OLE BULL.

OLE BURL is a native of Norway, and we were under the impression that the Concerts now in progress were given as the last, previous to his departure for Europe. But we learn that he is a is a settlement erected by him on Kettle Creek. Penn, where there are already 1500 of his countrymen, and it is likely that by May next the number will be increased to four thousand-so OLE Bull combines the virtues of the philanthropist with the endowments of genius.

Of the qualifications of OLE BULL as a Violinist it would seem hardly necessary for us to speak.-Let it suffice to say that the Press of the country him is considered to have fallen the mantle of PAGANINI.

We have received a telegraphic despatch, dated Norfolk, Jan. 22, which says the choice seats for the Concert on Tuesday evening, have all been sold in the first hour this morning, and seats are now bringing from tao to three dollars premium.

JUDGE STRANGE'S OPINION. We have not given as much of the matter of this opinion as we desire; all we can at present extract will be found on our last page, with comments. We presume our readers will clearly perceive the reasons for awarding to the Executive the power of appointing a Senator in place of Mr. Mangum. Indeed, upon the application of the doctrine of a strict construction of the Constitution, the powers of the Executive would be much more enlarged than any contended for by Mr. Strange, or by the presses of the State which coincide with bim.

We are surprised that Congress has not legislated on this subject, if any doubt about the matter has existed in the minds of our Senators. We cannot, however, see how any doubt can exist in so plain a case. But perhaps our legislators love precedents and conflicting authorities, because they afford opportunities for the display of learning la debate. This passion is not of recent birth. On one point alone, a learned English Judge said many years ago, that there were one hundred and seventy authorities, or more-these authorities were subsequently doubled in number; and this. tive enactment of three lines would have put controversy to rest, forever!

We respectfully suggest to our learned jurists, that when they give an Opinion on any subject intended to be read and understood by the people at large, they ought to give the translations of all quotations in law or other Latin. A large portion of those who are to judge the matter and by whose first decision the case must abide, know but little of classical Latin or of the jargon sometimes tolerated in law parlance.

WONDERFUL DEVELOPEMENT.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, in some remarks on the nomination of Mr. Badger to the Bench of the Supreme Court, says the Democrats desire his confirmation, because they ant the place for Mr. Dobbin, and continues as

They urge, also, a far stronger plea, viz: That it is of the utmost moment to take Mr. Badger from political life in North Carolina, where he wields through means of his great wealth, talents und energy, a far greater influence than is possed by any other ten gentlemen in the State, of either party. An influence, which, they fear, if permitted to exist just now, may defeat all their ardent hopes of being able to keep the State chained to the democratic car."

We are not willing that this wonderful development of the state of things in North Carolina should pass for "law and gospel," lacking, as it does, all the elements of truth. There are no man worshippers in this State, except in social circles that have no influence on public affairs .-There can be found a few presses of both parties that have political wooden gods that they inceseantly hold up for the adoration of the peoplebut the more these papers puff, the less popular their favorites become.

Mr. Badger has not one fourth the influence of Mr. Wm. A. Graham, nor so much as a dozen other leaders of the Whig and as many of the democratic party that could be named, we guess .-He is much respected for his talents, and much beloved by his personal friends, on account of his private virtues and social qualities. But there is no man in the State, with half his talents, that is half so unpopular with the people of both parties as Mr. Badger is. He has influence in counsel with the leaders, but is not competent to play a sals in the political harmonics. Witness his effort to create a Native American Party in this State some time ago. He could not gut a "Corporal's Guard" on that occasion. The gentlemen of the Bar, who are the proper seition as a Lawyer, and hence his confirmation se Benate would be for the benefit of the His State is proud of him as she ought int no intelligent thinking man would suppose him a safe dictatorial leader in the destiny He is too classical and visionary to

REPUDIATION.

The Queen of Portugal has recently issued a decree, by which all the five and four per cent. stock of that Kingdom is converted into three per cents. This is equivalent to repudiation - that is all right under a monarchy-but in a Republic it is a very shocking affair, as the monarchists of Europe declared, not long ago.

AMERICAN COLONIZATION.

The Board of the American Colonization Society has been in session at the City of Washington, and adjourned on Thursday night last. On Thursday the Board waited upon the President of the United States and the Secretaries composing he Cabinet, who received them most kindly, with their assurances of a favorable interest in the great objects of the Colonization Society. The cause of African Colonization never looked more cheering to its friends than at present.

WISCONSIN

The Legislature of Wisconsin organized on the 12th inst. Gov. Farwell, in his Message, gives a glowing account of the present condition and prospects of that State. Wisconsin owes no debt, and the treasury is in a sound condition. The reccipts and expenditures for the last year balance within the sum of $940; and of the total disbursements ($134,593) for 1852, rather more that onethird was on account of liabilities incurred previous to Japuary 1st, 1852.

ST. LOUIS.

A review of the commerce of St. Louis, for 1852 has been published in the Missouri Republican "St. Louis," says the Review, "has grown, into her present proportions without the aid of a single mile of railroad or canal, and without even the removal of an obstruction in the natural channels through which her commerce flows; her prosperity is the result of a few years progression; and when the present contemplated works are fluished, our metropolis will enlarge her bordera with more rapidity than has yet been wit-

"If," the Review proceeds, "we would retain the trade under which we have prospered, we must connect by railroad and Plank road with the points from which our commerce has received its support."

NICARAGUA.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, writing from San Juan del Nort, Jan. 2, 1853, says that the Belize, or British Honduras has been clevated to a colony, the superintendent into a Governor, and a constitution given to the people. This province extends almost acros« the continent, and with the recently created colony of the Bay Islands, foreshadows the sequel to the Mosquito Protectorate. If this report be true, it clashes with the Madison doctrine, recently reiterated by Mr. Cass, in the U. S. Senate.

THE TREASURY PRPORT.

A report from the Secretary of the Tresury has New York Courier and Enquirer for the following synopsis of this able State Paper : "

The receipts for the year ending June 30, 1852 were-from Customs, $47,339.326; from sales of public lands, $2,048.239, and from other sources $345,820. These added to a balance of $10,911,-645, in the Treasury at the beginning of the year, make the aggregate receipts $60,040,032.

The coinage of the U.S. Mints for the last year is shown to have been $52,404,569 of which only $847.310 was in silver and $51,620 91 in copper. The Secretary shows that the si ver coin now in the country is g adually lessening, and urges the passage of a bill as adopted by the Scuate last year, for "a new issue of silver coinage, of such reduced weight as will allow it to circulate with the gold coinage of established weight and fineness." The use of Mint Certificates is also recommended, which would produce a saving of $350,-000 or $400,000 annually to the government.-Such certificates to be for sums of 100, 500, 1,000, 5 000, and $10,000 each, and paid to depositors at the Mint, and receivable for all government dues.
