"Ho FLAND'S GERMANS BITTERS.—We have seen many fluttering notices of this medicine, and the source from which they came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and miss say we lound it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organ, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration, is really surprising. It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them into a state of repose, making sleep refreshing.

If this medicine was more generally used, we are satisfied there would be less sickness, as from the satisfied there would be less sickness, as from the stomach, liver and nervous system, the great majority of real and imaginary deseases emanate. Have them in a healthy condition and you can bid define to epidemics generally. This extraordinary medicine we would advise our friends who are stall indisposed, to give a trial—it will recommend itself. It should, a fact, be in every family. No other medicine can produce such evidences of merit."
