$25 REWARD.

RAN away from the subscriber, on Sunday, 31st. August, a negro man, named Iroland, about 28 or 30 years old. He is about 5 feet Sinches high, black, rather stout, bushy hair and beard, and he leans forward very much in walking. He had on an old suit of drab kersey when he went off. We purchased him from Mr. Owen Holmes, about two years since; he formerly belonged to Mr. Andrews, of Bleden county, and may have returned to his old neighborhood; but we think it is probable that he is now lurking about Town; he above reward will be paid for his apprehen-and confinement in any jail, so that we can get ANDERSON & YOUNG.

WHOLESILE WATCH AND JEWELRY STORE. L. H. MILLER & CO. IMPORTERS, Manufacturers and Jobbers of WATCHES, JEWELRY, & FANCY GOODS, have leased the Old Stund formerly occupied by Messrs. Canfield, Brother & Co. SOUTH-BAST COR-NER OF CHARLES AND BALTIMORE STREETS, (No. 227,) which they are putting in complete order for the WHOLESALE WATCH AND JEWELRY BUSINESS, to be opened about the 20th of July. In calling the attention of the trade to the new concern, we mention the fact that we are associated with one of the most extensive JEWELRY MAN-UFACTURING ESTABLISHMENTS in the ecountry, which must give a decided advantage over all others in this market, for supplying dealers with Jewelry at manufacturers' prices; a feature in this branch of trade long since needed, between Baltimore and the Southern and Western Merchants. We desire to call particular attention to the Watch department, which will at all times be supplied with a great # sortment from the most celebrated manufacturers, and kept in perfect running order, so that guarantee that they will perform correctly.

This branch of the business will receive the especial attention of one of the firm, whose extensive and practical knowledge of the business, will we hope, give us a place in the confidence of buy-We respectfully invite you to call upon us when you next visit our city, confidently believing that an examination of our Goods will prove to you, that they are better styles and cheaper than you have ever seen in this market, and assure you that no effort shall be wanting on our part to make the acquaintance one of mutual benefit.

Dear friend ! If word of mine could seek The bitter fount of all thy tours, And, through the future's cloudy possense glimpse of sumbles yet reveal-

That word I might not dare to speak; A father's sorrow o'er his child So sacred seems and undefiled, To bid it cease we may not seek.

Thy little boy has passed away From mortal sight and mortal love, To join the shining choir above And dwell amid the perfect day;

All robed in spotless innocence, And fittest for celestial things, O'ershadowed by her rustling wings The angel softly led him hence:

As pure as if the gentle rain Of his baptismal morn had so His bosom's depths, and ever though Had sweetly cleansed from earthly stain Such blessed assurance brings, I know,

To bleeding hearts but sad relief-The dark and troubled fide of grief Must have its painful ebb and flow— And most of all when thou dost plod,

Alone, upon these wintry days, Along the old familiar ways Wherein his little feet have trod. And thou dost treasure up his words, The fragments of his current talk, On some remembered morning walk,

When, at the song of carliest birde, He'd ask of thee, with charmed look, And smile upon his features spre Whose ca eful hand the birds had fed,

Or viewing, from the distant glade, The dim horizon round his home With simplest speech and air would con And ask why were the mountains made?

And filled the ever-running brook?

Are but the threads of darkest hue, That daily enter to renew The warp of the Eternal Loom. And when to us it shall be given

In joy to see the other side, the mind escapes from a seemingly hopele dilemma, is worth all the vestments of dign ty which the world holds. It was this readings in reparatee which continually saved Voi tarie from social overturn. He once praised another writer very heartly to a third person. "It is very strange," was the roply. "that you speak so well of him, for he says that you are a charlatan"? "Oh," replied Voltaire, "I think it very likely that both of us may be mistaken."

Again, you must all have heard the ar dote of the young gentleman who was dis-coursing very dogmatically about the appro-priate sphere of woman. "And pray, sir," screamed out an old lady, "what is the ap-propriate sphere of woman?" "A celestial sphere, madam."

Robert Hall did not lose his power of re tort even in madness. A hypocratical of doler with his misfortunes once visited in in the mad-house, and said in a whining to "What brought you here, Mr. Hull?" Hall significantly touched his brow with his finger, and replied, "What'll never bring you, significantly for the state of the too much brain !"

"She was Maid of Orleans," A Yankee is never upset by the astonish-ing. He walks among the Alps with his hands in his pockets, and the smoke of eiger is seen among the mists of Niagara. One of this class sauntered into the office of the light-ning telegraph and asked how long it would take to transmit a message to Washington.—
"Ten minutes," was the seply. "I can't wait," was his rejoinder.
