ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER.

GREAT DYSPEPSIA CURER!

The True Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice repured from Rennet, or the fourth stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebly, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

Pois is a great Natural Remedy for Indigestion, and Dyspensia, curing after Nature's own Method. Purifying, Preserving, and Stimutating Agent of gers. From his long experience an Agent to Withe Stomuch and Intestines. It is extricted from mington of the several Steam Boat Companies, the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming an Artificial Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastrie Juice, in its .: hemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it. By the aid of this preparation, the pains and cells of indigestion and Dyspepsia are removed just as they would be by a healthy Stomach. It is doing wonders for Dyspentics, curing cases of debitity, emaciation, nervous decline and Dyspeptic consumption, sup-highest degree carious and remarkable. Biron Leiebig, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Dige-tive Fluid. an rogons to the Gastrie Julee, may be prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Ox, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach'

DOCTOR HAYNE, THE MODERN MA. CAIRE.

With ange is coming down from heave

This individual, whose criminal and swind-ling exploits were first exposed in the Delta, has been referred to in various papers at the North and West, as "late of New Orleans,"
—"a merchant from New Orleans," etc. In justice to our city, which has aircredy as much responsibility of that kind to bear as will satisfy the highest ambition of our cal-umniators, we feel bound to disclaim the hon-or of the birth or residence of the accomumnators, we feel bound to disclaim the honor of the birth or residence of the accomplished charlatan. He came here unhersided and unknown; and, what was worse still, he departed as suddenly and secretly as he came. Whilst here, he certainly was very successful in imposing upon a number of people, who are usually wide-awke to such characters. We have conversed with several of his victims, and from none of them could we ever learn any of his auteredients. ever learn any of his antecedents— who he was, what he was, where he came, and what were his purposes." He would certainly be a man of mark in any place, and yet to traces of him, previous to his arrival here have not here discovered.

here, have yet been discovered. Such talents as he possesses could not have been long "hid under a bushel," Munro Ed-wards, Dr. Hynes, and others who have playwith Mr N. T. Hannies, is desirous of closing up his old sustances, and begs leave to urge upon ed conspicuous parts in the same line of operations, were common place, low bred characters, compared with Dr. Hayne, who, in every external attribute of a gentleman, created with everybody the most favorable impression. Of fine appearance, elegal t man-ners, frank address, calm and gallant bear-ing, it is impossible that he should not have and of association with refined society. And yet, with his propensities, his audacity, his THE Steamer Brothers and Tow Boats, Steven-reckless outrages upon law and honesty, how could be have lived to the age of forty and escaped the notoriety, disgrace and pu ment which, sooner or later, must reach all such offenders? Men do not plunge sudden-ly into complex crimes, of the character of those perpetrated by Dr. Hayne. They do not acquire, after a short practice and experience, the skill, art, and consummate dapleity which marked his transactions. He must have had a good deal of previous practice, to have attained such finish in rasculity. Where was that experience acquired? Who were his victims? Will no one satisfy this curios.

All that we can learn of Dr. Hayne, is, that he pretended to be a Virginian, from Harry county. Whilst here he sought the acquain county. Whilst here he sought the acquaintance of Virginians and appeared to be familiar with every body's history and family, but no Virginian ever knew him.

He also claimed relationship with the distinguished family of his, name in South Corolina. During his few weeks' residence here, he succeeded in drawing around him a highly respectable circle of friends and admirers. many of whom retain pleasing memerioes of their dashing friend, not in the shape of locks of his hair-lor the Doctor work a wire-but in the form of due bills for sundry small loans. tion of their confidence and support, as I intend to devote my time to that business.

Refer to Mesers. Ellis & Mitchell, R. H. Grant, Esq., Geo. R. French, Esq., C. Myers, Esq., and ces, was the exhibition of a ! ther of credit for a large amount, accompanied by high tesnection with a gentleman who bore the name of one of the first merchants in Philadelphia, —whose, large resources would be at the disposal of the New Orleans firm." With this letter of credit, the strong name of his partner, and by means of simulated tele graphic dispatches, the Doctor came very near getting $30,000 from one of our Banks. Indeed he was promised the money positive-ly the next day, if nothing occurred to change the minds of the President and Direct That next day was the one of the Doe hegira. The Bank was behind the Doc in the receipt of its dispatches, and the enter prising gentleman, instead of calling at th Bank for his $30,000. was steaming it up the Mississippi as fast as one of our firstboats could carry him. On board he soon became the "eynosure of all eyes, the observed of all observers." In the baste of his departure, he did not neglect to put on board a demijohn of that magnificent old port with which he used to regale the select circle of his friends in his office on Camp street. Learning, in a very short time, the names, positions and churac-ter of every man on board, he was soon sur-rounded by candidates for his port, and smi-ling admirers of his off-hand manuers and Ser Pleasth Page.
