The True Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice Prepared from Rennet, or the fourth stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M.

D., Philadelphia, Pa. This is a great Natural Remedy for Indigestion nd Dyspepsia, curing after Nature's own Method by Nature's own Agent, the Gastric Juice. Pepsin is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming an Artifcial Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice, in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it. the aid of this preparation, the pains and evils of in digration and Dyspepsia are removed just as they would be hy a healthy Stomach. It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing cases of debility, emaciation, nerious decline and Dyspeptic consumption, supposed to he on the verge of the grave The Scientific Evidence upon which it is based, is in the highest degree curious and remarkable. Haron Leichig, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid. ansozona to the Gastric Juice, may be prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Ox, in which various articles of food, as meat an teggs. will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach Half's teaspoonful of pure Parers, infused or disolved in water, will digest or dissolve Five Pounds Roast Best in about two hours out of the Stom-

FOR THE COMMERCIAL. TWAS IN THE MONTH OF MAY

Twas in the merry month of May," When bilthsome Lasses romp all day, And twine fair flowers in their hair, And laugh to see them drooping there; That Kate and I strolled forth to view, Sweet Nature wear her lovellest bue, And plack her grateful offerings fair. That lent their fragrance to the air.

We sauntered down the shady lane, And hied us to the aloping plain. Where gaily sprang the timid Mare, Forth from his little grassy lair, And oh! how lovely was the see Beneath that azure sky—serene; How charmingly the meadow lay With lovely flowers blooming gay.

There laughed the rose, on verdant bush While lillies blushed behind the rush, And scented was the evening air. From honey suckles growing near; Now sang the Thrush on yonder tree And now the Robin o'er the lee, While loud the Mock-bird's notes were heard, And louder still the lowing herd.

The little brook meandering by, Sent forth a feeble lullaby, High wantoning the Minnows leaped, In the little stream from which we sipp And nought was there to break the spell, While lingering in that woodland dell, And many praises from Kate and I, Went up to God who rales on high.

From the Raleigh Christian Sun.

ARCHBISHOP HUGHES and his catholic chapter in the HISTORY OF HIS COUNTRY.

I have been for a number of years watching the movements of the leaders of Roman Catholicism in this country, and recently my attention has been directed to the course of the distinguished advocate of the MAN OF sin, and the ingenious manner he has tried to throw a veil over the eyes of the people, to keep them from seeing the corruptions of the Catholic Church, and to cover up the dark and bloody deeds of Pepes and Cardinals in years past.

He now comes before the public with a chapter on this country, and would have us believe, that Protestants are dependent upon Catholics for the freedom of this land.

He has studied rhetoric, and understands how to seize upon the isolated favorable points of his subject, for the purpose of car-rying forward his principles. In his lecture a few evenings since he labored hard to prove, that under the constitu-tion of the United States, Roman Catholics were entitled to civil and religious liberty.— Who ever disputed it? and what is the use to spend so much time to prove something that no person denies, and every school boy knows is true. Under the same constitution the Jew can build his synagogue, the Turk his mosque, and the Persian erect his temple to the sun, and their children can aspire to the highest offices. No one disputes these facts. The Archbishop, cites, and connects, in one recital three remarkable and distant events.— 1st. The support given by isabella, Queen of Spain to Columbus. 2d. The erection all Goods shipped by him, will be delivered to their of the cross by the latter on the Island of San Salvador. 3d. The resignation of his command of the army. These embrace a period of near 300 years. But let me ask what were the Catholics doing all this time? The Archbishop does not stop to tell us of the bloody wars and persecutions perpetrated by the Catholic Church.

He does namelt us that this period em braced the massacre of 70,000 Protestants in cold blood on St. Bartholomew's day in France, or the revocation of the ediet of Nantz which ruined thousands of families, and drove them into desolate exile. It was during this period that the most infernal of human institutions, "the Inquisition" was in full blast and on the wheels of which were broken, the bones, spirits, and souls of its victims. It was during this period that the Catholic Spaniards, by their cruelties destroyed whole tribes of unoffending Indians in South America. South America. It was during this period that Las Casis, a Catholic priest seeing the suffering and decimation of the Indians in the West India Islands, by the cruelties in-flicted upon them, was the first to introduce African Blaves to supply their places, as be-ing adapted to withstand the climate. Then again how was Columbus treated and rewarded by Catholic Spain for his services. It was during this period that Protestants were burnt at the stake for conscience' sake in England, and other parts of Catholic Europe. It was during the reign of bloody Queen Mary a Catholic and grand daughter to Catholic Ferdinand of Aragon in Spain. that the most torrid persecutions prevailed

In her brief reign the historian tells us that 277 persons were burnt to death by the Catholic persecutions of this bigoted woman, be sides thousands of others, who were punished by imprisonments, fines, confiscations.—

"Amongst those who suffered were five Protestants Bishopa, twenty-one clergymen, eight lay gentlemen, eighty-four tradesmen, one hundred husbandmen, fifty-five women and four children."
