There was a very pleasant trip taken in the num boat Gov. Graham, Capt. Hurt, on Saturday, by a number of ladies and gentlemen. They went to the "Magnolia Tree" about 14 miles up the Northeast, and returning went down Brun-swick River as far as the Wilmington and Manchester Rail Road, and intended to take a trip thereon, but the Car had left before the party arrived. The Governor Graham is fitted up and sainted, and is now in fine order. She left yeseday for Fayetteville, with three boats in tow.

THE COLUMBUS TWINS.

We saw yesterday, at the Carolina Hotel, two oking negro children, who are quite a match for the Slamese Twins, whose exhibition created ch attention some years ago. They are conected by the vertebra, and present one of the most extraordinary freaks of nature on record.— We learn that the Proprietor will carry them to the North for Exhibition -commencing at Peters-COUNTY COURT.

THE LAST APPEAL.

On our first page will be found the article ske of on Saturday, from Dr. Tompkins, the tor of the Farmer's Journal.

If we could say any thing that would excite an nierest and engage the attention of those interested in this important subject, we would cheer fully lend our aid to the cause. But we believe neal of Dr. Tompress will of itself be sufficient to engage the sympathies of the friends of Agricultural Improvements, and stir them up to active exertions in behalf of his publication.

Dr. Tompains gives his Lecture in the Court House, this day, at 12 o'clock, when the community will have an opportunity of judging of his merits and of the validity of his claims to public encouragement.

A RECORD.

We are bound to record the public services of the Democratic Candidate for the Presidencywhere but little has been done that little all omolgated. The Newbernian says We find by a reference to the History of the River and Harbor bill, the fellowing record: Cirate it. This bill was before the United States ionate in 1836, it was passed by Congress and WAS APPROVED BY GENERAL JACKSON! It contained a great number of appropriations for important improvements in Rivers and Harbors in several of the Southern States-amongst the rest there was "an appropriation for the removal of obstructions at Ocracoke Inlet, N. C. $9,000 Also an appropriation for the improvement of Cape Fear River.

$20,000 "Mr. Pierce was at that time a member of the House of Representatives. We find he voted rainst these appropriations for the benefit of ply to the invitation; North Carolina. Pass him round."

NORTH BRITISH REVIEW-PUBLIC MEN. We have received the May number of the North British Review, re-printed by Leonard Scott & when she goes forth, like Miriam, with song and num. In an article on the Prospects of British which is quite applicable to the state of things in this country:

"When such are the tremendous-and though not irresponsible yet certainly uncontrolledpowers which we place in the hands of those who capacity, who shall say that we do not require in our public men the most commanding abilitypowers the most special and the most rare. The magnitude of the interests at stake cannot be exaggerated at too high a standard. The well being of a nation, and of that portion of human progress which it influences and decides, has to be provided for. How cautious, and how deliberately tested ought to be the choice of those to able." whom it is confided; how rich, numerous, varied and select, should be the list of candidates out of whom our election must be made."

The cause of this desecration of talent in Great Britain, is the same as in this country-it arises from the imperfections of the Delegates to the National Councils—the representatives in Parliament as well as those in Congress, are in good part "the shallow, the flashy, the men of narrow ision and imperfect education; the men who echoed rather than those who opposed the passions and prejudices of the place and hour." The people of this country, honest themselves are too confiding in the pretences and professions of ambitious aspirants. This is wrong-but still not so great a wrong as that which submits the indement and the will to party drill and discipagainst those who contcientiously and patrioti-eally refuse to adhere to party through all its ramisections of guilt and folly. The people are taught, and too ready to believe, that he who denounces or opposes a measure of his party, is a traitor, entitled to no quarter as a public man and no courtesy or charity as a private citizen; and thus the only true patriot and only man of ulne honesty in the crowd, is stigmatised as false to his country and recreant to her honor. It is the jacobinical principle that does all this; that licentionaness that boasts of "progression."

THE AMERICAN WHIG REVIEW-LAND RE-FORM

We have received the American Whig Review for June, a well known popular periodical, published by Champion Bissell, 120 Nassau Street, New York, at $3 per annum. There is an excellent article on Land Reform, in this number, in which the Author quotes the following points on which it is commonly and naturally resisted.

1. It is Agrarian, and invades the Rights of 2. It would discourage Industry, Thrift, and Frugality, directed towards the accumulation of property.

