in his common-place book.] EXAMPLE FOR YOUTH.

The distinguished poet and traveller, Bayard Taylor, who has sailed for Egypt to explore the source of the Niger, was a few years ago an apprentince to the printing business in Philadelphia. Step by step ha ross in the world, till he is now one of the brightest literary ornaments of our country. A poet, author, traveller, one of the proprie tors of the New York Tribune, and all by his own labor and genius. Well might of youth make him a model for the emulation—the proud architect of his own fortune.

TERRIFIC SCENE WITH A BALLOON.

A balloon ascension, by Mr. S. A. King, on Thursday afternoon, from the Zoological Garden, at Pairmout, Philadelphia, was a terrible affair. The ascension was delayed until nearly floclock in consequence of there not being a sufficient quantity of gas in the balloon. The Pennsylvanian says:

"Just before six o'clock Mr. King stepped into his car. but finding that the gas was not sufficient to take him up, he threw out all. his ballast, and he arose a few feet fro cord, and just as it was about to be cut loose the car was dashed with some violence against one of the sheds of the en The people rushed and caught hold of the net ropes, and pulled the balloon back into the enclosure. He said he was determined to go if the gas was sufficiently powerful to take him, and off he started again.

From the Boston Rambler

DISGRACEFUL. Not a little astonishment and indignation have been awakened among our citizens, ra learning that FIVE BUNDARD BASERTS OF learning that FIVE BUNDRED BASKETS OF CHAMPAGNE, or SIX THOUSAND SOTTLES, were furnished by the city for the guests who participated in the "harbor excuyation," last week! Dea. Grant, who was a member of the excursion committee, informs the Post that the liquors were ordered by a minority of that committee, and that he had assurances that the excursion would be "free from the intoxicating glass." The affair should be thoroughly sifted, that our citizens may know who authorized this disgraceful introduction of liquor into a public municipal featival, directly contrary to the custom of the city for many years past and in deficine of the known wishes and principles of the great mass of those who must pay the hills. We are glad to see that one of our Candian visitors has strongly, though in a course ous tone, rebuked this inconsistent and unexpected abuse of hospitality, in the columns of the Traveller. When we remember, to use his language, that Canadians have been in the habit of looking up to New England as a pattern, with regard to temperance, and all the efforts of temperance men in Canada have been aided by reference to the exceilence of our laws and practice in this respect, we may conceive the extent of the injurious influence which this display of intoxicating drinks before so many Canadians is likely to exert. Our critizens have a right to demand an explanation of this mysterious conduct on the part of their public servants, and we hope they will persent in uninging them to a reckoning.

"This time he arose over the enclosure and came in contact with the Wire Bridge." CHAMPAGNE, OF SIX THOUSAND BOTTLES, WES

This time he arose over the enclosure and came in contact with the Wire Bridge. He soon became extricated, but unfortunately struck the telegraphic wire which held him sometimes. Pesently he became loos, struck another part of the bridge, and finally went down plump into the waters of the Schuylkill. An exciting, amusing, and with al, a terrible scene, was enacted. The balloon bounced up and down, and in this way proceeded for several hundred yards. Every time it descended, Mr. King would be plunged in, apparently up to his neck in the water.

"The people on shore ran in every direc-tion—several boats purout to the assistance of Mr. King, but from all we can learn, he ar-rived on the shore on the opposite side of the river, more frightened, perhaps, than hurt.— This was the first attempt on the part of Mr. King to make an arrial voyage,"
