The political news is not of much iterest. The excitement still continued relative to the election of United States Senator, but there had been no action thus far. Sacramento has been designated as the State Capitol; their insertion. and the Legislature was to meet there on the 1st instant. This action gave such offence to the authorities at Benicia that they refused to let the steamboat, ordered to convey the State records, lie at the wharf until charge of five hundred dollars was paid.

The Alta California, of the 1st instant. furnishes the following summary of mining intelligence :-"The weather has not, at any time since the discovery of gold, been so favorable for probably was never comparatively so large an amount of gold dug. In all sections of the mining region the news is good, miners are doing well, and the quantity of gold to be taken out during the succeeding months promises to be very heavy. It is now increasing with astonishing rapidity. Under the increased produc-tions of gold, business is fast recuperating, and for the next two months we anticipate for our merchants a pretty fair harvest." There had been considerable excitement at San Francisco on the subject of an alleged illegal proceeding on the part of associate justice Alexander Wells, of the Supreme Court. Several notorious persons were enarrested by the police. That night about 12 o'clock, application was made to Judge Wells and he ordered them to be discharged until the next day. The arrested persons no sooner got out than they threatened the potice, whom they had previously beaten, and began again, their riotous conduct. This course of Judge Wells caused great excitement among the police, who talked of resign-ing in a body. The next day at the hour appointed for hearing the anamalous writ of

HENRY'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL. PURELY VEGETABLE IN ITS COMPOSITION.

I'IIIS invaluable Cordial, is extracted from Herbs and Roots, which have been found after years of experience, by the most skillful Physicians, to be possessed of qualities most beneficial in the diseases for which it, is recommended, and hence whilst it is presented to the public, as an efficater on which reliance may be placed as to its safety. In cases of Impotency, Hoemorrhages, Disordered Sterinty, Monstruction, or Suppression of the Menses, Fluor Albus or Whites, or for DEBILITY arising from any cause, such as weakness from sick ness, where the patient has been confined to bed for some time, for Femalesafter Confinement, Abortion or Miscarriage, this Cordial cannot be excelled in its salutary effects: or in loss of Muscular Energy, Irritability, Physical Prostration, Seminal Weak ness, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Sluggishness, Decay of the Procreative Functions, Nervousness, &c., where a TONIC Medicine is required, t will be found equal, if not superior to any Compound ever used. #### AVRE'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

Among the numerous discoveries Science has made in this generation to facilitate the business of life-increase its crimyment, and even prolong the term of human existence, none can be named of more real value to mankind, than this contri-bution of Chemistry to the Healing Art. A vast trial of its virtues throughout this brroad country, has proven beyond a doubt, that no medicine, combinations yet known, can so surely control and cure the numerous varieties of pulmonary disease which have hitherto swept from our midst thousands and thousands every year. Indeed, there is now abundant reason to believe a Remedy has at length been found which can be relied on, to cure the most dangerous affections of the lungs. Our space here will not permit us to publish any proportion of the cures affected by its use, but we would present the following, and refer further in-quiry to my American Almanac, which the agent below named, will always be pleased to furnish free wherein are full particulars, and indisputable proofs of these statements:

Office of Transportation, Laurens R;R., S. C., Aug. 4, 1953. J. C. Avgs. J. D. POWELL, Supt. Trans. L. R. R. Rock Hill, (Somerset Co.,) N. J. July 21, 1852. Da J. C. Aven, - Since your medicine has become known here, it has a greater demand than any cough remedy we have ever sold. It is spoken of in terms of unmeasured praise by those who nave used it, and I know of some cases where the best they can say of it, is not too much for the good it has done. I take pleasure in selling it, because I know that I am giving my customers the worth of their money, and I feel gratified in and apple flew upon the stage. He stopseeing the benefit it confers.

MISCELLANY.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.

