The Commercial. WILMINGTON. N. C. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1853. THANKSGIVING.

Thanksgiving was observed here on Thursd with due respect. There was religious service in several of the churches, in the forenoon, and a general suspension of business throughout the SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH. We have received a pape v under the above ti-Editor. It is devoted to the " Illustration of Spiritual Intercourse," at $2 per annum, payable in the whole will be contained in a single number.the Editor we insert the following :

SPECIAL ATTENTION DESIRED.

We send this number of our paper to the entire newspaper press of the United States and British sides a large number to the press and to individuals in Europe, and other parts of the civilized world. We hope that our editorial brethren will notice the peculiar features of the TELE GRAPH, and that other parties who may receive it will, if they are not averse to its principles and objects, speak to their friends respecting its character and claims. Those who may receive this number will greatly oblige us by circulating it among those who are beginning to be interested in the subjects whereof it mainly treats.

One " peculiar feature " in the number before us, is the neatness of its typographical execution. We are very much occupied at the present, and if time since at Malta, in readiness to act in conwe were not, we know of no friends to whom we junction with the French fleet in the event of an could speak respecting the character and claims of this periodical, unless we speak to the Church, or rather the embodiment of citizens called " the Church," of various denominations in this our town. It being a "spiritual matter," the gentlemen and ladies who compose the different branches of the Church here are the proper persons to whom we should address ourselves. We have friends, we know, in all of these branches, but then, what shall we say? Suppose we were to speak to them in this wise-"madam, or sir, or Tiger, ---- 16 " brother, as the case may be, will you please to take a paper that talks of table legs, and the "prophetic impulses " of the mahogany thereof; or perhaps the table might be made of pine; would you like to hear of the prophetic impulses of a table or its leg, made of our own honest pine and its "spiritualities ?" We cannot guess what they would say to us in reply, and therefore abandon the idea of calling on them" in the premises."

If we speak to our good friends of the Temperance Societies, they will flatly tell us, "We don't deal in spirits of any sort." Our colored population, who partake of our sympathies and care might be consulted, but what would one of these say to us ? "Why massa, I know Gouff ree and belieb in him, but what dis ? Ki ! table leg talk ! Oh, go way massa, you makin fun of nigger."

If we should call on our merchants, they would very likely say "we don't deal in the article."-If we were to ask one of our sailors about the matter he might say " there's no such rope in the ship, sir.

Now Shakespeare causes one of his characters to say, Glendower, a Scotchman we think, (who are as likely to rap their mull as any thing else) -Glendower says: "I can call spirits from the vasty deep." Most certainly he could. And the same writer makes Hotspur say: "I can pluck Mizoredils - 118 1140 Nazamich - Neimimisafer 50 460 Nedjat i fer bright honor from the pale faced moon." So he could-who doubts it ? And we congratulate our lieves in the Boos that cannot lie-not by quotations from it; for we make it a rule not to quote from the Bible in any way that may give the ap-pearance on our part, of using its language to promote secular interests, or enhance our editorial reputation. We will be better understood by making a quotation on this occasion, while we assure our readers, that in conducting a commercial, political and miscellaneous sheet, we make it the chief rule of our conduct and submission, to 'Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's." We say we will not quote from the Bible, in scattering the pretensions of this spiritualism to the winds. We will do it by referring the reader to tle, published in New York, by S. B. BRITTON, certain chapters and verses in that Book. No one need to subscribe to our paper on this account, for advance; single copies, five cents. By request of It is not consistent with the character of The Commercial, as pledged to the public, to make money by a thing of this sort-we are sure our heart docs not desire it.

NAVAL POWER IN THE EAST.

We publish below an account of the Naval forces the East. It will be seen that the force to oppose the approach of the Turkish fleet to Constantinople, is over three times as great as that which can be brought by Russia to effect that object, and we believe the efficiency of the opposing power is much greater than the numerical computation.

CORRESPONDENCE Concustos, Miss., Nov. 18th, 1853. THOMAS LORING, Esq. - My old and valued reached me this day, I as brought my sins to my membrance. It is so long since I have "paid the printer" that I don't even know the state of my account. Ism aware of the uncertainty of life, and should I die before I have paid this debt my administrator might plead the statute of limitations. Let me know how much I owe thee, and

I will pay thes all. I fear to die in debt to the printer. Should I die before the debt is paid, let this stand for my jast will and testament. ****

EDITORIAL COURTESY. The Wilmington Commercial, by the veteran of the N. C. press, T. Loring, Esq., has come to us for several times lately, considerably enlarged and improved. It preserves the form in making up which has made it so popular as a Commercial and Market reference. In these respects it could not well improve. We read the Commercial with considerable interest always, and hope our friend may long be spared to dignify and adorn the station he has so long and ably filled.