3. It would be unjust to the old States.

These objections the writer endeavors to renove, and considers it demonstrable that Land Reform, legitimately construed, and fairly executed, is eminently conservative in its tendencies and natural effects. He affirms, in regard to the two first objections, that they cannot be sustained against Land Reform, any more than against usury laws, or any others which recognise and affirm that these rights are subject to limitation As respects the third objection, he thinks that the old States will be as much benefitted as the new by the operation. That it would immensely accelerate the settlement and cultivation of the Great Valley, thereby doubling and quadrupling the trade of our Atlantic cities, the demand for Eastern Manufactures, and the revenues of our Canals and Rail Roads, there is no question. In place of some two millions per annum now paid into the Federal Treasury as purchase money for public lands, we should have ten, and in time twenty millions of revenue, from imports consumed by settlers on those lands; an amount great ly increased by the facility and rapidity of settle ment which Free Land would secure.

The subject requires the grave consideration of the American people, for it has become the question of the day. We have some hope that it will not be a mere party issue-for in such case, it will be impossible to obtain a fair and truthful investigation. There are social and political infinences that rise in the perspective-portents of good or evil; elements of conservatism, or materials of destruction, all dependant, under God, on the manner of arranging the progress and controlling the consummation of the settlements. That a vast proportion of those who will avail themselves of this opportunity will be foreigners, there can be but little doubt. The character of these persons will have a tremendous influence on the political destiny and social character of the country. We want no better citizens than the sober and industrious of the Scotch, German, Irish and French. We should be glad to make special provision for two classes, however; we mean the Irish Fardowners and Corkonians. If they could be put off in a seperate territory, at a reasonable tion, they might enjoy their riots and melees undisturbed, and cut one another's throats without being annoyed by their neighbors, and without spreading terror and dismay into the circles of the virtuous and the good. They may get tired of their abominable feuds by this means-for if they cannot render the innocent and the peaceable unhappy, or put them in peril, one half of their fun will be spoiled.

GENERAL PIERCE.

We love to record the gallant deeds of the emient and the brave. Of the great General Pierce the record says: "Gen. Pierce won no laurels in his Mexican campaign, and has no military reputation whatever. On the contrary, his brief career in the Mexican war, where he fainted on the field of battle, and was withdrawn to a place of safety, has left the impression that he was not possessed even of sufficient physical courage to face the enemy. Even in this war he served but a few months and he resigned his commission and returned to the bosom of his family long before the American troops were withdrawn from the scenes of their contests."

We protest against the inference that he fainted because he lacked physical courage to face the enemy. What, a Democratic General, an 'indomitable," one of the "unterrified" afraid! No, no, the very adjective "unterrified" means that he could not be afraid. He fainted, of course, because he was overwhelmed with patriotic emotions-he wanted to strike the enemy, but they would not come near enough; both his dander and his valor were up, and it was too much for poor human nature to bear. Afraid, indeed !-Did he not give up the sweets of domestic life; leave the scenes of peace, and go among the "plumed troop and the big war" for a matter of ninety days ? Such a man lack nerve! If reason does not forbid the inference the Baltimore Convention does, which is much higher, and broader, and stronger than reason or common sense either.

THE DEMOCRATS-THE COMPROMISE. While it was required of the principal candi dates for the Presidency, to assert their adherence to the Compromise, and while that party affected to hold up this adherence as a sine qua neg, the Democratic National Convention has nominated a man for the Presidency, who gave no pledge at all on the subject. The New York Commercial thinks there was a deep laid plot to kill off Cass. Buchanan, Marcy, Butler, Houston, Lane and Dickinson, who all wrote a formal reply to Mr. Scott, committing themselves fully and unequivocally to the finality of the compromises. Yet the Convention passed Resolutions expressing full approval of these measures. The Commercial says

"When the North complains in the opposite direction, they will be reminded that the Conven tion marked with its disapproval every man who had pledged himself by the Scott correspondence to veto any legislation that would disturb the compromises. So that the 'platform' is swung upon a neutral pivot, equiposied by the candidate on one side and the resolutions on the other, and can be made to incline either way as the necessity of the case may require."

Is it not strange that Southern Democrats should rejoice at the action of their Convention, which rejected every candidate who had committed him self by a pledge to the Compromise, and took up one that had not? Where is the zeal of the Democratic Organ, the Standard, on this occasion -whose Editor abused Scott because he has given no written pledge, and has all along classed

Meagher, Esq. the Irish exile, was proffered | We do not speak this in disparagement of Mr. a public reception by both boards of the Common King, who conscientiously believed the Compromise was insufficient. We merely wish our readers to see the cool impudence of the Democratic Leaders, who pretend to take the Compromise measures as a Platform, while they nominate one candidate not pledged to their support, and another known to be opposed to them !