I went one night to see a comedy. The hief ector was a favorite one, and the theatre, a small provincial one, was very crowded. The curtain drew up, and ami! a burst of applause the hero of the piece made his appearance. He had hardly said twenty words when it struck me that something strange was the matter with him. The play was a boisterous comedy of the old school, and required considerable spirit and vivacity on the part of the actors to sustain it properly; but in this man there was none, he walked and talked like a person in a dream; his best points he passed over without appearing to perceive them; and altogether appeared quite unfit for the part. His smile was ghastly and his laugh hollow and unnatural; and frequently he would stop suddenly in his speech, and let his eyes wander vacantly over the audience. Even when in his character of a silly husband, he had to allow himself to be kicked around the stage by the young rake of the comedy, and afterwards to behold that careless individual making love to his wife, and cating his supper while he was shut up in a closet rom which he could not emerge, his conportray the passion, that hisses were audible in various parts of the house. The audience were fairly out of temper, and several inquisitive individuals were particular in their inquiries as to the extent of the potations he had indulged in that evening. A storm of sibilation and abuse now fell ped and turned round to the shouting crowd. I never saw such misery in human countenance. His face was worn and haggard, and large tears rolled down his painted cheeks. I saw his lips quiver with inward agony-I saw his bosom heave with convulsions and suppressed emotion, and his whole mien betokened such depth of anguish and distress that the most ruthless heart must have throbbed with pit y. The audience was moved, and by degrees the clamor of invective subsided into solemn silence, while he stood near the foot lights, a picture of dejection. When all was calm, he spoke, and in a voice broken with sobs that seemed to rend his bosom, proceeded to offer this little ex-

"Ladies and gentlemen," said he, "though in my acting to-night, I am conscious of meriting your displeasure, in one thing you do me wrong. I am not intoxicated .-Emotion alone and that of the most pain, ful kind, has caused me to fulfil my part so badly-my wife died but a few short hours ago, and I left her side to fill my unavoidable engagement here. I have not pleased you; forgive me. I loved her, grieve for her, and if misery and anguis can excuse a fault, I bear my apology-here !" He placed his hand upon his heart, and sobbed, and a burst of tears relieved his momentary paroxysm and grief. The audience were thoroughtly affected, and an honest burst of sympathy made the wall tremble. Women wept loudly; and strong men wep silently; and during the remainder of the evening his performance was scarcely audible through the storm of applause by which the crowd sought to soothe the poor fellow's wounded feelings. There was something very melancholy in the thought of that wretched man's coming from the bed of death to don gay atrire and utter studied witticism for the amusement of a crowd, not one of whom dreamed of the anguish that lay festering upon the painted cheek and stage smile. And in the great theatre of life how many are there around us like that poor actor, smiling gaily at the multitude, while that he is now ranged ing the Auction business at home lies some mystery of sorrow on his own account, and hopes by strict attention to whose shadow is ever present with them in at home lies some mystery of sorrow business, to merit a continuance of that patronage busy places, and in solitude revels upon hearts like a ghoul among the tombs.

AN "ABSORBING" SUBJECT. Molasses possesses a remarkabl - power of absorption. Some curi us facte in relation to this peruliar property have been recently laid before the London Medical Society .in 1849, a number of casks of molarges were stowed away at the London docks-weighing in all, 1270 cwt. Three years afterwards they were weighed again, and there was found to be an increase of weight amounting in the whole to 23 cwt. Another let of 347 casks was stowed away in July 1849, and on starting the bungs in 1852, the molasses spirted up like a fountain. The casks weighed originally 12 cwt. each, and had gained from one to fitty pounds, the total gain being 56 cwt. In another instance, 68 lbs. was gained by some casks. The wonderful property of absorbing moisture from the air is said to be the most powerful in the malasses contain#### ed in those casks made of Quebec pine. OFFICE WIL. & MAN. R. R. CO. WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 28, 1861. ONSIGNESS of "Down" or Inward freight,
