MISCELLANY.

FOILING A RIVAL.

'The critter loves me? I know she loves me !' said Jonathan Doublikins, as he sat on the cornfield fence, meditating on | dy. the course of true love, that was running just as Shakespeare said it always didrather roughly. If Sukey Peabody has taken a shine with that gawky long-shanked, stammerin', shy critter, Gusset, just 'cause he's a city feller, she ain't the gal I it?' took her for, that's sartin. No, its the old folks, darn their ugly picturs. Old Mrs. he cleared out.' I'm going down to the city by the railroad next week, and when I come back, wake snakes,

The above soliloquy may serve to give the reader some slight idea of the lay of the land, in the pleasant village where the speaker resided.

Jonathan Doublikins was a young farmer, well to do in the world, and looking out for a wife, and had been paying his addresses to Miss Susan Peabody, of that ulk, with a fair prospect of success, when a city acquaintance of the Peabody's, one Mr. Cornelius Gusset, who kept a retail dry goods store in Hanover street, Boston, had suddenly made his appearance in the field and commenced the cutting out game. Dazzled with the prospect of becoming a gentleman's wife, pestered by the importunities of her mamina, the village beauty had begun to waver, when her old lover determined on a last bold stroke to foil his dozen wives already.' rival. He went to the city and returned; of his business there he said nothing, not even to the pumping maiden aunt who Jonathan said confidentially: kept house for him. Mr Gusset was yet engaged in stammering out a denial of all knowledge of the virgo, when the parley door opened and a little black-eyed, hatchet-faced woman, in a flashy silk gown, and a cap with many ribbons perched on the top of her head, invaded the sanctity of the parlor.

'Is he here?' she cried in a decided accent. Then she added, with a scream 'Ah -mon dieu! la voila! Here he is. Traitre, monstre! Vat for you run away from me? Dis two or tree year. I nevair see you, nevair; and my heart broke very bad will be permitted. Should circumstances render entirely.

MEDICAL CONFIDENCE.

The question has been frequently mooted in courts of justice, whether secrets imparted to, or obtained by physicians from their patients, can be disclosed by them with honor, even to subserve the ends of justice. The New York Medical Gazette relates the following case described in a letter from Paris:

"M has lately been before the court for refusing to answer questions propounded to him relative to a patient, a COMMISSION AND FORWARDING MERCHANTS, young lady, who, finding the doctor in trouble, gave him full permission to answer. But he still refused, saying he could not JAMES ANDERSON. violate his oath as a doctor. He was fined 100 francs. He appealed to a higher court. The sentence was unnulled, and he was honorably acquitted, the judge remarking that the physician has not the right, in any case, or under any preext, to divulge the secret of his patients.'

of Spirits, can be effectually cured by DR HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS, PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON, No. 120 Arch street. Philadelphia. Their power over the above diseases is not excell ed, it equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skilful physicians had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids Possessing great wirtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching powers in weakness and affections of the digestive organs they are, withal, safe, certain and pleasant.

READ AND BE CONVINCED.

The "Philadelphia Saturday Gazette," says of Dr. Hooptand's Gemnan Bitters.
"It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Patent Medicines, to the confidence and patronage of our renders; and therefore when we recommend Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a trained indulgence of the sensual passions, occabrief period and then forgotten after they have done their guilty race of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally prized, and which has me the heart y approval of the faculty itself."

"Scott's Weekly," said, Aug. 25: "Dr. Hoofland's orman Bitters, manufactured by Dr. Jackson, are now recommended by some of the most prominent men. ars of the faculty as an article of much efficacy in ca as of female weakness. Persons of debilitated con 'utions will find these Bitters advantageous to .heir calth as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems."

MOXE EVIDENCE.

J. G. Moore, Esq., of the Daily News, said, Oct 31. "DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. - We are tryng this renowned medicine for a stubborn disease of the bowels, and can with truth testify to its efficacy. We have taken the contents of two bottles, and we have derived more benefit from the experiment than we derived previously from years of allophatic treatment at the hands of our first physicians."
Hon. C. D. Hineline, Mayor of the City of Camden. N. J., says:

"Hoofland's Germans Bitters.—We have seen many flattering notices of this medicine, and the source from which they came induced us to make inquiry respecting its merits. From inquiry we were persuaded to use it, and mest say we found it specific in its action upon diseases of the liver and digestive organ, and the powerful influence it exerts upon nervous prostration, is really surprising It calms and strengthens the nerves, bringing them in to a state of repose, making sleep refreshing. If this medicine was more generally used, we are satisfied there would beless sickness, as from the stomach, liver and nervous system, the great majority of real and imaginary deseases emanate. Have them in a healthy condition and you can bid defi-ance to epidemics generally. This extraordinary medicine we would advise our friends who are at all indisposed, to give a trial-it will recommend it-self. It should, in fact, be in every family. No other PURE MEDICAL WINES & LIQUORS. medicine can produce such evidences of merit."