Portsmouth Globe. WILMINGTON COMMERCIAL .- We congratulate our cotemporary of the Commercial on the enlarged and improved appearance of this ably conducted paper and wish him a continuation of bright sunny days of prosperity .- Sumter Banner

YOUNG AMERICA

CHARLOTTESVILLE IN COMMOTION !- We have learnt that several University students were imprisoned in Charlottesville jail on the 17th instant. While present at Wyman's exhibition they made rather more noise than was agreeable, when ten or fifteen policemen rushed in upon them and a conflict ensued, in which both policemen and students were injured. The policemen finally succeeded in securing two of the students and confining them in jail. It is stated that one of the policemen held one of the students while another struck him, knocking him out of his senses; and a committee of students were appointed by those who witnessed the affair to arouse the students to avenge themselves. The students needed no committee for the purpose. Nearly three hundred assembled and threatened to tear down the county jail, and some wished to burn the town !

Prof. Harrison, after considerable difficulty, succeeded in appeasing them long enough to listen to a proposition from him to the effect that the students should appoint himself, with five or six students, as a committee to meet the town authorities. On his return he informed them that the jail was guarded by a body of one hundred and sixty riflemen. At the mention of this their indignation was aroused anew, and they clamored out, " To Charlottesville ! march upon them ! and their shouts as is stated by an eye-witness, might have been heard for a mile.

The committee, however, reasoned them in desisting from any attempt to rescue their mates until they were better prepared ; and on the morning of the 19th they met at the rotundo of the lawn in great numbers. There they resolved, instead of going down in a body, to appoint a committee to see that justice was done their companions; yet their feelings are, it is said, not of the most pacific character, and blood may yet be shed. We earnestly hope, for the sake of the University, 150 as well as of the students themselves, that the af-

RAILBOAD ACCIDENT.

New York, Nov. 22 .- As the steamboat train from Boston to Fall River was within about two miles of North Bridgewater yesterday afternoon. between 5 and 6 o'clock, one of the wheels of the 2nd class car (nearest the freight car,) broke and rendered it necessary for the train to stop. A red light was immediately sent to the rear, to warn the Bridgewater Special Train from Braintree to South Bridgewater, which was presumed to be not far behind, but the runner had scarcely got back 50 rods, when this train, rounding a curve, came up, and before it could be stopped, the engine and tender run into the rear car of the first train, crushing it to a perfect wreck. Fortunately it had been mostly vacated ; the passengers, apprehending danger, having, with but few exceptions, gone into the next car before the collision occurred.

Only four or five were seriously injured, and those by scalding, the steam from the wrecked boiler having escaped into the car. Our informant could give us the name of only one of the sufferers, viz : Mr. Babcock, of Brunswick, Me.

Only one of the passengers (not Mr. Babcock) was supposed to be fatally injured. Three physicians were immediately sent for by the conductor, and the sufferers were taken to the neighboring houses, where they received every attention. The passengers of the first train passed resolutions exonerating the conductor from any blame. On the contrary, he did everything that was possible to avert danger, and also to mitigate the calamity after it had occurred.

PUNISHMENT OF PIRATES.

The New Bedford Mercury publishes an extract of a letter from the commander of the U.S. ship Powhattan, at Port Louis, Mauritius, in which it is stated that the persons who murdered the officers and crew of the American schooner Queen of the West, of Dartmouth, Mass., were in confinement at the island of Bourbon, having been taken from Nos Beh in a French vessel of war, tried and condemned to hard labor for life in chains.

They were wandering Arabs, the subjects of no established Government.

"NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN."

Although this saying is scarcely true in an age of progress like the present, the age of steam and of telegraphs, yet it is strange how many things seem to be coming anew which were wholly or partially known to the ancients. Colt's Revolver for example, is cried up as one of the greatest inventions of the day, yet the original hint of it seems to have been stricken out near two centuries ago. Peby's Diary is rather a scarce book in this country, but it is familiar to the antiquaries of England. In the 28th page of the last volume of the London edition, we find the author, who was Secretary to the Admiralty in the reign of Charles Second and James Second, stating the following circumstances :

"1662, July 3d .- Dined with the officers of the Ordnance, where Sir W. Compton, Mr. O'Ncale, and or proceeding from a cold. It allays any irritaother great persons were. After dinner, was tion of the Lungs and fortifies the system against

Our readers may think that this rap, tap, tap, hath no meaning. But it hath tho', as the "illustrations" of the "rappers" testifieth. It means, Essen Dicdid(s) "How do you do Dr. Franklin-do they print down your way ?" "No thank ye, I'm keeping public House ?" "General Washington, how do things progress below ?" "Why about as usual, only I ain't a General here ?" "What are you then ?" "I am head waiter at Dr. Franklin's Hotel, and he holds the first rank in the communities of this unmentionable sphere." "And so printers Aleppo --do very well with you ?" " Certainly, they form the first class here."