The Pacific mail steamship Company's ship Oregon, had arrived from Panama with 384 passengers, the ship New Orleans with 80 do., the clipper Antilope with 100, making 564, of which number the Illinois brings 525.

INDIAN DIFFICULTIES.

The Express says that the Indians near Bidwell's Bar, and those up the river at Strington, met in fight on the 10th inst. Two of the former and some five or six of the latter were killed. It anpears that since the descent of the Stringtown Indians headed by the young Yuba, upon the Indians at Bidwell's the latter have meditated revenge and as previously stated, on the 10th, 75 of them made an attack upon a camp of the former containing some 200 men. They were highly gratifled with their success.

TERRIBLE CALAMITY.

On Thursday afternoon last, four children of Thomas Finney, who resides four miles above Halifax, in this county were in the field, when a thunder storm came up, and they took shelter under a small tree, sitting down upon the ground to protect themselves from the rain. Whilst they were in this position they were struck by lightning, and two instantly killed. SHOCKING OCCURRENCE.

We regret to learn that Mr. Julius C. Jackson of Cornwall, Conn., met with a sudden and violent death on Sunday, the 16th of May, at Nelson. Objo, the place of his residence.

He had gone to a neighbor's to assist him in milking an unruly heifer. The animal became furious, and sprang at one and another of the persons present, all of whom effected their escape, except the unfortunate victim. Mr. Jackson was caught upon her horns, and thrown several feet into the air. He lingered in great distress until about one o'clock on the following morning, when he expired. It was ascertained that one horn had entered the lower part of the body passing through the intestines and liver, and tearing along the spine The deceased was 58 years of age, and a broth

The bill making appropriations for the paymen of invalid pensions for the next fiscal year, was read a third time and passed.

After some other unimportant business, and a protracted session with closed doors, the Senate adjourned to Monday.

In the House, on the 11th, nothing of importance transpired, and no business was perfected.

FREE-SOIL CONVENTION.

The Free-Soil Convention for the nomination of President and Vice President of the United States, will be held at Cleveland. Ohio, on the first Wednesday in August.

This call is made by James G. Birney, Gerrit Smith and William Goodell.

In this address they say: "Whether the President elected next fall be Webster, Scott, Fillmore, or any other whig, or whether he be Cass, Buchapan, Douglas, or any other democrat, he will be the shameless servant of the slaveholders, and openly and distinctly pledged to obey all their other commands, as well as to enforce the inferal Fugitive Slave law."

Why, how you talk ?

The New York squadron of Barnburners, have gone over to the regular Democratic host. The Abolitionists and Free-soilers are much excited at this desertion, while the "unterrified" will, of course, be much elated at this addition to their political strength.

NOT GUILTY.

Mrs. Sloons was tried at the late term of the District Court, at Bastrop, Texas, for the murder of a man named Forbus, and found not guilty. She had shot Forbus on account of the ruin of her daughter.

fering more than aix years from Dyspepsia, and Liver complaint, during which time, I had the best medical advice, with no benefit except temporary

Some three years ago, my case became more hopeless, from an attack of diarrhea, which confined me to my bed for eight weeks, causing great prostration of the whole system. I obtained a little relief, but the diarrhora continued, and the con-stant pain and suffering I endured, can hardly be described; the most delicate food distressed me, causing severe headache, flatulency, and acidity of the stomach; my spirits, too, at times, were so de-pressed from the disease, that I felt as if nothing could eyer make me cheerful again; even the sing-ing of birds, and music, of which I was always so fond, tended only to fill my soul with sadness, and render my spirits more gloomy and depressed.

About two months ago, I was so much reduced.

that I could eat scarcely any food whatever, and was obliged to take my bed, in despair of ever getting any better, and feeling that my discouse was beyond the power of medicine. At this time, I read some of the certificates of remarkable cares, by the Oxygenated Bitters, and obtained a bottle of the medicine. However surprising, it is nevertheless true, that I was almost immediately relieved of every symptom of my various complaints, and gained so rapidly, that I was a wonder to all who knew me, after using four or five bottles of the medicine.

I am now in better health than I have enjoyed for many years, and attribute my restoration, by the grace of God, to your invaluable medicine. I shall recommend to all who suffer from any similar conplaints, to try this wonderful remedy.