plaints, in all their varied and complicated forms. His great success in those long standing and difficult cases, such as were formerly considered incur-able, is sufficient to commend him to the public as worthy of the extensive patronage he has received. Within the last eight years, Dr. S. has treated more than 29,500 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which no doubt exceeds that of all other physicians now advertising in Bultimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken at reasonable time, without effecting a radical and permanent cure; therefore, persons afflicted with diseases of the above nature, no matter how difficult or long standing the case may be," would do well to call on Dr. Smith at his office. MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust. Love of Soli-

Aversion to Society, Sell-Distrust. Love of Soll-tude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons, of all ages, can now judge what is the cause of their declining health. Losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale and emaclated. have a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

DR. JOHNSTON'S INVIGORATING REM-EDY FOR GENITAL DEBILITY. This grand and important Remedy has .estored strength and vigor to thousands of the mo functions, and the fallen fabric of life raised up to beauty, onsistency, and duration, upon the ruins of an emaciated and premature decline to sound and pristine health. Oh, how hap y have hundreds of those terrific maladies which result from indisci tion. Such persons, before contemplating MARRIAGE. Should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial striking of a man by a woman. It is the happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the propect hourly darkens to the view—the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholly reflection, that the happiness of another be comes blighted with our own. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately, and save yourself from the dreadful consequences of this ter-

WEAKNESS OF THE ORGANS mimediately cured and full vigor restored. Remedies sent to any part of the country.

TO STRANGERS. DR. JOHNSTON, of the Baltimore Lock Hospital, whose long residence in this city, standing as sive practice in the various Hospitals of Europe and this country, and skill and experience to which thousands can testify, as well as his ability in the Surgical department of his profession, as evidenced by reports of his operations on the Eyes and Pe-formed Limbs, published in the Baltimore Sun and other papers, in the years 1941 2, by which the blind were made to see and the lame to walk straight, renders him worthy of all confidence upon the part those who need his professional services, and who would shun the many trifling and ignorant preten lers advertising themselves as Physicians. To those unacquainted with his reputation, Dr. Johnston deems it necessary to say that his credentials or diplomas always hang in his office.

SONG OF THE SABBATH.

BY JULIA DAY. The Sabbath day—the gracious day ! Bringing the gifts of peace, Chasing life's rudest cares away, Letting tired labor cease; Breaking like sunshine on the carth, Bidding vain shadows flee, Calling for praise and sinless mirth, Making the bondman free. The Sabbath day—the priceless boon! Let not the sordid deem It yields no gain, it comes too soon, It is of light esteem! Let not the bigot sternly say His temple claims it all;

Who shall imprison Mercy's ray.
Within that narrow wall?

The Sabbath day-the separate The wearied workers paitent wait, And joy to see it rise; The aching hand, the o'ertasked brain, Alike may find repose,

And gather strength to toll again, And strength to conquer woes; The Salbath day-the gift divine ! That, whatsoe'er our creed, Supplies with bounteousness benig Leisure for every need; For prayer, for praise, for soothing rest,

For thought of boundless scope, For heed of Charity's behest, For love, for Joy, for hope. The Sabbath day—the glorious day ! Beyond the city gate Let tens of thousands wend their way, Where breeze and sunshine wait,

And tread the daisied sod, And look upon the buds that blow, And search and find out God. The Sabbath day-the buckler strong. That guards the poor and weak, Shielding the desolate from wrong, Leaving the tryant weak.

The Sabbath day-O prize it well,

Its wisdom learn to scan;

Alike in temple, field, or cell,

And let them see the steamlest flow,

"The sabbath made for man." COWHIDING BY WOMEN. In an article on this subject the N. Y.

Courier says: to the shame of woman-kind, happen occasionally, and are chronicled by some journals with great glee, and generally with misguided youths been made who have been sud-denly restored to health, from the devastations of the implication at least that the 'lady' has shown herself a woman of spirit. We mention the matter merely to say that if there can be a more cowardly act than the striking of a woman by a man, it is the infliction of the worst of wrongs-shame-

EGGS IN ENGLAND. It is said that the number of ducks and hens' eggs used in England last year was fifteen hundred millions, valued at about fifteen million dollars. Onethird of these are brought from Ireland, and the London and North Western Railroad Company have frequently forwarded a million eggs from Liverpool in a single day. Helland, a gentleman of character and responsibility, exten- Belgium, France and Germany furnished to England eleven millions eggs in 1852: and these were worth two cents each in