We would like to have been present on the occasion of the last answer-for we are always glad to hear of the well doing of our typographical brethren.

In the matter of "exchange" we will send this number to the " Telegraph " and exchange if the Editor is particularly desirous that we should do so, which he will please to signify by sending an- Sult an Mahother number of his paper after the receipt of this. We beg leave to state; however, that our exchange list is very large, and that we receive many papers that we seldom open-whose editors Czesten - - - 84 we believe to be honest in purpose and "ound in intellect.

We thought of stopping at this point in our remarks, but concluded that in justice to the Editor of the Telegroph, and for the satisfaction of our readers we ought to give a specimen of the records before us. It will be seen from the following editorial copied from that paper, that the spiritualities here developed are not exactly the same in practice as those adopted by the Fox girls, who lately retired from business on the receipts of their traffic. The matter here presented is sublimated spiritualism, in comparison with the " rap tap " with which these operations were commenc.

ed. The science is very progressive : A BEAUTIFUL AND SIGNIFICANT VISION.

A few days ago we were favored with a visit from Rev. T. L. Harris, who had no sooner seated himself in our study than he was seized by Spiritual power, and thrown into the interior state. The spirits of three well-known philosophers then visibly presented themselves to him, and gave a series of most interesting communications and visious, most of which were of a personal nature, not designed for the public. One vision, however, we deem it proper to relate, as it admirably illustrates the present condition of the moral world, the changes that are in progress, and the glorious future that awaits us. Our brother saw a tremen dous sun, or rather two suns, the one behind the other. The kither sun appeared to be old, and ex-hausted of its heat and light, and was black as midnight. But directly behind it and born out of it, as it were, was an indescribably brilliant and giorious sun, that was just rising in the east, and scattering a few of its first and faintest beams upon the earth. It, however, could not be seen by any whose vision was not sufficiently quickened to penetrate through the dark sun which covered From the bright sun he saw innumerable rays r glories which were interiorly of a spiral constreaming forth in every direction, and failing upon the earth; and each one of these spires appeared to consist of an ascending succes-sion of societies of angels! The interpretation, of course, will immediately suggest itself to the mind of every reader.

We predict that the Editor will make a great deal of money by this scheme. The paragraph above, we leave to the consideration of our readers. We may make further extracts, as they may village. The natural productions of the various he necessary to these who are curious in such provinces include every description of metal, as matters. We promise, however, to dethrone the whole system, in the mind of every man who be.

POPULATION OF CHINA, &c. The following statistics relating to the internal condition of China proper are taken from the statistical chart of a new work by Mr. B. Montgom-vices in China, and member of the Legislative Council at Hong Kong :

"In China proper it appears there are 367 632.-907 inhabitants, and in the dependencies of Mantchsoria, Mongolia, Turkiston, Thibet, &c. about 40,000,000, making a total of 400,000,000 of people under one Government. The population on each square mile is 283, and the area in square miles is 1,297,999. The quantity of land is estimated at 830,820,100 English acres, of which 141 119.847 is under cultivation. The land tax realizes 27 854,023 tacls of silver; the salt revenue 4 618,834 taels; and other duties 991,092 taels. "The total fixed revenue of the provinces is 35:016.028 taels, of which sum 22 445,578 taels and 3 428.955 ahih of rice (a shih being about 160 lbs. avoirdupois) are transmitted to the imperial treasury, whilst 5,267,829 taels remain in the provinces. The standing army and militia number .232,000 men. The table from which the above statistics are taken is prepared from various authorities, the greater portion having been furnished in China and translated from the official records. vent such a result.-Richmond Bulletin SHOCKING AFFRAY

The Memphis Whig, states that one of the most distressing fights it has ever been the duty of the paper to record, occured last Frlday, fortnight, on board the steamboat Dresden, at or near Helena, Arkansas. The following are the particulars :

An American lady and her children had taken deck passage on the Dresden, on their way Sonth The lady was not accompanied by a male protector. Before she arrived at Helena, some Irishmen on deck had interfered with and abused the lady to such a degree, that she found it necessary to complain to the officers of the boat. They declined to protect her, and sent ber back to the cabin. Here the Irishmen again insulted the lady, and finally whipped her children. She again appealed to the officers of the boat for protection, telling them that, although her necessities compelled her to take a deck passage, yet she was a respectable woman. But the officers again re fused to interfere in her behalf, upon hearing which a noble-souled Kentuckian (whom God preserve) volunteered to protect her, and accompanied her to the second cabin. When he arrived at the door, he was accosted by an Irishman, who was standing there with an iron poker in his hand. upraised, and questioned as to his intention to aid the woman. The Kentuckian immediately shot the Irishman, when the gang rushed upon him He killed three of them, and wounded a fourth the ball glancing from his ribs and killing a woman in an adjoining berth. The Kentuckian was cut very badly with knives, and we regret to hear his life was despaired of. We were on board of the Dresden when she anded at this port. There was a large number of passengers on the boat. It is astonishing that none of them interfered to save the life of a fellow man assaulted by a mob.

Esq., and Hon R. B. Gilliam, appeared for the plaintiff, and Hon. W. A. Graham, John W. Nerwood, and Josiah Turner, Esqrs., represented the defendant. The pleadings on both sides are spoken of as displaying great ability, particularly the efforts of Messrs. Kerr and Graham, the former of whom, we learn, made the ablest and most powerful speech ever delivered at the Person Bar .-The Jury returned a verdict in favor of Miss Holenan, and awarding her the full amout ($10,000) of damages she sued for-an amount, we venture to say, unprecedented by any similar case to be found upon record, . We forbear comment on the evidence. But we doubt whether the heavy damages awarded furnish a wholesome or wise precedent. Douglas is a married man, and therefore no 'breach of promise' to marry, was involved in the bill of complaint. We understand that the plaintiff subsequently compromised on $5000. The other case was the trial of Bushrod Har ris, for the murder of a man named Winfree, supposed to be an itinerant counterleiter, hailing from Richmond, Va. The murderer was prosecuted by Col. Jones, Esq., State's Attorney, and defended by E. G. Reade, and C. S. Winstead, Esqrs. consider the census to be correct. We have no doubt that specimens of this gun are preserved in the Tower of London, but is it not strange that so effective a firearm, so much approved of, and of which so many were then made, should have since disappeared, instead of being more highly improved, as it is at the present day, under the skill of a New Englander ?

POWDER MILL EXPLOSION

The storage or dry-house of the powder mill o Messrs. Schwonck & Co., some two or three miles beyond Donaldson, in Schuylkill county, (Pa.) ready for packing and shipment, was fired on Monday last, about 10; o'clock, and the whole establishment blown up with a terrific explosion.

STRANGE VISITER AT THE CITY HALL. NEW YORK Nov 15 .- About 11 o'clock yesterday morning, the carved eagles upon the City Hall received au illustrious visiter. One of the original birds of the forest-some said a hawk, others an eagle-came down from the woods to pay his wooden prototypes upon the flag-staffs of the Hall a friendly visit. He first lighted upon the staff over the north-west corner, and sat for some minutes peering down hato the Supreme Court oom, apparently looking for some bigger rascal than his own thieving self. Not being able to ook quite down to the basement, he lifted up his wings and went over to the south-west corner, and made his perch upon the back of that eagle and settled himself down very quietly, with a complacent flap of the wings as much as to say, "Ha. ha,

I have found them at last." And then he looked down with an eagle eye into the chamber of the Board of Aldermen, and through that into the Chief of Police's Office. After a while he got up, shook himself with an air of contempt, and then remarked to the crowd below, who stood agape with stupid wonder : "I will now go back to the woods, and steal a few more lambs and chickens with a tolerable clear conscience, since I have seen how much greater thieves than me are honored in the city."

LATER FROM RIO AND BUENOS AYRES. NEW YORK, Nov. 23rd - By the arrival of the lippers Seaman's Bride and Union, of Baltimore, we have Rio dates of Oct. 17th, and Buenos Ayres of Oct. 3d. Robert C. Scheuck, late U. S. Minister to Brazil, came passenger in the Union. He proceeds to Washington in 'a few days to report M. Nov. 26 relative to a treaty concluded, securing perpetually the free navigation of the La Plate river and its tributaries. Mr. Schenck took leave of the Emperor, and Mr. Trousdale, the new Minister, was presented on the 8th of October. Nov. 26 The Emperor of Brazil, in reply to the address of Mr. Trousdale, said : "I greatly thank my good friend, the President f the United States, for this new proof of his friendship and I hope, sir, your mission may contribute as much as that of your predecessor to strengthen the good understanding which happily exists between our two countries."
